IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on plank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector posted at the berth of the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens or alien members of crews (Form 828) shall not be detained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those employed in the port of arrival. If late consignments of supplies, information concerning, or masters to report to the said immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of each owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed on board such vessel since the filing of the list next above mentioned, and stating when and where they were shipped and discharged, and the cause of their discharge, if known. Any person who knowingly violates any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien in respect of whom such violation occurs. Any vessel which has been granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment of a fine or penalty imposed by this section may depart from the port notwithstanding the provisions of section 4200 of the Revised Statutes (U. S. C., title 46, sec. 91): Provided, That a sufficient sum to cover such fine or penalty shall be deposited with the collector of customs, or other officer of the customs designated by the Secretary of the Treasury, to await the decision of the Secretary of Labor as to the remission or refunding thereof: Provided further, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such fine or penalty upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine or penalty with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not abscond upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from which he is endeavoring to depart may be made by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of such vessel by production of the crew list certified by the immigration officer at the port of arrival and a certificate from the master of the vessel on which the alien seaman arrived in the United States from which he is endeavoring to depart, stating that the alien seaman has been shipped on the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from which he is endeavoring to depart, or that he was rejected by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such evidence has been filed or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall be detained on board or at the dock at the discretion of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of such vessel until such alien seaman is placed on board a vessel departing from the United States to a foreign port, and the cost of such detention shall be a lien against the vessel, and the vessel may be libeled therefor in the district court of the United States for the district in which the vessel may be found. Clearance may be withheld or granted by the collector of customs under the provisions of this section upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such cost, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof having in the United States any alien seaman employed on such vessel (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board such vessel after such inspection if so ordered by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor, or who fails to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not abscond upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the immigration officer at the port of arrival may be made by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of such vessel as a condition precedent to the granting of clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment of a fine or penalty imposed by this section.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall be detained on board or at the dock at the discretion of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of such vessel until such alien seaman is placed on board a vessel departing from the United States to a foreign port, and the cost of such detention shall be a lien against the vessel, and the vessel may be libeled therefor in the district court of the United States for the district in which the vessel may be found. Clearance may be withheld or granted by the collector of customs under the provisions of this section upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such cost, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or treatment to such extremities as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof having on board such vessel any alien seaman employed on such vessel (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board such vessel after such inspection if so ordered by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor, or who fails to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not abscond upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from which he is endeavoring to depart may be made by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of such vessel by production of the crew list certified by the immigration officer at the port of arrival and a certificate from the master of the vessel on which the alien seaman arrived in the United States from which he is endeavoring to depart, stating that the alien seaman has been shipped on the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from which he is endeavoring to depart, or that he was rejected by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or treatment to such extremities as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof having on board such vessel any alien seaman employed on such vessel (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board such vessel after such inspection if so ordered by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor, or who fails to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not abscond upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from which he is endeavoring to depart may be made by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of such vessel by production of the crew list certified by the immigration officer at the port of arrival and a certificate from the master of the vessel on which the alien seaman arrived in the United States from which he is endeavoring to depart, stating that the alien seaman has been shipped on the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from which he is endeavoring to depart, or that he was rejected by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall be detained on board or at the dock at the discretion of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of such vessel until such alien seaman is placed on board a vessel departing from the United States to a foreign port, and the cost of such detention shall be a lien against the vessel, and the vessel may be libeled therefor in the district court of the United States for the district in which the vessel may be found. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel as the boat is arriving, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of citizens of alien countries is required from all vessels (Form 598) shall not be examined on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival.

When an alternate address is a "motorway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, accompanied by such other officers of the vessel as may be required by the immigrant inspector, to report to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival the exact number of all aliens on board of such vessel, stating the number of cabin passengers, the number of steerage passengers, and the number of passengers in transit across the United States in immediate transportation to foreign countries, and to present to such officer a manifest containing the name, age, sex, calling or occupation, nationality, last permanent residence, final destination, whether in possession of railroad or steamship ticket through to such destination, whether the passage is paid by himself or by others, whether in possession of money, and if so how much, whether going to join relatives or friends, and if so what relatives or friends, and what his ultimate destination, whether he has been in the United States before, whether going to join relatives or friends, and if so what relatives or friends, and what his ultimate destination, whether he has been in the United States before, whether he has been in prison or almshouse or institution for the insane or supported by charity, whether a polygamist, whether coming by reason of any offer, solicitation, promise, or agreement, expressed or implied, to perform labor in the United States, his calling or occupation in his own country, whether he can read or write, whether he is married or single, the age, sex, and relationship of those accompanying him, and whether he has a ticket through to the place to which he destines, and such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Said master, accompanied by such other officers of the vessel as may be required by the immigrant inspector, shall appear before the immigrant inspector and truly answer all questions touching the information required by this section. Said master shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at the time of such report a list containing the names of all aliens employed upon the vessel who have been discharged from the vessel at any foreign port during the voyage, and the reasons therefor, and shall also report the names of all aliens who have been left behind by reason of illness, injury, or other cause, and shall deliver to the immigrant inspector a list containing the names of all aliens who have been employed upon the vessel at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the port of arrival and who have signified their intention to leave the vessel and the United States upon such vessel, and shall report the names of all aliens who have been so employed and who have left the vessel since the arrival of the vessel at such port, and the reasons therefor, and the final destination of each of such aliens, so far as known to the master, officers, or crew of such vessel. Said master shall also report the name of every alien who may have been employed upon the vessel at any foreign port or place and who has been refused a discharge therefrom, and the reasons therefor, and shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at the time of such report a list containing the names of all aliens so employed and refused a discharge, and the reasons therefor, so far as known to the master, officers, or crew of such vessel. Said master shall also report the name of every alien who may have been employed upon the vessel at any foreign port or place and who has died during the voyage, and the cause of death of each such alien, and shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at the time of such report a list containing the names of all aliens so employed who have died during the voyage, and the causes of death of each. Said master shall also report the name of every alien stowaway found on board after the vessel has left the last foreign port or place from which she sailed, the port at which each such stowaway landed in the United States, and the final destination, so far as known to the master, officers, or crew of the vessel, of each such stowaway. Said master shall also report the name of every alien who shall have been detained on board the vessel for examination by the medical examiners, the cause for detention, and the final disposition of each such case. Said master shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at the time of such report lists containing the names of all aliens who have been so detained, and the final disposition of each such case. Said master shall also report the name of every alien who shall have been detained on board the vessel for examination by the medical examiners, and who was finally landed from the vessel, giving the condition which caused the detention, the length of such detention, and the final disposition of such case. Said master shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at the time of such report lists containing the names of all aliens who have been so detained and finally landed from the vessel, giving the condition which caused the detention, the length of such detention, and the final disposition of such case. Said master shall also report the name of every alien who shall have been detained on board the vessel for treatment in connection with any contagious disease, and the final disposition of such case. Said master shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at the time of such report lists containing the names of all aliens who have been so detained for treatment in connection with any contagious disease, and the final disposition of such case. Said master shall also report the name of every alien who shall have been detained on board the vessel for special examination as to his mental, physical, or professional fitness or other qualification, and the final disposition of such case. Said master shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at the time of such report lists containing the names of all aliens who have been so detained for special examination, and the final disposition of such case. Said master shall also report the name of every alien who shall have been detained on board the vessel for special examination as to his mental, physical, or professional fitness or other qualification, and who was finally landed from the vessel, giving the condition which caused the detention, the length of such detention, and the final disposition of such case. Said master shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at the time of such report lists containing the names of all aliens who have been so detained for special examination, and the final disposition of such case. Said master shall also report the name of every alien who shall have been detained on board the vessel for treatment in connection with any contagious disease, and the final disposition of such case. Said master shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at the time of such report lists containing the names of all aliens who have been so detained for treatment in connection with any contagious disease, and the final disposition of such case. Said master shall also report the name of every alien who shall have been detained on board the vessel for special examination as to his mental, physical, or professional fitness or other qualification, and who was finally landed from the vessel, giving the condition which caused the detention, the length of such detention, and the final disposition of such case. Said master shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at the time of such report lists containing the names of all aliens who have been so detained for special examination, and the final disposition of such case.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel sailing from the United States, knowingly bringing to any port of the United States any alien not duly admissible, or any alien who has come in violation of any of the provisions of this Act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien so brought, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court: Provided, That no master, owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel shall be subject to the provisions of this section with respect to the bringing of any alien who comes in possession of a United States visa, unless such master, owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master fails to examine such visa before the departure of such vessel from the foreign port from which such alien sails, or unless such master, owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master has actual knowledge that such alien does not have such visa.

(b) Any alien who shall come to the United States or who shall attempt to enter the United States by water without inspection by the immigrant inspectors at the time and place determined by the Commissioner-General of Immigration and the Secretary of Labor, whether such alien has been or will be temporarily or permanently excluded from admission to the United States, shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 hereof: Provided, That nothing in this section shall be construed as permitting any alien to remain in the United States for the purpose of becoming a public charge.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall not have rendered a decision in the case of any alien brought before a special inquiry officer within ten days after the date of such alien's arrival at a port of the United States, such alien, pending such decision, may, in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, be released from custody upon his own recognizance or upon the recognizance of a reputable citizen in such sum as may be required, but not less than $500, and upon the further condition that such alien will be produced or will depart from the United States whenever directed to do so by the Secretary of Labor or by any officer or board authorized by him to give such direction. Such recognizance may be forfeited whenever any of the conditions of the bond are violated by such alien, and all or any part of the penalty exacted whenever in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor the circumstances of any case so require. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the release of any alien who is excluded from admission to the United States by reason of his being afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease.

(d) Any alien who shall enter the United States in violation of any of the provisions of this Act shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof.

(e) Any alien who shall be found in the United States in violation of this Act or any amendment thereto shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof.

(f) Any alien who shall be deported shall be ineligible to receive any visa and shall not again be admitted to the United States unless he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that prior to his application for admission he had received permission from the Secretary of Labor to reapply for admission.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

SEC. 38. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside thereof (except from foreign contiguous territory) any alien not in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa, reentry permit, or other travel document required by this Act, or application therefor, shall be detained on board or at the option of the master deposited in the custody of the United States immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival pending a determination as to the right of such alien to enter the United States under this Act. Any such alien may be required to participate in such further inquiry or examination as the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor may deem necessary. In the case of any such alien who is certified by the examining surgeon to be afflicted with a contagious disease, the master shall detain such alien on board or at such place designated by the immigration officer at the port of arrival at the cost of $10,000 for each alien so detained, pending the decision of the Secretary of Labor as to the admissibility of such alien and his disposition if admitted. Such detention may be terminated by the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such cost, or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Any alien who shall enter or attempt to enter the United States by water without inspection by the immigrant inspectors at the time and place determined by the Commissioner-General of Immigration and the Secretary of Labor, whether such alien has been or will be temporarily or permanently excluded from admission to the United States, shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 hereof: Provided, That nothing in this section shall be construed as permitting any alien to remain in the United States for the purpose of becoming a public charge.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall not have rendered a decision in the case of any alien brought before a special inquiry officer within ten days after the date of such alien's arrival at a port of the United States, such alien, pending such decision, may, in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, be released from custody upon his own recognizance or upon the recognizance of a reputable citizen in such sum as may be required, but not less than $500, and upon the further condition that such alien will be produced or will depart from the United States whenever directed to do so by the Secretary of Labor or by any officer or board authorized by him to give such direction. Such recognizance may be forfeited whenever any of the conditions of the bond are violated by such alien, and all or any part of the penalty exacted whenever in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor the circumstances of any case so require. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the release of any alien who is excluded from admission to the United States by reason of his being afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease.

(d) Any alien who shall enter the United States in violation of any of the provisions of this Act shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof.

(e) Any alien who shall be found in the United States in violation of this Act or any amendment thereto shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof.

(f) Any alien who shall be deported shall be ineligible to receive any visa and shall not again be admitted to the United States unless he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that prior to his application for admission he had received permission from the Secretary of Labor to reapply for admission.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or for hospitalization, or because a bona fide emergency prevents the master of such vessel from complying with the provisions of this section, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the admission of any class of such seamen.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, except from foreign contiguous territory, shall be responsible for the proper maintenance while in the United States of any alien seaman (whether an alien seaman employed on such vessel or not) who has been certified by the medical officer in charge at the port of arrival for treatment in connection with any contagious disease, or who has been found by the immigration officer at the port of arrival to be suffering from any mental disease, or who has been certified by the medical examiners, or who has been found by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival to be afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, or who has been found by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to be an alien seaman who has been refused a landing in the United States from any vessel, or who has been found by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival to be an alien seaman who has been left behind by the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign country

The list described below shall be inserted on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspectors at the ports of arrival as the boat or vessel arrives, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens or alien members of crews (Form 2x6) shall not be retained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. Write the word "NOTHING" across the face of the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival by vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel; distinguishing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company; when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and discharged; and the names of those who have died on the voyage; and it shall be the duty of the master of any vessel if practicable to obtain the information required of aliens before the departure of such vessel from the last foreign port touched at, and to report the same to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival; and any master who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section, or to furnish the information required by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, shall pay to the collector of customs a sum not exceeding $10 for each such refusal or neglect, and the vessel may be detained for a period not exceeding ten days, at the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, which period shall be computed from the time the master shall report the names of the aliens on board and be ready to comply with the requirements of this section: Provided, That the master of any vessel may, in lieu of delivering lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port a list containing the names of all persons employed on such vessel, together with the information hereinbefore required to be furnished in the lists of aliens employed: Provided further, That the master of any vessel may, in lieu of delivering the lists provided for in this section, deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port a certified copy of the crew list required by section 12 of the Act of February 20, 1907, as amended by section 2 of the Act of March 26, 1910, if such crew list contains the information required by this section to be furnished in the lists of aliens employed: Provided further, That the master of any vessel may, in lieu of delivering the lists provided for in this section, deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port a certified copy of the crew list required by section 4 of the Act of February 6, 1915, if such crew list contains the information required by this section to be furnished in the lists of aliens employed.

SEC. 37. That any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival the lists required by section 36 of this Act, or who shall refuse or neglect to furnish the information required by said section concerning any alien employed on board such vessel during the time of her last voyage, or who shall refuse or neglect to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel when specially ordered so to do by the immigration officer in charge of the port, shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom such master, agent, consignee, or owner shall refuse or neglect to furnish the information required by said section, to be recovered as hereinafter provided for the recovery of penalties under the immigration laws.

(a) Upon the refusal of any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel to deliver the lists required by section 36 of this Act, or to furnish the information concerning any alien employed on board such vessel, or to detain any alien seaman on board, after notice and demand as provided in this section, such master, agent, consignee, or owner shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom such information is required, but not furnished, and in the event such sum is not paid it shall be a lien upon the vessel, her tackle, furniture, apparel, and cargo, which may be enforced by the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located by the seizure and sale of sufficient thereof to pay the amount due, and costs of such proceedings. Pending the determination of the liability of the vessel in such proceedings, clearance may be withheld.

(b) Upon the refusal of any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel to deliver the lists required by section 36 of this Act, or to furnish the information required by said section concerning any alien employed on board such vessel, or to detain any alien seaman on board after notice and demand as provided in this section, such master, agent, consignee, or owner shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom such correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required. And no alien seaman employed on board any vessel shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because detained for the public service, without the permission of the Secretary of Labor, and any such alien seaman who shall land from any vessel at any port in the United States from any place outside thereof, without such permission, shall be deported as provided by law in the case of aliens illegally entering the United States.

SEC. 38. (a) That any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside thereof any alien seaman employed on board such vessel shall pay to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival for inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival has granted a permit to land, or who fails to detain such alien seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart upon the outgoing vessel of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign country, unless specially permitted by the immigration officer at the port to depart upon another vessel, or that he was rejected by the inspector of such vessel as a passenger, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport such seaman as required by this section.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of vessels in the United States from any foreign port or place if space be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the nationality, last residence (country in which said alien last resided), and intended future residence of each alien, and where they were respectively shipped in the ship's company, which said lists shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of arrival; or if there be no surgeon on board of such vessel, and therefore none to deliver the lists required by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, then such lists shall be delivered by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to the medical officer of the port of arrival; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs or other officer authorized to grant clearance papers until the master, agent, consignee, or owner has delivered to the collector of customs a certificate that such lists have been delivered as required by this section, or that there were no aliens employed on such vessel. Upon the refusal of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel to deliver the lists required by this section, or to deliver to each alien employed on such vessel a card containing a legible copy of the list or such portion thereof as relates to such alien, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $10 for each such alien in respect to whom such refusal occurs. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who knowingly or willfully shall refuse to deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival the list required by this section, or knowingly and willfully shall deliver a false list or manifest, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such false list or manifest is delivered, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who knowingly or willfully shall refuse to deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a list containing the name of any alien employed on such vessel, or knowingly or willfully shall deliver a false list or manifest, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such false list or manifest is delivered, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse to pay the head tax levied by section 2 of this act in the case of any alien employed on such vessel, and any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse to pay the tax imposed by section 3 of this act in the case of any alien employed on such vessel, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such refusal, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse to deliver certificates to such of the alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who may leave such vessel, and to pay the tax imposed by section 3 of this act in the case of any such alien employee who may leave such vessel, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such refusal, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse to deliver lists to the immigrant inspectors at the time of inspection of such vessel as provided by section 8 of this act, or who shall refuse to deliver certificates to such of the alien employees who may be specified in such lists as may be required to secure the certificates provided for by section 8 of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such refusal, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

RULE 21. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospital treatment in case of certified illness, during the period the vessel remains in port, or pending examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to depart on board vessel or some other vessel sailing to the country from which he came to the United States when ordered so to do by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, unless such alien seaman is prevented from so departing by reason of illness certified by the medical officer of the port. Any alien seaman who has been granted temporary admission to the United States for the purpose of obtaining medical treatment, or hospital treatment, or who has been granted a period of grace in which to depart from the United States, and who shall fail to depart within the time specified, or within any extension granted by the Commissioner-General of Immigration, shall be deemed to be unlawfully in the United States and shall be deported in the manner provided by law in the case of aliens who have entered the United States unlawfully.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or departing from the United States, is prohibited from bringing to the United States from any place outside thereof any alien seaman (whether employed in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to depart on board vessel when ordered so to do by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has granted such seaman an immigration visa. Any such seaman who has been granted temporary admission to the United States for the purpose of obtaining medical treatment, or hospital treatment, or who has been granted a period of grace in which to depart from the United States, and who shall fail to depart within the time specified, or within any extension granted by the Commissioner-General of Immigration, shall be deemed to be unlawfully in the United States and shall be deported in the manner provided by law in the case of aliens who have entered the United States unlawfully.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart or that after examination by the immigration officer at the port of arrival he was found to be afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disabilities set forth in section 2 of the immigration act of February 5, 1917, and was refused a certificate of admission by the immigration officer at the port of arrival.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, _____, of the _____, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew, promptly in addition thereto, and that I have not, nor has any one for my use, received from any person any gift, promise, or other consideration whatsoever whereby the services of any member of the crew have been or are to be affected or influenced in any manner whatsoever. I have noted the crew's nationality as shown by the certificates of identity issued to them by the United States Department of Labor, and have compared the description of each member of the crew with the certificate of identity issued to him, and I hereby certify that the description is true and that the certificate is the proper one to be held by the person to whom it was issued.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list checked below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the port at which the vessel is to arrive. The list of aliens in which the name of every alien (Form 6896) shall not be included on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port.

When an alien "in transit" to a foreign port is to be detained on board the vessel on which he arrives, a bond in the penal sum of $300 shall be required by the Secretary of Labor, conditioned that the master shall deport such alien on the vessel on which he arrives or on some other vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrives, and that such vessel shall actually depart from the United States within such time as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port to which it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel to present the manifest required by section 29 of the Act of June 15, 1917, the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival shall cause to be detained on board such vessel all aliens who are not entitled to enter the United States under the provisions of this Act or who are not clearly and beyond a reasonable doubt entitled to land as not coming within the classes excluded by law; and the decision of such immigration officer adverse to the right of any such alien to land shall be final, unless reversed on appeal to the Secretary of Labor, whose decision shall be based upon such evidence as may be adduced at a hearing before a board of special inquiry, which shall be convened by the Secretary of Labor upon such appeal. Pending the final decision of such appeal, the alien shall be detained in such manner as the immigration officer in charge of the port may direct: Provided, That such alien shall be returned to the vessel upon which he arrived, or to a vessel bound for the country from which he came, at the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, without expense to the United States, within such time as may be specified by the Secretary of Labor, whose decision shall be final: Provided further, That no alien shall be admitted to the United States who is not in possession of a valid passport viséed by the consular officer at the place of his last permanent residence, except that aliens coming from countries in which passports are not required by the Government of the United States shall not be required to obtain passports or visés: Provided further, That no alien shall be admitted to the United States who is not in possession of a ticket or sufficient money to pay his fare to his destination after landing: Provided further, That no alien shall be admitted to the United States who has been deported, unless prior to his application for admission he shall have received from the Secretary of Labor a special permit for his admission, for which permit a fee of $10 shall be charged: Provided further, That no alien shall be admitted to the United States who has been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude: Provided further, That the provisions of this section relating to the payment of head tax shall not apply to citizens of countries contiguous to the United States, to aliens in transit through the United States, to aliens who have been lawfully admitted to the United States and who shall return from temporary visits abroad, to aliens who have resided permanently in the United States for five years and who are returning from a visit abroad not longer than one year, or to aliens under the age of sixteen years who are coming to the United States to join parents or relatives who are citizens of the United States lawfully residing therein and who are able to care for them and are coming at the request of such parents or relatives for the purpose of living with them: Provided further, That the provisions of this section relating to the payment of head tax shall not apply to aliens who have been forced involuntarily to relinquish United States citizenship by reason of their service in the military or naval forces of any country during the period of hostilities between the United States and such country, and who are returning to the United States to permanently reside therein within two years after the termination of such period of hostilities, upon such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor: Provided further, That the provisions of this section shall not apply to persons in the United States who may depart therefrom and seek admission thereto within six months.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and no person required by said section to be listed shall be omitted therefrom.

Any person who knowingly violates the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each offense.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspectors boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes or alien members of crews (Form 598) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, commander, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien members employed on such vessel, stating the positions they temporarily hold in the ship's company, when and where they were temporarily employed, and as far as practicable the intended length of time they will remain in the United States; and it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, commander, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, commander, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien members who were not employed aforesaid at the time of the arrival but who had left or were about to leave the vessel, and the cause of their departure and intended destination, and to report the names of all alien members who have been discharged from the vessel, and the cause and circumstances of their discharge, and to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien members who have been employed aforesaid at the time of the arrival but who have left the vessel and the cause of their departure and destination. Any master, owner, agent, commander, or master who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the requirements of this section shall pay a penalty of $10 for each and every such refusal or neglect, and in addition thereto shall be liable to the penalty provided in section 2 of this Act for each and every alien not reported, listed, or delivered as required by this section. Any master, owner, agent, commander, or master who shall refuse to pay any penalty imposed by this section shall be liable to a penalty of $500, which shall be a lien upon the vessel, to be recovered by the United States in the district court for the district in which the vessel may arrive.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

SEC. 8. (Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 34 of the Act of February 5, 1917, has been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act, during recent months, has been posted as required by law.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration officer at the port of arrival. The list of aliens on board vessels destined to ports in the interior of the United States shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the first port of arrival, but such lists may be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of departure (Form 524) shall be made out for aliens destined to Canada, "Newfoundland," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

When an alien assigned to a "Newfoundland" destination is refused admission to the United States, the master will be required to return him to the port from which he came.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, master, or consignee, or person in charge of the vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place to deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival lists containing the names in full of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the nationality, last residence, and destination of each alien employed, and whether in possession of a ticket prepaid through to destination, and how much money each alien has, and by whom such money was furnished, and such other information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and until such lists are delivered no vessel shall be granted clearance papers, and in case of failure to deliver such lists or to secure clearance papers the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall be jointly and severally liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien not listed: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the delivery of such lists upon the execution of a bond to the collector of customs in such sum, not exceeding $1,000, as the Secretary of Labor may require, conditioned upon the delivery of such lists as soon as practicable after the departure of such vessel from the port: And provided further, That in case of the failure of any owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel to deliver lists as required by this section, or to report such cause of detention as may be satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall be liable to a penalty of $400 for each alien not listed, but clearance may be granted such vessel upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty with the collector of customs or the execution of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof prior to the determination of such question upon appeal to the Secretary of Labor: And provided further, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the liability to the payment of such penalty upon the execution of such bond or deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer at charge of the port of arrival full information concerning the persons then on board, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and such other information regarding them as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. The master of any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases of deaths, births, or illness on board the vessel, stating a description of such alien, together with such information thereto as may be required by such immigration officer, and before the departure of such vessel from the port to deliver to such immigration officer a further report containing a like statement concerning all deaths, births, or illness which may occur on board such vessel after the departure of such vessel from such port and before her arrival at the next port or place in the United States at which she shall touch. Any person who shall fail to comply with any of the requirements of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned for not more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court. Any master who shall refuse to deliver the list required by this section, or who shall refuse to answer truthfully any question concerning each person on board his vessel touching his birth, residence, and destination which may be put to him by any immigrant inspector, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 6

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, and the affidavit of the master or commanding officer, or first or second officer, as the case may be, required by section 37 of said Act, have been delivered to the immigrant inspector in charge of the port, unless specially authorized by the Secretary of Labor. Any master who shall refuse to deliver the list required by section 36 of said Act, or who shall refuse to answer truthfully any question concerning each person on board his vessel touching his birth, residence, and destination which may be put to him by any immigrant inspector, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court. Any master who shall refuse to deliver the list required by section 36 of said Act, or who shall refuse to answer truthfully any question concerning each person on board his vessel touching his birth, residence, and destination which may be put to him by any immigrant inspector, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court. Any master who shall refuse to deliver the list required by section 36 of said Act, or who shall refuse to answer truthfully any question concerning each person on board his vessel touching his birth, residence, and destination which may be put to him by any immigrant inspector, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court. Any master who shall refuse to deliver the list required by section 36 of said Act, or who shall refuse to answer truthfully any question concerning each person on board his vessel touching his birth, residence, and destination which may be put to him by any immigrant inspector, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospitalization, or because of sickness or injury requiring such treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the safeguarding of such alien seamen (except temporary visitors in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fail to depart from the United States on board the vessel on which they arrived or some other vessel at the next port of arrival thereafter for which a certificate of admission or a permit to land temporarily for the purpose of obtaining such treatment is issued, unless the Secretary of Labor shall otherwise direct. Any such alien seaman who is permitted to land temporarily as provided in this section shall be deported as if he had entered the United States illegally, except that deportation may be effected without a warrant of arrest. Any such alien seaman who fails to depart from the United States within the period for which he was granted a permit to land temporarily, or within such further period or periods as may be allowed by the Secretary of Labor, shall be deported as if he had entered the United States illegally. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported as if he had entered the United States illegally.

(a) Upon the arrival of any vessel at a port of the United States from any place outside thereof, the master, agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel shall deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival a list or manifest of all alien seamen employed on board such vessel, which list or manifest shall be prepared in quadruplicate, and shall contain such information and be in such form as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Such list or manifest shall be subject to the examination of any immigrant inspector, and such inspector shall have the right to make such investigation relative to the admissibility of any alien seaman employed on board such vessel as may be deemed necessary. Any master, agent, owner, or consignee of any such vessel who shall refuse to deliver such list or manifest, or refuse to answer truthfully any question concerning each person on board his vessel touching his birth, residence, and destination which may be put to him by any immigrant inspector, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question where it is charged prior to the determination of such question that any alien seaman employed on board thereof has remained in the United States in violation of this section, unless such vessel shall deposit with the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such charge is made, or give to the collector a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Upon land from an alien seaman who has taken such leave of such vessel as a seaman, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to have complied therewith, or that he was temporarily by the master of such vessel as a seaman on board the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily by the master of such vessel as a seaman on board the United States from any place outside thereof.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(d) Section 35 of the Immigration Act of 1917 is repealed, but shall remain in force as to all vessels, their owners, agents, consignees, and masters, and as to all seamen, arriving in the United States prior to the enactment of this Act.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That aliens arriving at any person in the United States from any foreign port or place [1] shall be taxed eight dollars for each alien not exempted by the provisions of this section, to be paid into the contingent fund of the Department of Labor and to be used by the Secretary of Labor, or such officer as he may designate, for the enforcement of the provisions of this section, including the payment of such persons as may be employed for the care, maintenance, and transportation to their destination of aliens who may be excluded from the United States under the provisions of this section, and for the refund of head taxes erroneously collected and covered into the Treasury: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, refund the tax in the case of any alien who has been in the United States previously and who, upon his return from a temporary visit abroad, is found by the Secretary of Labor to be clearly entitled to admission into the United States and not subject to exclusion under any of the provisions of this section other than the payment of the head tax: Provided further, That no refund shall be made unless application therefor is made to the Secretary of Labor within six months after the return of the alien to the United States, nor unless the alien shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that the head tax was collected after the return of the alien to the United States: And provided further, That no refund shall be made in the case of any alien who was admitted to the United States as a returning resident under the provisions of section 4 of this Act: And provided further, That no refund shall be made in the case of any alien who was admitted to the United States as a returning resident within two years after the head tax was collected from him: And provided further, That no refund shall be made in the case of any alien who was admitted to the United States as a returning resident within five years after the head tax was collected from him, unless the Secretary of Labor shall be satisfied that the failure to return to the United States within such period was due to the fact that such alien was detained by the United States authorities because of his connection with some matter under investigation, or was prevented from returning within such period by reason of circumstances beyond his control, the existence of which circumstances may be established to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor by competent evidence: And provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, refund the head tax in the case of any alien who was admitted to the United States as a returning resident within five years after the head tax was collected from him, upon the production of such evidence as may be required by the Secretary of Labor showing that the delay in the return of such alien was due to circumstances for which he was not responsible and which were beyond his control: And provided further, That no refund shall be made in the case of any alien who was admitted to the United States as a returning resident within five years after the head tax was collected from him, unless the Secretary of Labor shall be satisfied that the failure to return to the United States within such period was due to the fact that such alien was detained by the United States authorities because of his connection with some matter under investigation, or was prevented from returning within such period by reason of circumstances beyond his control, the existence of which circumstances may be established to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor by competent evidence

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or from a part of the United States to which the provisions of section 34 of this Act do not apply, the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of such vessel, shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a list or manifest of all persons on board such vessel, whether cabin passengers or members of the crew, or other persons carried on such vessel, and shall indicate in such list or manifest the last permanent residence of each person who is an alien, and the final destination of each such alien who is destined to the United States. Such list or manifest shall be prepared and delivered under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and shall be verified by the oath of the master or commanding officer thereof, and by the affidavits of two other officers of such vessel, to be administered by any United States consular officer without charge. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or commanding officer of any such vessel failing to deliver such list or manifest, or to comply with the requirements of the Secretary of Labor with respect thereto, shall pay a penalty of $10 for each alien with respect to whom such failure occurs or is attempted, but not more than $300 for any one voyage; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) That all aliens arriving at ports of the United States from foreign contiguous territory by water, not coming in transit from any vessel specially dealt with in this section, shall be subject to the provisions of this section relating to the inspection, landing, and detention of aliens arriving at such ports from foreign countries.

(c) That the Secretary of Labor shall have the power and is hereby authorized to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of the provisions of this section, and may employ such additional inspectors, clerks, guards, matrons, and other employees in the service as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this section, and may make such expenditures for the rental of buildings, the purchase of equipment, and such other matters as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this section, to be paid out of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws.

(d) That the Secretary of Labor shall have the power and is hereby authorized to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of the provisions of this section, and may employ such additional inspectors, clerks, guards, matrons, and other employees in the service as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this section, to be paid out of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form 524) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port.

When an alternate address is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival in the United States from any foreign port or place if shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, where and where they were respectively applied for or engaged, and whether they have or have not been discharged in the port of arrival; or that no alien is employed on such vessel; stating a description of such alien, including any alien information likely to lead to the apprehension; and noting the fact that the vessel is about to depart to such immigration officer; in writing, as soon as ascertained, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, stating a description of such alien, including any alien information likely to lead to his apprehension; and noting the fact that the vessel is about to depart to such immigration officer; in writing, at least one hour before the departure of the vessel, of the name of each alien employed thereon at the time of the arrival of the vessel but who will leave the vessel at the time of the departure of the vessel, or who will not leave the vessel within the period of time allowed by the master of the vessel under the provisions of this Act, and the cause or reason for the discharge of each alien so employed, and the name, description, and location of the next vessel in which such alien has been shipped or expects to ship, if any, or other future employment, if any, so far as known; and the master of each vessel shall, before departure therefrom, deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival a correct list of the crew of such vessel, showing the name of each member thereof who shall have been reported to the immigrant inspector in charge at such port of arrival, and the name of each member of the crew who shall have been discharged from such vessel at such port since the date of the last preceding report made by such master, and the cause or reason for such discharge, and the name, description, and location of the next vessel in which such discharged member of the crew has shipped or expects to ship, if known, and shall furnish such other information in regard to the crew of such vessel as the Secretary of Labor may by regulations require. Upon the refusal of the master of any vessel to comply with the provisions of this section or any regulations made thereunder, he shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such refusal occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and, in the event such fine is imposed, no clearance papers shall be issued for such vessel thereafter until such fine shall have been paid or remitted.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 38 of the act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless there is delivered to the administrative inspector the manifest required by said section or so much thereof as relates to the passengers and crew and their effects destined to the port for which clearance is granted, and a separate list or manifest of the persons employed on the vessel who are destined to foreign ports, which lists or manifests shall be certified to by the master or commanding officer of the vessel. The master or commanding officer of the vessel shall also deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a separate list or manifest of the persons employed on the vessel who are destined to ports in the United States, which list or manifest shall be certified to by the master or commanding officer of the vessel. Any master or commanding officer who fails to deliver the lists or manifests required by this paragraph shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each offense.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospitalization, or because of illness of such seaman during the period the vessel is in port, unless (1) the consul, consular agent, or commissioner of the district in which the port of arrival is located finds that the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has issued a certificate that such seaman is not known to be afflicted with any of the diseases or mental defects which would be ground for exclusion of aliens, or (2) such seaman is in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or duly vised to land temporarily for medical treatment, or hospitalization, or because of illness of such seaman during the period the vessel is in port, unless the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has issued a certificate that such seaman is not known to be afflicted with any of the diseases or mental defects which would be ground for exclusion of aliens, or (3) such seaman is in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or duly vised to land temporarily for medical treatment, or hospitalization, or because of illness of such seaman during the period the vessel is in port, unless the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has issued a certificate that such seaman is not known to be afflicted with any of the diseases or mental defects which would be ground for exclusion of aliens, or (4) the consul, consular agent, or commissioner of the district in which the port of arrival is located finds that the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which such seaman arrived has given a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to have such alien on board such vessel upon departure.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel has failed to comply with the provisions of this section or any regulations made thereunder, such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such time as he is satisfied that such alien seaman will not become a public charge or that sufficient funds have been paid or guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(d) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel has failed to comply with the provisions of this section or any regulations made thereunder, such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such time as he is satisfied that such alien seaman will not become a public charge or that sufficient funds have been paid or guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector at the port of arrival [1] [2] hours before the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken later than the vessel. The list of aliens or alien members of crews (form 430) shall not be destroyed on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That after the 1st day of May, 1917, in addition to the persons who are now excluded from admission into the United States by the immigration laws, the following persons shall be excluded from admission into the United States, namely: All persons who are physically capable and over sixteen years of age, who can not read the English language or some other language or dialect, including Hebrew or Yiddish: Provided, That any admissible alien or any citizen or native who can read may bring with him a parent or grandparent over fifty years of age, a wife, a child under sixteen years of age, or a husband, if otherwise admissible, and the provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to such persons so brought: Provided further, That nothing in this paragraph shall exclude, if otherwise admissible, persons not possessed of the required degree of literacy who have resided one year or more in the United States from the time of the last departure therefrom: And provided further, That nothing in this paragraph shall exclude, if otherwise admissible, persons not possessed of the required degree of literacy who are coming to the United States to escape religious persecution, provided that the immigration officer in charge of the port of entry shall be satisfied that such persons are seeking admission to the United States solely for the purpose of escaping such religious persecution, such proof to be given under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor: And provided further, That for the purpose of ascertaining the admissibility of persons who can not read the English language or some other language or dialect, a list composed of not less than thirty nor more than forty words, printed in plain type, shall be read aloud to the person making the application for admission, by some immigrant inspector, and the person shall be required to read the words in such manner as the inspector may direct: Provided, That any person who shall depart from the United States during the pendency of his application for admission shall be deemed to have abandoned the same, and his right to enter shall be subject to the provisions of this act relating to aliens who have not been previously refused admission: And provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, exempt from the operation of the foregoing provisions of this section any aliens who are seeking to enter the United States solely for the purpose of residence therein and who are otherwise admissible under the provisions of this act, if such aliens have been for a period of one year next preceding the time of their application for admission to the United States actual residents of the country from which they come, and have not during such period been supported at public expense or been connected with any criminal or immoral class or association: And provided further, That the provisions of this section relating to the literacy of persons who are not admissible as immigrants shall not apply to citizens of the United States who have lost their citizenship, nor to their wives or children, nor to persons who have been lawfully admitted to the United States and who have resided therein for five years, and who are returning to the United States after a temporary absence therefrom, nor to persons in transit through the United States from one foreign country to another, nor to persons who have served in the military or naval service of the United States in the present war and have been honorably discharged therefrom, nor to the wives or children of such persons, nor to persons who have become residents of the United States through the naturalization of parents or children, or who have been lawfully admitted to the United States and have resided therein for five years, and who are returning to the United States after a temporary absence therefrom, nor to persons who have resided in the United States for five years and who are the parents of children who are citizens of the United States by birth and who have resided therein for five years, and who are returning to the United States after a temporary absence therefrom: And provided further, That the provisions of this section relating to the literacy of persons who are not admissible as immigrants shall not apply to persons who have been admitted to the United States as returning residents after residence in countries contiguous to the United States, nor to persons coming to the United States to engage in farming, who have been for a period of one year next preceding the time of their application for admission to the United States actual residents of the country from which they come, and have not during such period been supported at public expense or been connected with any criminal or immoral class or association: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, exempt from the operation of this section any aliens who are seeking to enter the United States solely for the purpose of escaping religious persecution, such proof to be given under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor: And provided further, That the provisions of this section relating to the literacy of persons who are not admissible as immigrants shall not apply to persons who have been admitted to the United States as returning residents after residence in countries contiguous to the United States, nor to persons coming to the United States to engage in farming, who have been for a period of SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or adjacent islands (except Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Central America, the West Indies Islands, Bermuda, and the Republic of Cuba), shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospital, or detention as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (except such seamen employed on such vessel under the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and in accordance with such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe), to one duly licensed pilot while actually employed in such capacity in navigating such vessel in the waters of the United States, and to the customs officials and employees in charge at the port of arrival, and to one agent of the transportation company on which the vessel is booked to land passengers at such port, who may be designated as such by the master of the vessel (Form 524) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, and within twenty-four hours after the vessel shall have been admitted to pratique, or within such further period as may be necessary for the physical examination of the passengers and crew by the medical officer of the port, a complete list, signed and sworn to by the master or commanding officer, or the purser of the vessel, in quadruplicate, of all the passengers who have been taken on board at any place outside the United States, specifying the full name, age, sex, and calling of each passenger, the country of which he is a citizen or subject, the country whence he comes, with the final destination of each passenger, whether in transit through the United States or destined to some place therein, and the intended length of stay in the United States or Canada of each cabin passenger, the port at which each such passenger embarked, and the number of pieces of baggage belonging to each such passenger. Such list shall be verified at the time of signing by the master or commanding officer, or the purser of the vessel, to the best of his knowledge and belief, by his oath administered by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and such master or commanding officer, or purser shall certify to and deliver with the list a master's certificate in the form prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Such list shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens or other members of crew (Form 524) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, and within twenty-four hours after the vessel shall have been admitted to pratique, or within such further period as may be necessary for the physical examination of the passengers and crew by the medical officer of the port, a complete list, signed and sworn to by the master or commanding officer, or the purser of the vessel, in quadruplicate, of all the crew, including all persons employed in any capacity on board such vessel, stating the nationality, last permanent residence, calling, and destination of each, which list shall be certified to in the manner required for the cabin list. Such list shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens or other members of crew (Form 524) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, and within twenty-four hours after the vessel shall have been admitted to pratique, or within such further period as may be necessary for the physical examination of the

The list designated below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector at the port of arrival, and shall be delivered by the master of the vessel. The list of arrivals of alien immigrants at ports of seaport (Form 598) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival.

"Man or female" means "male or female" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of vessels in the United States from any foreign port or before it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists or manifests of all persons on board such vessels, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, what their ages, sexes, and races are, whether they are married or single, whether they can read or write, their nationality, the country of which they are citizens, their ultimate destination, whether they have been in the United States previously and if so when and how long, whether they have been in prison or almshouses or supported by charity, whether they are in possession of sufficient money to pay their railroad fare to their destination, whether their passage was paid by themselves or others, whether they have a ticket through to their destination, whether they have been deported, whether they are coming under contract to perform labor, their calling or occupation, and whether they are connected with the military or naval service of the country from which they emigrate or any other country. Such lists or manifests shall be prepared on such forms and in such manner as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and shall be verified before the consul or other officer of the United States viséing the same by the oath of the master or commanding officer thereof, which oath may be administered by such consul or officer. Such lists or manifests shall be corrected if found incorrect before the vessel leaves the last port outside the United States, and shall be delivered in duplicate to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival in the United States. The master or commanding officer of every such vessel shall, before any of the passengers are landed, deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a true and correct list of all such passengers who have been found by the boards of special inquiry to be entitled to admission into the United States, specifying the names of those so admitted, and shall certify to the correctness of such list by his oath or affirmation. Masters of vessels shall also furnish to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival such additional information concerning the same and concerning the passengers carried by them as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Masters of vessels shall also furnish to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a list or manifest of all passengers who have been denied admission to the United States, or who have been ordered deported after a hearing before a board of special inquiry, and the cost of the maintenance and return of each such passenger, and the amount of money collected therefor. Masters of vessels who refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section shall pay a penalty of $300 for each and every such refusal or neglect, and no vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the liability to the penalty, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. Masters of vessels may be granted a discharge from any penalty or liability incurred under the provisions of this section by the Secretary of Labor upon satisfactory evidence that it was impossible to prevent the action of the immigrant which caused the fine or penalty, and that no fault or negligence on the master's part contributed thereto.

(a) Until the Secretary of Labor shall otherwise direct, the master of any vessel bringing to any port of the United States from any place outside thereof any alien immigrant shall, before such vessel shall depart from the port at which such alien immigrant shall land, deliver to the immigrant inspector at such port a list containing the name, age, sex, calling, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of each such alien immigrant, and shall indicate on such list the alien immigrants, if any, who are in possession of unused railroad tickets entitling them to transportation beyond the port of arrival, and the amount of money in the possession of each alien immigrant.

(b) Any master who shall fail to deliver such list, or who shall deliver a list containing less than the full number of such alien immigrants, or who shall fail to indicate therein any such railroad ticket or amount of money, shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each such alien immigrant not listed, and no vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the liability to the penalty, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that deterioration of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall have been granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the penalty or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof with any alien on board who is not in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa, if required by this Act, or who does not appear to the examining immigrant inspector at the port of arrival to be entitled to enter the United States under this Act or any law or treaty then in force, shall be required to provide for the detention of such alien on board the vessel or at such port pending a determination of the right of such alien to land, and shall provide for the maintenance and safekeeping of such alien while so detained, and shall be liable to the payment of all expenses connected therewith, as well as to the cost and expenses of the return of such alien to the country whence he came or to the country from which he embarked for the United States, or to such other country as may be willing to receive him. Such detention may be required on board such vessel or at such port of arrival in the discretion of the immigrant inspector in charge thereof, or of the Secretary of Labor, and the refusal of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel to provide for such detention, maintenance, and safekeeping, or to pay the cost and expenses of such detention, maintenance, and safekeeping, or of such return, shall be a sufficient cause for the refusal of clearance papers to such vessel. Such cost and expenses shall be a lien upon such vessel, and payment thereof may be enforced by the collector of customs at the port at which such vessel shall arrive, by the seizure and sale of sufficient of the cargo of such vessel, after the expiration of twenty days from the date of the arrival of such vessel at such port, upon the application of the Secretary of Labor, or of any person authorized by him, to the collector of customs, and the proceeds of such sale shall be covered into the Treasury of the United States and be available for the purposes and subject to the conditions stated in the appropriation for the expenses of the administration of the immigration laws for the fiscal year in which such sale is made. Such vessel may be libeled therefor in the district court of the United States for the district in which such port is situated, and may be sold to satisfy such lien when adjudged by the court to be a valid lien thereon. Such lien shall be subject to the prior liens of bona fide mortgagees, purchasers, and owners of such vessel without notice, existing at the time of the accruing of such lien, and shall not be enforced against such mortgagees, purchasers, and owners if they shall, within twenty days after the arrival of such vessel at such port, file their claims with the collector of customs and institute proceedings against such vessel in the district court of the United States for the district in which such port is situated, and prosecute the same with due diligence. Such vessel may be released from such lien by the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to pay the same, with interest and costs, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(a) Until final determination of the proceedings authorized herein to enforce such lien, the vessel shall not be granted clearance papers, nor shall any person, except customs officers and immigrant inspectors, be permitted to leave or to depart from such vessel, or to remove or land any merchandise therefrom, without a permit from the collector of customs.

(b) Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel who shall violate the provisions of this section relating to the detention of aliens on board such vessel, or who shall land or permit to be landed any alien immigrant from such vessel at any port in the United States except as provided by law, or who shall refuse to receive back on board such vessel and to transport to the port from which he came any alien immigrant who may be required to be returned thereto under the provisions of this Act, shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien in respect of whom any violation occurs.

SEC. 51. No alien seaman excepted from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness requiring his detention ashore, until the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall have given a bond to the United States in such sum as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, not exceeding $500 for each such alien seaman, conditioned that such seaman shall depart from the United States from such port within such period as may be allowed by the Secretary of Labor, not to exceed four months from the date of the bond, and shall comply with all the requirements of the immigration laws relative to alien seamen. Upon the refusal of any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel to deposit such bond, or upon the failure of such seaman to depart from the United States within the period allowed, and in addition to any other penalty or liability imposed by this Act, such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer shall pay to the collector of customs the sum of $10 for each such seaman, which sum shall be a lien upon such vessel, and may be recovered by suit upon the bond.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 8. Contracts shall not be required nor accepted from aliens coming to the United States for the purpose of performing labor or service of any kind under contract or agreement, express or implied, except that the following classes may be admitted if otherwise admissible: Persons in the United States who may enter into such contracts with aliens who are in foreign countries, provided that such contracts are not known to the aliens concerned, or to the transportation lines bringing them to the United States, or to any agent of such lines, before the aliens begin the journey to the United States; persons who have been in the United States and have gone abroad temporarily and who return within a reasonable time and in accordance with their usual custom; persons coming from countries contiguous to the United States who have been in the habit of coming to the United States frequently for the purpose of labor; professional actors, artists, lecturers, singers, nurses, and ministers of any religious denomination; professors for colleges or seminaries; persons belonging to any recognized learned profession; persons employed as domestic servants; persons coming to the United States at the solicitation of the Government of the United States or of any of the States or Territories thereof; and persons whose labor or service is unique or necessary to the establishment, development, or completion of an industry, enterprise, or undertaking.

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excepted from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or adjacent islands, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness requiring his detention ashore, until the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall have given a bond to the United States in such sum as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, not exceeding $500 for each such alien seaman, conditioned that such seaman shall depart from the United States from such port within such period as may be allowed by the Secretary of Labor, not to exceed four months from the date of the bond, and shall comply with all the requirements of the immigration laws relative to alien seamen. Upon the refusal of any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel to deposit such bond, or upon the failure of such seaman to depart from the United States within the period allowed, and in addition to any other penalty or liability imposed by this Act, such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer shall pay to the collector of customs the sum of $10 for each such seaman, which sum shall be a lien upon such vessel, and may be recovered by suit upon the bond.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or from if shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, whether they were lawfully admitted or excluded, and whether they intend to be held on board or detained at the port of arrival. Such lists shall be prepared as to the several classes of aliens mentioned therein as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, and shall be subject to such further inspection and examination by the immigrant inspectors as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who refuses or fails to deliver such lists, or who delivers incomplete or inaccurate lists, shall be subject to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom such incomplete or inaccurate information is furnished, to be collected by the collector of customs before the vessel shall be granted clearance papers.

(a) Upon the arrival of any vessel at a port of the United States from any foreign port or place the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof shall deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge of the port a list or manifest of all aliens who have been taken on board at any foreign port or place, whether they intend to land at such port or place or not, and whether destined to the United States or not, and shall furnish such additional information relative to such aliens as the Secretary of Labor may by regulations require. Such list or manifest shall be in such form and contain such additional information relative to such aliens as the Secretary of Labor may by regulations prescribe. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who refuses or fails to deliver such list or manifest at the time of the departure of the vessel from such foreign port or place, or who delivers an incomplete or inaccurate list or manifest, shall pay a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom such incomplete or inaccurate information is furnished, which penalty shall be a lien upon the vessel, and may be collected by suit if necessary.

(b) The Secretary of Labor may by regulations provide for the examination by immigrant inspectors of aliens in foreign contiguous territory who are applying for admission to the United States at seaports of such territory, and for the establishment of such seaports for such purpose, and may detail such inspectors for such service and authorize the employment of such interpreters as may be necessary.

(c) The Secretary of Labor may by regulations provide for the boarding of vessels at quarantine by immigrant inspectors for the purpose of inspecting alien passengers who are detained on board.

SEC. 37. That the Secretary of Labor may enter into contracts with transportation lines for the return to the country whence they came of aliens who become public charges from causes existing prior to their entry into the United States, at a cost not exceeding the head tax and the cost of maintenance for the period of detention, and for the return to their homes of aliens who become insane within three years after entry from causes existing prior to entry, at a cost not exceeding $100 in each case, including maintenance during detention, and may cancel any such contracts for failure to comply with the terms thereof.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fees required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of payment or of the administrative fine prescribed by said section or of the fine prescribed by section 35 of said act has been waived, the deposit thereof in lieu of payment has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and who lawfully in transit through the United States, except for deportation, or intransit to adjacent foreign territory, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except for hospital treatment or medical attendance, or because of shipwreck, or for such time as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, and under such bond as he may require to insure that he will not become a public charge and will depart from the United States when required to do so by the Secretary of Labor or any person authorized by him to require such departure.

(b) Any alien seaman (whether an immigrant or a nonimmigrant) who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who shall land in the United States from any vessel for the purpose of performing labor, and who is certified by the medical officer in charge at the port of arrival to be suffering from any disease or disability which will probably require hospital treatment, shall be detained on board or at such hospital as the immigration officer in charge at the port may direct, for such medical treatment, not exceeding 30 days, as may be necessary to make a final determination as to whether he is entitled to land, and if he is found to be entitled to land, shall be detained on board or at such hospital pending the completion of his landing. The cost of such detention shall be borne by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which he arrived, and which vessel shall be liable therefor in the nature of a penalty.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of the time which may elapse before the vessel sails for a foreign port on which he is entitled to be admitted, the Secretary of Labor may cause such alien seaman to be detained on shore, in such manner as he may think fit, for a period not exceeding five days, and the cost of such detention shall not be charged against the vessel.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act, and the cost of his maintenance while detained on shore and of his deportation shall be borne by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which he arrived, and which vessel shall be liable therefor in the nature of a penalty.

(e) Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse or fail to comply with the requirements of this section or any rule or regulation issued thereunder, or who shall interfere with, or molest, or attempt to interfere with or molest any immigrant inspector in the performance of his duties under this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each offense.

(f) The Secretary of Labor may issue such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of this section.

(g) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any alien seaman employed on any vessel plying between the United States and any foreign contiguous territory.

(h) The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the application of any provision of this section in favor of any seaman who has been lawfully admitted to the United States and who is employed on a vessel engaged in trade between the United States and any foreign contiguous territory.

(i) Nothing in this section shall be construed to repeal, amend, or modify any of the provisions of section 3 of the Act of February 5, 1917.

(j) The Secretary of Labor may prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this section.

(k) The term "seaman" as used in this section shall not include any person employed in the service of any vessel of war of the United States or any vessel while engaged in the service of the Government thereof.

(l) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any seaman who is a citizen of the United States or who has been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence.

(m) This section shall take effect July 1, 1924.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively fill and the amount of money each has with him, and such other information regarding them as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation require; and upon the arrival of any alien such master, consignee, or owner shall furnish to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival such additional information relative to land to be required by the Secretary of Labor. Any person who violates any provision of this section shall be fined for each offense not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both.

SEC. 39. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States at the port of arrival from any foreign contiguous territory, or adjacent islands, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for the alternate deportee, temporarily, or deportation of any alien from the United States upon any ground whatsoever, at any time or place other than the immigration office at the port of arrival and at the time of inspection by the immigrant inspectors: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, by general rules, except from the provisions of this subdivision masters of vessels who only occasionally touch at ports of the United States contiguous to foreign territory and seamen employed on such vessels.

(b) Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this subdivision shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction in any court of competent jurisdiction shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such violation occurs.

(c) It shall be the duty of the Secretary of Labor to cause to be examined at the office of the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, or at such other place as he may designate, every alien who may be found on board of any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or adjacent islands, and every alien who may be about to depart from the United States, except temporarily for the alternate deportee, temporarily, or deportation of any alien from the United States upon any ground whatsoever, at any time or place other than the immigration office at the port of arrival and at the time of inspection by the immigrant inspectors: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, by general rules, except from the provisions of this subdivision masters of vessels who only occasionally touch at ports of the United States contiguous to foreign territory and seamen employed on such vessels.

(b) Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this subdivision shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction in any court of competent jurisdiction shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such violation occurs.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall think that deportation of any alien comes on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be detained for the prosecution of any charge against such alien, or for the collection of the penalty imposed by this section, he may cause such alien to be deported on such vessel or any other vessel or vessels which may be available, to the country whence he came, or to the country from which he embarked immediately to the United States, or to any country which may be willing to receive him, the cost of the maintenance while detained and of such deportation to be certified by the Secretary of Labor and paid out of the appropriation for the expenses of the Department of Labor.

The list of churches of all denominations in each locality will be furnished on board the vessel. The list of churches of other denominations will be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port.

The list described below shall be furnished on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration officer at the port of arrival. Failure to furnish the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port.

When an alien (except one) shall not be examined on board, but shall be detained for special examination, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel. Neither the boarding officer nor the master shall permit any member of the crew, passenger, or other person to land from such vessel before the inspection of the alien passengers and the physical examination of the crew by the immigrant inspectors, or before the vessel has been granted entry by the collector of customs, except that the master may, under such rules and regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, send ashore any sick or injured member of the crew for treatment in a hospital: Provided, That a bond in such sum not exceeding $500 as may be required by the collector of customs, conditioned that such sick or injured member of the crew will return on board the vessel when certified by the physician in charge of the hospital or by the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, or when required by the Secretary of Labor, and that such sick or injured member of the crew will not enter the United States in violation of law, be given by the master of the vessel before such member of the crew is sent ashore. Any master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel who shall refuse to comply with the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 for each such refusal.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFESTS

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States; records of separate manifests immediately following this one. Each manifest should be headed by the immigration act of 1924: and also records of separate manifests should be kept for the third class and the second-class passengers, which are handled apart from the first class; and it they travel in different classes; apply to the respective names are listed.

Column 1 (Head-tax status)—Alphabetical index only.

Column 2 (Name)—The names of all persons must be entered in the order and in the columns as follows:

Column 3 (Sex).—The entry should be either M (male) or F (female).

Column 4 (Age)—The entry should be made in years. If under 1 year, the entry should be made in months as follows: 11 mo., 10 mo., etc.

Column 5 (Married or single)—The entry should be made as follows: M (married), S (single), W (widow), D (divorced).

Column 6 (Calling or occupation)—The entry should describe as accurately as possible the occupation, trade, or profession of each person, as laborer, farmer, merchant, tailor, clerk, etc., but not simply as "worker," "student," "child," etc. Where persons have no occupation, this should be stated.

Column 7 (Nationality)—Nationality means country to which person belongs politically, as citizen or subject. Thus, a native of Scotland is a British subject, a native of Germany is a German subject, etc. Do not enter "Russian" unless person was born in Russia and is entitled to Russian citizenship. Austrian, Hungarian, Bohemian, Polish, Canadian, Mexican, etc., are not nationalities.

Column 8 (Race)—The entry should be made as follows: Negro, Chinese, Japanese, Hebrew, Irish, English, Scotch, French, German, Italian, Spanish, Portuguese, Dutch, Flemish, Greek, Russian, Polish, Finnish, Bulgarian, Servian, Roumanian, Magyar, Slovak, Ruthenian (Russniak), Croatian, Slovenian, Dalmatian, Bosnian, Herzegovinian, Montenegrin, Albanian, Turkish, Armenian, Georgian, Syrian, Arabian, Afghan, Hindu, Parsee, or other race or people.

Column 9 (Last residence or domicile)—Country of last permanent residence. Use the name of the country, not of the city or town. Aliens frequently write in answer to this question the name of a city or town in their native country, which is misleading. Make sure that the country of last permanent residence is entered. If a person has lived in another country for one year or more before coming to the United States, that country should be entered as the country of last permanent residence. If a person has lived in another country for less than one year, the country of birth should be entered as the country of last permanent residence.

Column 10 (Vessel)—Name of vessel in which alien arrives.

Column 11 (Port)—Port at which alien lands in the United States.

Column 12 (Destination)—Give the city and State of the future home or permanent address of each alien. Aliens frequently write in answer to this question the name of the State in which they intend to settle, but this is insufficient information. If an alien intends to settle in a city, the name of the city should be given. If he intends to settle on a farm, the name of the nearest city or town should be given, and the name of the county in which the farm is located should be stated.

Column 13 (Final destination)—Use reverse side of sheet for entries. Where alien is destined beyond the United States, the name of the country should be given.

Column 14 (Whether going to join a relative or friend, and, if so, which one, and his complete address)—Many aliens coming to the United States have relatives or friends whose address they know, and to whom they write before sailing. Address should include street and number, if possible, and complete address should be given.

Column 15 (Whether in possession of $50 in cash or not, and how much)—Many aliens coming to the United States are in possession of sums of money less than $50, and frequently state that they have more than $50 when they have not. Answers to this question should be carefully scrutinized.

Column 16 (Whether ever before in the United States, and if so, when and where)—Many aliens who have been in the United States before return to their native countries and then attempt to enter the United States illegally. Answers to this question should be carefully scrutinized.

Column 17 (Whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, and if so, where and when)—Many aliens who have been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity in the United States return to their native countries and then attempt to enter the United States illegally. Answers to this question should be carefully scrutinized.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFESTS

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States. Accordingly on separate immigrant manifests must be recorded the names of passengers who embark at the same port on the same vessel and are destined to the United States. The names of all members of a family included in the same manifest should be consecutive. Infants should be entered on the lines on which the respective mothers are listed.

Columns 1 (Last name first)—Surnames (family names) should be written in this column, and then the given names (Christian or first names) and middle initial, if any.

Column 2 (Age).—The entry should be written in numerals. Infants under 1 year of age should be entered as "under 1 year."

Column 3 (Sex).—The entry should be written M (male) or F (female).

Column 4 (Married or single).—The entry should be M (married), S (single), W (widowed), or D (divorced).

Column 5 (Occupation).—The entry should describe as accurately as possible the occupation, trade, or profession of each alien 14 years old and over, whether actually employed or not. Such terms as "laborer," "servant," "housewife," or "none" are undesirable. If no occupation, trade, or profession is followed, the fact should be clearly stated by the entry "None." Infants may be entered as having no occupation.

Column 6 (Nation or people).—Write the name of the country of which the alien claims nationality or citizenship. Do not write "American" unless the alien is entitled to claim citizenship of the United States. Do not write "Russian," "Austrian," "Hungarian," "Turkish," "Slavish," or "Balkan" unless such is the country of which the alien claims nationality or citizenship. Do not write "Scotch," "Welsh," or "English" unless the alien is entitled to claim citizenship of Great Britain. Write "Irish Free State" for natives of Ireland (Eire) who are citizens of the Irish Free State. Write "Palestine" for natives of Palestine who are citizens of Palestine. Write "Arabian" for natives of Arabia who are citizens of Arabia. Write "Persian" for natives of Persia who are citizens of Persia. Write "Egyptian" for natives of Egypt who are citizens of Egypt. Write "Siamese" for natives of Siam who are citizens of Siam. Write "Chinese" for natives of China who are citizens of China. Write "Japanese" for natives of Japan who are citizens of Japan. Write "Hindu" for natives of India who are citizens of India. Write "Afghan" for natives of Afghanistan who are citizens of Afghanistan. Write "Liberian" for natives of Liberia who are citizens of Liberia. Write "Ethiopian" for natives of Ethiopia who are citizens of Ethiopia. Write "Turkish Empire" for natives of Turkey in Europe who are citizens of Turkey in Europe

The list of races and peoples printed above shall be followed in the entry of aliens arriving at ports in the United States, and in no case shall any alien be permitted to enter the United States who belongs to a race not specifically mentioned in such list unless it be shown to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that the race to which such alien belongs is clearly distinct from any of the races specifically mentioned in such list.

Any alien who belongs to a race not specifically mentioned in such list shall be regarded as belonging to the race specifically mentioned therein to which he is most closely related, and in case of doubt or dispute concerning the race to which any such alien belongs the decision of the Secretary of Labor shall be final.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 38. That from and after the 1st day of May, nineteen hundred and seventeen, in addition to the persons now excluded from admission into the United States by the provisions of this Act, the following persons shall be excluded from admission into the United States, namely:

(a) All persons who can not read and write the English language or some other language or dialect, including Hebrew or Yiddish: Provided, That any admissible alien or any alien who has been admitted into the United States before the passage of this Act, or any citizen of the United States, or any alien who has a right to remain in the United States without a certificate as provided in section three of this Act, who shall depart therefrom temporarily, may be readmitted to the United States upon his return within six months from the date of his departure therefrom upon the certificate of the commissioner of immigration at the port of entry in the United States at which he applies for admission, or upon the certificate of a United States consular officer: And provided further, That nothing in this section shall exclude, if otherwise admissible, persons coming solely as political refugees from religious persecution, whether such persons are in possession of passports or not, if otherwise admissible under the immigration laws and regulations.

(b) All persons physically capable and otherwise admissible who are over fifty years of age, if accompanied by and coming to the United States to join or remain with a parent or grandparent.

(c) All persons who have been deported under any of the provisions of this Act, except section nineteen, and who may again seek admission within one year from the date of such deportation, unless prior to their reembarkation at the place of deportation or thereafter and within one year from such date they obtain the consent of the Secretary of Labor to reapply for admission.

(d) All persons who are coming to the United States in consequence of advertisements for laborers inserted in foreign publications by or on behalf of persons in the United States controlling industrial enterprises in the United States.

(e) All persons who are coming to the United States under offers, solicitations, promises, or agreements to perform labor of any kind in the United States, except as provided for in this Act.

(f) All persons who are assisted by others to come to the United States, except that skilled workmen may be assisted when labor of their kind is not obtainable in the United States; and the provisions of this subdivision shall not apply to professional actors, artists, lecturers, singers, nurses, ministers of any religious denomination, professors for colleges or seminaries, persons belonging to any recognized learned profession, or persons employed as domestic servants.

(g) That for the purpose of ascertaining whether aliens seeking to enter the United States are subject to exclusion under the provisions of this Act, the Secretary of Labor shall cause to be established such boards of special inquiry as may be necessary, which shall be composed of three persons to be appointed by the Secretary of Labor, and such boards shall have authority to administer oaths and to take evidence touching the right of any alien to enter the United States, and shall perform such duties relative thereto as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor not inconsistent with this Act. The Secretary of Labor shall prescribe rules and regulations governing the conduct of the proceedings of such boards, the records to be kept, and the manner in which the same shall be authenticated. Such records shall be admissible in evidence in all cases in which the decision of such boards is involved. Such boards shall have access to all immigrant stations and other places where aliens seeking admission into the United States are detained, for the purpose of performing their duties, and may administer oaths and take evidence touching the right of any alien to enter the United States. The Secretary of Labor shall furnish such boards with the necessary books, blanks, and stationery, and shall make provision for the payment of the necessary expenses incurred in the enforcement of this Act. Such boards shall be composed of such number of persons as may be necessary to secure the prompt performance of the duties imposed upon them by this Act. Clerks to such boards may be appointed by the Secretary of Labor at $1,200 per annum each. Such boards shall have power to send for persons and books and papers, and to administer oaths and take evidence touching the right of any alien to enter the United States, and may delegate such power to any officer of the United States whom the President may designate for the purpose. Any person who shall willfully make false entry in the record of any such proceeding or who shall neglect or refuse to attend after having been duly summoned, or who shall refuse to answer any pertinent question touching the right of any alien to enter the United States, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof in any court of competent jurisdiction shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Such boards shall have power to administer oaths, and to take and consider evidence concerning the right of any alien to enter the United States, and concerning the admissibility of any alien, and may exercise such power and perform such duties elsewhere than at a port of entry as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Such boards shall have power to adopt rules for the conduct of their proceedings, not inconsistent with law or with the rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and may prescribe forms of notices to aliens and records of proceedings. Such boards shall be governed by the instructions of the Secretary of Labor and by the immigration officer in charge of the port. Such boards shall have power to order the deportation of any alien found in the United States in violation of this Act, and such deportation shall be carried out under the same conditions, and within the same time limitations, as in the case of aliens convicted of crimes. The decision of a majority of such boards shall be final as to the admissibility of any alien, subject to appeal to the Secretary of Labor by the immigrant inspector in charge at the port, or to the commissioner of immigration at the port of arrival, or to the commissioner general of immigration at Washington, D. C., by the alien or by the steamship company or transportation company bringing such alien to the United States. Such appeals must be taken within ten days after the decision appealed from is rendered, and must be decided within ten days after the receipt of the record and evidence on appeal. Pending the decision on appeal, the alien shall be detained in such manner as may be directed by the immigrant inspector in charge at the port. The Secretary of Labor shall have power to establish regulations governing the admission of aliens to the United States through ports not regularly established as ports of entry, and shall have power to designate any United States immigrant station as a port of entry for aliens coming to the United States from Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Cuba, Central America, South America, the West Indies, Europe, Asia, Africa, Australia, or the Islands of the Pacific Ocean, and shall have power to establish immigrant stations in the interior of the United States for the inspection and examination of aliens entering the United States across the borders thereof, and shall have power to detail officers of the United States Government and employees of the Department of Labor for duty in connection therewith

The list described below will be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration officer at the port of arrival at least twenty-four hours before the vessel arrives. The list of aliens on board must be complete, including the names of all persons, even children of whatever age, and the full information required concerning each person must be given. Any omission will cause delay in the landing of the vessel. Any person who is not entitled to land will be detained on board, but shall be returned by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port.

When an attorney assumes to act for a person, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, master, or consignee, or person in charge of the vessel to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively engaged, the intended length of their stay in the United States, and the final destination of each such alien, as far as known, and whether he has been in the United States before, and if so, when and how often, and the names and addresses of his relatives, if any, in the country whence he came; and such owner, agent, master, consignee, or person in charge shall furnish such additional information relative to any such alien as may be required by the Secretary of Labor or by any person duly authorized by him for the purpose, and shall detain such alien on board the vessel if called upon so to do by such officer or person, and shall furnish a descriptive list of such aliens, following the order of the information called for in the lists, as far as practicable. All lists of aliens required to be delivered to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival shall be prepared in quadruplicate, and one copy shall be delivered to the master of the vessel on which the aliens arrive, at the time of the arrival, for use in the event of the vessel being required to return to the last port from which she sailed, and one copy shall be delivered to the immigrant inspector in charge at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the first port of entry in the United States. Any master, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival the lists required by this section, or who refuses to allow any immigrant inspector to board such vessel for the purpose of examining the aliens thereon, or who refuses or neglects to detain any alien on board when required so to do by the Secretary of Labor, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien in respect to whom such violation occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers until the master thereof has complied with the provisions of this section. Clearance may be withheld in case of refusal to detain any alien when required so to do, and if the master of any vessel refuses or neglects to report, deliver lists, or pay the head tax imposed by this act in respect to any alien, or obtains a landing for any alien by means of any false statement or misrepresentation, such master shall be subject to all fines and penalties prescribed for bringing aliens who are excluded from admission to the United States by the immigration laws otherwise than because affected with loathsome or dangerous contagious diseases. Fines imposed upon the master may be remitted or mitigated by the Secretary of Labor, whose decision shall be final.

(a) Every alien who has been admitted to the United States shall, at the time of application for admission or examination, and before admission, be given a card or other suitable evidence of the fact, and a record thereof shall be kept by the transportation company bringing such alien. Such card or other evidence shall be surrendered by such alien upon departure from the United States through the customs service at the port of departure, and the date of such departure shall be recorded on the card or other evidence and reported to the Commissioner-General of Immigration. Such record shall be prima facie evidence that such alien has departed from the United States as of the date so recorded. Any such alien who shall depart from the United States without surrendering such card or other evidence shall be reported to the Commissioner-General of Immigration as a deserting alien. Such card or other evidence shall be furnished by the Commissioner-General of Immigration at such ports as he may designate, and the cost thereof shall be paid by the transportation company bringing such alien to the United States. Any such company failing to furnish such card or other evidence when required so to do shall be subject to a fine of $100 for each such offense.

(b) Every alien who shall depart from the United States shall, before his departure, make application to the Commissioner-General of Immigration for a certificate of identification. Such application shall be made in writing in duplicate upon such blanks as may be prescribed by the Commissioner-General of Immigration, and shall contain such information as may be required by him for the identification of the alien applying for such certificate. One copy of such application shall be retained by the Commissioner-General of Immigration, and the other copy shall be delivered to the alien applying therefor. Upon the presentation of such application to the Commissioner-General of Immigration, or to such person or persons as he may designate to receive the same, the alien making such application shall be entitled to receive a certificate stating that such application has been made. Such certificate shall be prima facie evidence in favor of the alien who presents the same upon his subsequent application for admission to the United States as to the truth of the statements made by him in his application for such certificate. Such certificate shall be presented by the alien to the immigrant inspector at the port of entry in the United States at which he applies for admission, and upon the presentation of such certificate the inspection of such alien shall be limited to an examination to establish the identity of the alien with the person to whom such certificate was issued. Any alien who shall fail to present such certificate upon application for admission shall be taken to a Board of Special Inquiry for examination. Any alien who shall depart from the United States without having first obtained such certificate of identification shall be deemed to be a deserting alien. Any alien who shall forge, counterfeit, alter, or falsely make any certificate provided for in this section, or who shall use or attempt to use any certificate so forged, counterfeited, altered, or falsely made, or who shall use or attempt to use any certificate issued to any other person, shall be deemed guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding five years, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any alien who shall fail to obtain such certificate of identification before departure, or who shall use or attempt to use any certificate issued to any other person, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $500 or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any alien who shall depart from the United States without having first obtained such certificate of identification

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival [list containing a full manifest of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and discharge; those to be held on and discharged in the port of arrival; or [list containing a full manifest of such information as to the passengers and persons on board as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and before the vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector or other officer of the customs, or in the case of vessels departing from ports not within the customs districts, before the departure of such vessel from the port, the master thereof shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of departure a list, signed and sworn to by him before the consular officer of the United States, or, if there be no consular officer of the United States at the port of departure, before the collector of customs or his deputy, or other officer designated by the Secretary of the Treasury, of all aliens who have been engaged, shipped, or contracted to be shipped in any capacity on board such vessel, and who are destined to the United States, which list shall show the full name, age, sex, calling or occupation, and nationality of each such alien, the country to which he belongs, the country from which he last came, and his final destination, whether in the United States or elsewhere, and such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and shall sign and deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a like list of all aliens who have been shipped or engaged, discharged, or who have deserted from such vessel at such port since the departure of such vessel from the last foreign port or place, and shall produce the vessel for inspection by the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, and shall furnish such additional information concerning the aliens employed on such vessel as the Secretary of Labor may require. The list of aliens of alien immigrants required to be delivered by the master to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival may be typewritten or printed, but shall be in the English language. Any master who refuses to deliver such list, or who refuses to answer questions concerning the immigration of alien immigrants, or who willfully delivers such list containing false information, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such false information is given, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master who refuses to deliver such list, or to answer questions concerning the immigration of any alien, or who willfully delivers such list containing false information, shall be liable to a penalty of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such false information is given. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, remit any fine or penalty provided for in this section or any part of such fine or penalty.

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival [list containing a full manifest of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and discharge; those to be held on and discharged in the port of arrival; or [list containing a full manifest of such information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and before the vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector or other officer of the customs, or in the case of vessels departing from ports not within the customs districts, before the departure of such vessel from the port, the master thereof shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of departure a list, signed and sworn to by him before the consular officer of the United States, or, if there be no consular officer of the United States at the port of departure, before the collector of customs or his deputy, or other officer designated by the Secretary of the Treasury, of all aliens who have been engaged, shipped, or contracted to be shipped in any capacity on board such vessel, and who are destined to the United States, which list shall show the full name, age, sex, calling or occupation, and nationality of each such alien, the country to which he belongs, the country from which he last came, and his final destination, whether in the United States or elsewhere, and such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and shall sign and deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a like list of all aliens who have been shipped or engaged, discharged, or who have deserted from such vessel at such port since the departure of such vessel from the last foreign port or place, and shall produce the vessel for inspection by the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, and shall furnish such additional information concerning the aliens employed on such vessel as the Secretary of Labor may require. The list of aliens of alien immigrants required to be delivered by the master to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival may be typewritten or printed, but shall be in the English language. Any master who refuses to deliver such list, or who refuses to answer questions concerning the immigration of any alien, or who willfully delivers such list containing false information, shall be liable to a penalty of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such false information is given. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, remit any fine or penalty provided for in this section or any part of such fine or penalty.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fees required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless master of immigrant to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 36 of said act having been waived, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or transferred to such vessel elsewhere than at a port of the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness or injury requiring his removal, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except pursuant to such rules and regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the allowance of temporary landing in cases of emergency.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, removal, or deportation of any alien seaman (whether inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain on board any such seaman who has been ordered by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival pending examination or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the penalty, or while the foregoing provisions of this subdivision remain unperformed, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such liability in the discretion of the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector.

(b) Vessels that are in ballast and not engaged in the carriage of passengers for hire shall not be required to pay the penalty provided for in this section in respect of any alien seaman who may have entered the United States from any foreign port or place without a permit, or who may have remained in the United States for a longer period than permitted by the terms of his permit, or who may have violated the conditions thereof, or that he was deported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport such seaman.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall find deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be cleared pending the payment or the guaranty of payment of the expense of such deportation.

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States, regardless of whether intermediate and subsequent ports are within the same country or not. Each manifest should be limited to passengers who embark at one port and at one time. Where, however, an embarkation at a second port within the same country takes place before the departure of the vessel from that country, the additional passengers may be entered on the manifest covering the passengers who embarked at the first port in the same country.

Columns 1 and 2 (Last name; first name and middle initial).—Enter surname (family name) and given names in full. Do not use initials for given names. Where a person has no middle name, a hyphen (-) should be made in the middle initial column.

Column 3 (Age).—Enter age at last birthday. If under 1 year old, write number of months, as "6 mos.".

Column 4 (Sex).—Enter "M" (male) or "F" (female).

Column 5 (Married or single).—Enter "M" (married), "S" (single), "W" (widow), or "D" (divorced).

Column 6 (Calling or occupation).—Enter the trade, profession, or occupation of each person 14 years old and over, whether actually employed or not. Do not use such indefinite terms as "laborer," "clerk," "manufacturer," "merchant," "engineer," "farmer," "housewife," "none," etc., but be specific, as "cotton planter," "civil engineer," "musician," "bookkeeper," "stenographer," "dressmaker," "accountant," "author," "editor," "lecturer," "actress," "salesman," "physician," "surgeon," "chemist," "professor," "public accountant," "electrician," "mechanical engineer," "civil engineer," "mining engineer," "miner," "machinist," "iron molder," "boilermaker," "tailor," "tailoress," "baker," "locomotive engineer," "conductor," "locomotive fireman," "engineer (stationary)," "fireman (stationary)," "barber," "hairdresser," "manicurist," "porter," "waiter," "housekeeper," "cook," "servant," "laundress," "laundry worker," "agent," "clerk," "shipping clerk," "stock clerk," "weaver," "textile worker," "spinner," "loom fixer," "silk worker," "glass worker," "upholsterer," "watchmaker," "jeweler," "goldsmith," "silversmith," "photographer," "decorator," "lithographer," "engraver," "sailor," "fisherman," "oysterman," "canner," "butcher," "meat cutter," "miller," "dairyman," "poultryman," "gardener," "florist," "nurseryman," "woodworker," "lumberman," "sawyer," "turner," "cabinetmaker," "carpenter," "painter," "paperhanger," "plumber," "roofer," "bricklayer," "stonecutter," "stone mason," "tile layer," "plasterer," "rubber worker," "miner," "quarryman," "well driller," "oil worker," "gas worker," "teacher," "professor," "clergyman," "lawyer," "physician," "surgeon," "dentist," "veterinarian," "chemist," "librarian," "archivist," "musician," "actor," "actress," "artist (painter, sculptor, etc.)," "author," "editor," "journalist," "reporter," "photographer," "civil engineer," "mechanical engineer," "electrical engineer," "mining engineer," "metallurgical engineer," "chemical engineer," "architect," "draftsman," "aviator," "technician," "radio operator," "radio engineer," "radio mechanic," "electrician," "electrical worker," "soldier," "sailor," "government official," "policeman," "detective," "inspector," "watchman," "guard," "janitor," "janitress

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration officer at the port of arrival before the vessel is ready to leave the dock from the vessel. The list of aliens so prepared shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival, and shall be deemed a manifest of persons (Form 4k8) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port.

"Alien in arriving" means a national of any foreign state, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, state and nature their respective duties, and the length of time they have been employed on board such vessel; and it shall be the duty of the master of any such vessel to report the sick or injured alien passengers, if any, and to deliver to each such alien passenger a certificate of the nature of the illness or injury for which he was treated, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further certificate stating the names of all aliens employed on the vessel who were not employed by it at the time of the arrival but who may have been employed by it at the time of the departure; and before the departure of any such vessel from any port in the United States to any foreign port or place the master thereof shall deliver to the proper immigration officer a list containing the names of all aliens employed on the vessel who were not employed by it at the time of the arrival but who may have been employed by it at the time of the departure, and the reasons for the termination of the employment of each of such aliens, which list shall be verified in the manner required by this section for the verification of the list of aliens employed at the time of arrival. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or master who shall refuse or neglect to deliver any list required by this section, or who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to any immigration officer any information in his possession touching the right to enter the United States of any alien, or who shall refuse or neglect to detain any alien when ordered so to do by such immigration officer, or who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to any immigration officer any such alien for examination, or who shall refuse or neglect to pay the head tax provided for by section 2 of this Act, or who shall refuse or neglect to perform any duty required of him by this section, or who shall interfere with or obstruct or hinder or prevent any such immigration officer from going on board any such vessel for the purpose of performing any duty required by this section, or who shall refuse such immigration officer any facilities demanded by him for the performance of his duties in relation to any such alien on board such vessel, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fees required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been transmitted, and no bond shall be discharged until it is shown that all taxes required by section 36 of said Act have been paid.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 9. (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, except Canada, Newfoundland, or Mexico, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospitalization as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 28. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory (which term shall include a seaplane or hydroplane) shall, before examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to obtain such certificate, or who fails to deliver on board such alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has delivered such seaman (which term shall include a seaplane or hydroplane) shall, before examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to obtain such certificate, or who fails to deliver on board such alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has delivered such seaman a certificate to the effect that he has been found upon examination by him to be entitled to enter the United States, or has been granted a permit to enter the United States, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10.00 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment of such duty, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such duty upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such duty, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States in the vessel on which he arrived or in the vessel in which he shall have been transferred by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be taken into custody and returned to the country to which he belongs or in which he resides at his own expense if he deserted within one year after his entry into the United States, unless the Secretary of Labor shall be satisfied that he is not a member of the anarchistic or other classes excluded from admission into the United States by the immigration laws then in force, and shall furnish to the master of the vessel on which he arrived a certificate to that effect, which shall be sufficient warrant to the master to receive him on board and to detain him thereon while in port and during the voyage to the port to which the vessel is destined. Every alien seaman who shall desert while in the United States shall be deported

AFFIDAVIT TO SURGEON

State of Texas, County of Travis, ss:

I, Dr. Jane E. Thompson, Surgeon of the U.S. Army, duly sworn, depose and say: that I have had personal charge of the examination of applicants, under the act entitled "An act to increase the present military establishment of the United States," and that I am satisfied from personal examination of each of the persons whose names appear on the annexed list that the following facts are true in all particulars: that the said persons have been carefully examined by me, and that I have made a personal examination of each of the affirmative material points, and that the investigation is complete, according to the best of my knowledge and belief; that all questions in relation to the matter have been fully answered, and that there is no fact within my knowledge touching the moral character, habits, or domestic relations of the said persons which has not been fully stated in the papers; that I have no interest, either directly or indirectly, in the claim of any of the said persons; that I am not related to any of the said persons, nor am I the agent or attorney of any person prosecuting the claim of any of the said persons.

Sworn to before me this 14th day of September, 1891.

Jane E. Thompson

Surgeon, U.S. Army.

I certify that I have carefully examined the persons whose names are on the annexed list, and that I believe them to be the identical persons they represent themselves to be; that I have personally known the said persons for the period stated in the list; that I have no interest, either directly or indirectly, in the claim of any of the said persons; that I am not related to any of the said persons, nor am I the agent or attorney of any person prosecuting the claim of any of the said persons.

Witness my hand this 14th day of September, 1891.

Jane E. Thompson

Surgeon, U.S. Army.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFEST

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States. Passengers embarking at different ports must not be listed on the same manifest sheet, even though they may be proceeding to the same destination. Use ink and write legibly. Do not abbreviate. As defined by the Immigration Act of 1924: Any alien temporarily in the United States in any of the so-called nonimmigrant classes, whose stay past the limited 6 months, and those whose stay is for a definite temporary purpose, may apply for permission to change to another nonimmigrant class, provided he is not ineligible for the class he desires and is otherwise admissible. Any alien who remains longer than permitted or who engages in employment not authorized by his visa is subject to deportation. Any alien who has been convicted of a crime involving moral turpitude, or who admits the commission of such a crime, or who is a prostitute or procurer, or who is coming to the United States to engage in any immoral sexual act, is excluded from admission into the United States. Any alien who has been convicted of two crimes, or who admits the commission of two crimes involving moral turpitude, is excluded from admission into the United States. Any alien who has been convicted of a violation of any law relating to narcotic drugs or marihuana, or who admits the commission of such violation, is excluded from admission into the United States. Any alien who has been convicted of a violation of, or a conspiracy to violate, any law or regulation governing or prohibiting the admission into the United States of persons who are anarchists, or who advocate or teach the unlawful destruction of property, or who are members of or affiliated with any organization entertaining a belief in, teaching, or advocating such unlawful destruction of property, is excluded from admission into the United States. Any alien who is a member of the following classes shall be excluded from admission into the United States: Aliens who are mentally defective; aliens who have had two or more attacks of insanity at any time previously; aliens who are epileptics; aliens who are professional beggars; aliens who are persons likely to become a public charge; aliens who are afflicted with tuberculosis in any form or with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease; aliens who have been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, except political offenses; aliens who have been convicted of two misdemeanors; aliens who have been deported under the provisions of this act, unless prior to their application for admission they have received special permission of the Secretary of Labor to apply for admission; aliens who have been deported from the United States in pursuance of the provisions of the Act of February 5, 1917, and who have subsequently entered the United States without the consent of the Secretary of Labor; aliens who have been deported from the United States in pursuance of the provisions of the Act of May 19, 1921, and who have subsequently entered the United States without the consent of the Secretary of Labor; aliens who have been deported from the United States in pursuance of the provisions of the Act of May 26, 1924

LIST OF RACES OR PEOPLES

"Race or people" is to be determined by the stock from which aliens emigrate and the language they speak. The original stock or blood back of the basis of the classification, the mother tongue to be used only to assist in determining the original stock.

AFFIDAVIT OF SURGEON

I, Hiromichi Seto, surgeon of the U.S.S. "Helen Mar", do solemnly, sincerely, and truly swear that I have had 10 years' experience as a physician and surgeon, and that I am qualified to practice as such by the authority of The Department of Home Affairs, and that I am employed by The Imperial Japanese Government as surgeon of the vessel "Helen Mar", and that I have made a personal examination of each of the aliens named herein, and that the foregoing lists or manifests contain, to the best of my knowledge and belief, a true, correct, and full statement as to the nationality, race, last residence, and destination of each of said aliens; and that I have carefully examined each of said aliens, and that I have personally inspected the sanitary condition of the vessel, and that I have found no infectious or contagious diseases existing among the crew or passengers, and that I have found no facts or circumstances connected with the sanitary condition of the vessel, or the health of the crew or passengers, which would render it unsafe or improper for the vessel to proceed on her voyage.

Sworn to before me this 2nd day of February, 1914.

H. Seto
Surgeon.

U.S. Consul at Seattle, Wash.

NOTE.—If a vessel sails with the crew and passengers detained in quarantine, the affidavit must be executed before the vessel leaves the quarantine station.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFEST

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States, regardless of whether the same transfer also may have been made at a previous port or ports. The manifest is to be completed by the transportation company or agent; those whose writing is illegible or who do not speak English should print the information. The manifest is divided into nine classes, namely, three classes each for immigrants, for those who are not immigrants but are admissible to the United States, and for those who are not admissible. Each class is to be entered in the appropriate class; and it will very rarely, if ever, be necessary to use more than one sheet for the immigrants of any class. Each sheet is to be numbered consecutively, beginning with 1 for the first sheet of each class. Use a separate line for each person. Answer each question by a cross (×) in the proper column, or by writing the word, number, or date required. Do not use ditto marks. Be careful to answer correctly all questions applicable to each person, and to see that no space which should be filled is overlooked. Draw lines in ink across the sheet after the last person listed.

Column 1 (Last name).—Write surname (family name) in full.

Column 2 (First name).—Write given name in full (Christian name), and middle name or initial, if any.

Column 3 (Age).—Write age at last birthday. Under 1 year, write number of months, as "6/12".

Column 4 (Sex).—Write "M" for male or "F" for female.

Column 5 (Married or single).—Write "M" for married, "S" for single, "W" for widowed, or "D" for divorced.

Column 6 (Calling or occupation).—Write calling or occupation of each person one year of age or over, whether actually employed or not. Do not use such indefinite terms as "laborer," "clerk," "servant," "student," "housework," "none," or "child." Be specific. Wife of farmer, if assisting on farm, should be entered as "farmer's wife"; child attending school, as "student"; etc. Persons formerly engaged in any occupation, but not at present employed, should be entered as "laborer," "servant," "clerk," etc., but not as "formerly a laborer," etc. Persons of independent means should be entered as "gentleman" or "gentlewoman." Persons without occupation, such as infants, should be entered as "none."

Column 7 (Can read).—Write "Yes" or "No" to indicate whether or not person can read.

Column 8 (Can write).—Write "Yes" or "No" to indicate whether or not person can write.

Column 9 (Where born).—Write the name of the country in which birthplace is situated, as Germany, Russia, Italy, Ireland, England, Scotland, Wales, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Finland, Holland, Belgium, France, Spain, Portugal, Switzerland, Austria-Hungary, Greece, Turkey in Europe, Turkey in Asia, Arabia, Syria, Persia, China, Japan, India, Egypt, Africa, Australia, New Zealand, Mexico, Cuba, Haiti, Jamaica, Canada, Newfoundland, Central America, South America, West Indies, Philippine Islands, Hawaii, Samoa, Atlantic Islands, Pacific Islands, or other specific possessions.

Column 10 (Nearest relative).—Write the name of the nearest relative in the country from which the person came.

Column 11 (Name of kin).—Write name of relative or friend in the United States to whom the person is going.

Column 12 (Relationship).—Write relationship of kin, as wife, father, mother, brother, sister, cousin, friend, etc.

Column 13 (Address).—Write the name of the street and the number, if any, of the house in which the person intends to live, as 1482 Main St., Rochester, N. Y.; 1482 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.; 1482 Main St., Detroit, Mich.; 1482 Main St., Minneapolis, Minn.; 1482 Main St., Portland, Oreg.; 1482 Main St., Los Angeles, Cal.; 1482 Main St., Seattle, Wash.; 1482 Main St., Spokane, Wash.; 1482 Main St., Helena, Mont.; 1482 Main St., Butte, Mont.; 1482 Main St., Denver, Colo.; 1482 Main St., Salt Lake City, Utah; 1482 Main St., Boise, Idaho; 1482 Main St., Cheyenne, Wyo.; 1482 Main St., Santa Fe, N. NOTE.—Full text of subsection 23 as follows: If before a person who believes it to be necessary to prevent the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, or to prevent a murder or assassination of any executive officer of the United States or of any State or Territory, or of any officer or agent of any such executive officer, or to prevent the destruction of property, or to secure the safety of persons or property, any alien shall advocate or teach such doctrine, or shall print, publish, sell, or distribute, or cause to be printed, published, sold, or distributed, any book, paper, document, or any written or printed matter containing such doctrine, or shall knowingly circulate or cause to be circulated any such book, paper, document, or matter, or shall organize or help to organize or become a member of or affiliated with any society, association, or group formed to teach or encourage such doctrine, such alien shall be deported in the manner provided by law. Any such alien shall be arrested upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor, issued upon such evidence as may be required by the rules prescribed by him, unless the alien is known to be entitled to be admitted to the United States under subsequent provisions of this act, and may be detained pending the decision on his case. Any such alien who shall return to the United States shall be deported as provided in section 19 of this act. Any such alien shall be incapable of becoming a citizen of the United States.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFEST

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States. Complete on separate manifests those aliens traveling in the third class and the non-emigrant aliens, whether in the second class or not, but those aliens traveling in the first class and the citizens of the United States, as defined by the Immigration Act of 1924; but alien tourists holding passports issued by countries whose citizens are not required to obtain visas before entering the United States, and who intend to enter the United States as temporary visitors for pleasure, may be included in the second-class manifest when they travel in the same class; and it they travel in different classes, segregate accordingly. The names of all members of a family should be entered consecutively on the same manifest sheet when they travel in the same class; but if they travel in different classes, segregate accordingly. Use a separate manifest sheet for each class.

Columns 1 to 4 (Name; relationship; age; sex).—Enter surname (family name) first, followed by given names (in full), and middle initial, if any. Enter relationship, if traveling with relatives, as husband, wife, father, mother, son, daughter, brother, sister, grandfather, grandmother, grandson, granddaughter, uncle, aunt, nephew, niece, cousin, father-in-law, mother-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, brother-in-law, sister-in-law, stepfather, stepmother, stepson, stepdaughter, stepbrother, stepsister, half brother, half sister, foster father, foster mother, foster son, foster daughter, guardian, ward, fiancé, fiancée, or other relationship. Enter age, last birthday, if under 1 year, state number of months (example, 6 mos.). Enter sex, male or female.

Column 5 (Race).—Enter race as white, negro, Chinese, Japanese, Filipino, Indian, Korean, Hindu, Asiatic Indian, Mexican, Spanish, Spanish American, Cuban, Puerto Rican, Central American, South American, West Indian (except Cuban), Portuguese, Armenian, Russian, Finnish, Scandinavian, Greek, Syrian, Arabian, Turkish, Palestinian, Bulgarian, Serbian, Montenegrin, Croatian, Slovenian, Dalmatian, Herzegovinian, Bosnian, Rumanian, Albanian, Lithuanian, Latvian, Esthonian, Czechoslovak, Ruthenian, Polish, Moravian, Slovak, Hebrew, Gypsy, or other race to which the alien belongs. Do not use the word "Oriental" or "Latin."

Column 7 (Married or single).—Enter the word married, single, widowed, or divorced, as the case may be.

Column 8 (Occupation).—(a) Profession, specialty, or occupation of persons 10 years of age and over. Enter "None" for children under 10 years of age. Enter occupation of persons 10 years of age and over, even though unemployed. Occupation should be entered as clearly as possible, so that the character of work in which the alien is engaged may be definitely known. LIST OR MANIFEST OF ALIENS EMPLOYED ON THE VESSEL AS MEMBERS OF CREW

Pursuant to section 2 of the Act of March 4, 1915, as amended by the Act of May 10, 1920, and section 10 of the Act of May 26, 1924, this list or manifest must be delivered to the immigration officer at the first port of arrival in the United States at which the vessel shall arrive, and a duplicate thereof must be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of departure from the United States at which the vessel shall depart with respect to any alien employed on board. Any master or agent of any vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver such list or manifest to the immigration officer at any port of arrival or departure, or who refuses or neglects to detain any alien on board as required by law, or who refuses or neglects to deliver to the immigration officer at any port of departure a true list or manifest of the persons employed on board such vessel and required by law to be listed or manifested by the master, or who refuses or neglects to report, or who makes any false report, or who refuses or neglects to pay the tax imposed by law in connection with any such alien, or who refuses or neglects to perform any other requirement imposed upon him by law in connection with the departure of any such alien, or who violates any of the provisions of the immigration laws, shall be subject to a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien in respect to whom any such violation occurs.

Note.—Failure to furnish full or correct information in columns (2), (8), (7), and (8) may be punished by a fine of not more than two dollars for each alien. See other side.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list of races and peoples before which the master of a vessel is required to report, under section 30 of the United States immigration law of February 20, 1907, is intended to indicate the various races which are commonly known as belonging to certain countries or parts of countries. It is not to be considered as containing the names of all countries or parts of countries, but only of those which, from the large number of immigrants coming therefrom, are entitled to be specially mentioned. The master will be required to report the race or people of each alien coming on board his vessel at any port in a foreign country, whether such country is specifically named in the list or not, and he will be required to report the race or people of each alien coming on board his vessel at any port in the United States, whether such port is specifically named in the list or not. The term "race or people" is to be construed in a broad and comprehensive sense. For example, citizens of the United States coming from Germany should be reported as Germans, citizens of the United States coming from Ireland should be reported as Irish, and citizens of the United States coming from Wales should be reported as Welsh. Immigrants coming from countries not specifically named in the list should be reported as belonging to the race or people to which they belong, as Canadian, Australian, Brazilian, Chilean, Portuguese, Spanish American, Central American, Mexican, Arabian, Persian, Siberian, Asiatic Turkish, African (black), African (white), Polynesian, Philippine, Cuban, West Indian, Scandinavian, Finnish, Bohemian, Moravian, Slovak, Slovenian, Croatian, Servian, Dalmatian, Montenegrin, Bulgarian, Roumanian, Ruthenian, Lithuanian, Polish, Russian, Hebrew, Dutch, Flemish, Belgian, Swiss, Spanish, Portuguese, French, German, Greek, Italian (north), Italian (south), Welsh, Irish, Scotch, English, Syrian, Armenian, Turkish, Egyptian, Japanese, Chinese, Korean, Hindu, East Indian, Pacific Islander, Hawaiian, Filipino, Mexican, Negro, Indian, Magyar, Finn, Lapp, Gypsy, Hottentot, Kaffir, Zulu, Abyssinian, Moorish, Berber, Kabyle, Tuareg, Riffian, Soudanese, Nubian, Ethiopian, Somali

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector at the port of arrival not less than twenty-four hours before the vessel is due to arrive at such port. The list of aliens on board shall be numbered consecutively, and the number to be given to each alien shall be entered in the first column of the list, on the line containing the name of such alien. The remaining columns of the list shall be completed as indicated, the entries being made in the order in which the columns are arranged, so far as practicable. If any of the information required as to any alien is unknown or cannot be obtained, the reason therefor shall be stated. The list or manifest prepared from the record kept at the time of inspection of each alien may be used if it contains all the information required by this section.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

That the list showing below cited to whereas on which I have signed by the Inspectors, and to which I refer as forming part of this certificate, is correct in every particular, and contains the name of every person who has been shipped or engaged on board the vessel mentioned in this certificate, or who has been on board the vessel during the voyage, or who has been transferred from or to this vessel at any port or place, and that no other person has been shipped or engaged on board the vessel mentioned in this certificate, or has been on board the vessel during the voyage, or has been transferred from or to this vessel at any port or place, without my having reported the same to the Inspectors of Immigration at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the port of destination in the United States.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 38. That no alien seeking admission to the United States may land at any port or place in the United States from a vessel arriving from a foreign port or from any port in the possessions of the United States, unless in possession of a valid passport as prescribed by the rules and regulations governing the granting of passports by the country of which he is a subject or citizen or by which he was last nationalized, or by such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the President: Provided, That nothing in this section shall be construed to apply to aliens passing in transit through the United States under such limited privileges as may be authorized by treaty or law or such executive regulations as may be made in pursuance thereof: Provided further, That nothing in this section shall be construed to apply to an alien who has been lawfully admitted to the United States and who shall have applied for an immigrant visa in the country to which he returns within six months from the date of his departure from the United States: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the application of this section to aliens coming for a temporary stay, under such conditions as he may prescribe, and may limit the admission of such aliens to certain ports of entry.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 6

That officers may be granted leave of absence by the Commissioner of Immigration in charge of the district in which they are serving, not exceeding thirty days in any one year, but no such leave shall be granted except in case of sickness or urgent necessity, and in no case when the services of the officer can be spared with detriment to the service.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

SEC. 10. No alien seaman described in section 3 hereof who arrives at a port of the United States after the passage of this Act shall be admitted to the United States unless he shall establish to the satisfaction of the immigration officer at the port of arrival that he is in possession of a valid immigration visa, duly viséed by a consular officer, except that a seaman may be granted a temporary permit to enter the United States solely in pursuance of his calling as a seaman and solely to obtain treatment for a specific illness or injury which is certified by the examining surgeon to be of such character that treatment cannot be obtained during the period of the seaman's expected stay in the United States on board his vessel or at a hospital to which he is certified by the examining surgeon to be admissible under this Act, and which illness or injury is specifically described in such certificate. Such permit shall be granted only upon the condition that the seaman shall depart on the vessel on which he arrived or on some other vessel, and that if he fails to depart on such vessel or within such time as may be allowed by the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival or by the Secretary of Labor, he shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 hereof. Such permit may be granted only upon the recommendation of a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, if there be such an officer at the port of arrival, and if there be no such officer at such port, then upon the recommendation of a medical officer of the United States Army, Navy, or Public Health Service detailed by the Secretary of Labor upon the request of the master or agent of the vessel on which the seaman arrives. Such permit may be granted for a period not to exceed the period certified by the examining surgeon as necessary for the treatment of the illness or injury, plus a period not to exceed five days, and may be revoked by the Secretary of Labor at any time. Such permit shall not be granted to more than one seaman on the vessel on which he arrives, but every seaman to whom such permit is granted shall be entered on the ship's articles and shall be identified in such manner as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of an alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, but who cannot be landed under this Act, will result in undue hardship to the master or owner of the vessel, or cause undue delay to the vessel, the Secretary of Labor may grant a temporary permit to such alien seaman to enter the United States for such period of time and under such conditions as he may prescribe for the purpose of obtaining a substitute for such alien seaman, and as to all seamen arriving in the United States prior to the enactment of this Act.

SEC. 36. That every alien arriving at any seaport in the United States from any foreign port or any port in the Canal Zone, or in the district of Alaska, Porto Rico, or the Virgin Islands, or arriving at any land border port of the United States, who is not in possession of a valid immigrant visa or who is not within the provisions of section 3 of this Act, or who may not be admitted under section 4 of this Act, or who is afflicted with any of the mental or physical defects or diseases specified in section 3 of this Act, or who is found to be an anarchist, or who believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States, or of all forms of law, or who disbelieves in or is opposed to organized government, or who advocates or who is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining, advocating, or teaching the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States, or of all forms of law, or who disbelieves in or is opposed to organized government, or who advocates or who is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining, advocating, or teaching the duty, necessity, or propriety of the unlawful assaulting or killing of any officer or officers, either of specific individuals or of officers generally, of the Government of the United States or of any other organized government, because of his or their official character, or who advocates or teaches the unlawful destruction of property, or who is a polygamist, or who practices polygamy or believes in the practice of polygamy, or who is coming to practice polygamy, or who has been convicted of or admits the commission of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or who is an idiot, imbecile, feebleminded person, or epileptic, or who is insane at the time of the arrival of the alien but who was not insane during the five years previous, or who has had two or more attacks of insanity at any time previously, or who is a person who has been insane within five years previous and whose disease has been arrested but who, in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor, is likely to become insane again, or who is afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, or who is not a person who can read the English language or some other language or dialect, including Hebrew or Yiddish: Provided, That nothing herein shall exclude, or authorize the exclusion of, any alien because of his religious beliefs, but no alien shall be admitted who disbelieves in or is opposed to organized government, or who advocates or who is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining, advocating, or teaching the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States, or of all forms of law, or who advocates or who is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining, advocating, or teaching the duty, necessity, or propriety of the unlawful assaulting or killing of any officer or officers, either of specific individuals or of officers generally, of the Government of the United States or of any other organized government, because of his or their official character, or who advocates or teaches the unlawful destruction of property; and no alien coming to perform labor shall be admitted if it is determined by the Secretary of Labor that the admission of such alien will tend to the displacement of laborers already employed, or that the condition of the class of labor into which he seeks to enter is such that the admission of such alien will be detrimental to the interests of the United States, or that he is coming pursuant to any contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia: Provided, That the provisions of this section to the extent that they relate to persons who believe in or advocate or who are members of or affiliated with any organization that believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States, or of all forms of law, or who disbelieve in or are opposed to organized government, or who advocate the unlawful destruction of property, shall not apply to persons seeking admission to the United States solely for the purpose of escaping from persecution because of race, religion, or political opinions, or because they are members of a race which is persecuted because of such membership, when such persons are otherwise admissible under the provisions of this Act.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 6

PAR. 6. Commutation shall be granted only upon proof that the head tax required by Section 36 above has been collected, and that the alien has been in the United States for at least 1 year immediately preceding his application for naturalization.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman who shall have been admitted into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or adjacent islands, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for emergency hospital treatment, or for burial, or for such period of time as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, and no alien seaman shall be granted a landing permit to go ashore under the provisions of section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1917 unless and until the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel on which he arrived shall have given a bond to the United States in such amount as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, not exceeding $1,000, conditioned that such alien seaman will depart from the United States on a vessel of the same line on which he arrived, or on some other vessel which may be designated by the Secretary of Labor, and that he will not become a public charge. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers until the master, agent, owner, or consignee thereof has complied with the provisions of this section. Any vessel which shall have been granted clearance papers may be detained by any customs officer until the provisions of this section have been complied with. Any master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which such vessel arrives a penalty of $300 for each alien seaman with respect to whom such master, agent, owner, or consignee shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section, and such penalty shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by libel in the district court of the United States for the district in which the vessel may arrive. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, refund any penalty or portion thereof paid pursuant to the provisions of this section which, in his opinion, is remitted, mitigated, or should not have been collected.

The Commissioner-General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, shall prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this section, and may employ such additional inspectors at such ports as may be necessary to enforce the provisions of this section. Such additional inspectors shall be appointed, and their compensation fixed, in accordance with the civil-service laws and regulations.

The Commissioner-General of Immigration shall furnish to the Secretary of State for transmission to the consular officers, and to the commissioners of immigration at such ports as he may designate, lists containing the names of masters, agents, owners, and consignees of vessels who have complied with the provisions of this section, and the Secretary of State shall furnish such lists to the consular officers at the ports designated by the Commissioner-General of Immigration.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to amend, repeal, impair, or affect any existing treaty obligations of the United States.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival. Each list of a number of pages shall contain the name of the vessel, and the number of each page. Attach to the list the certificate of the master required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of February 5, 1917.

(68) Each list so received on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate destination is noted, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of vessels at the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or commander thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on board said vessel, stating the occupations they respectively label in the alpha countries, upon and where they were respectively eligible to engage, and the respective ports at which they engaged it shall be the duty of said master, owner, agent, consignee, or commander of any such vessel to which an immigrant inspector may be assigned at the port of arrival, or who may be designated by the Secretary of Labor to go on board, to go on board for the purpose of inspecting said vessel and the passengers and crew thereon before the departure of such vessel from such port, and it shall be the duty of said master, owner, agent, consignee, or commander of any such vessel to which an immigrant inspector may be assigned to detain said vessel at the port of arrival until completion of the inspection of the passengers and crew, unless sooner released or landed: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, permit the departure of any such vessel before the inspection of the passengers and crew is completed, upon the filing with the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival of a bond in the penal sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom certain data are not furnished, or a sum sufficient to cover such data.

That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 5

PAR. 5. Clearance shall not be granted via coast wise from the port named, and not then unless, prior to the expiration of the duration of the vessel's license to the satisfaction of the collector of customs at the port of departure, the master, owner, agent, consignee, or commander thereof shall have delivered to the collector of customs a certificate issued by the Secretary of Labor to the effect that the master, owner, agent, consignee, or commander has complied with the provisions of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, in relation to the shipment of aliens who may be employed on board such vessel during her coast wise navigation.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman admitted from a foreign port to the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving at a seaport of the United States from any foreign contiguous territory or adjacent islands, or proceeding from one seaport to another seaport in the United States, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or emergency requiring his removal from the vessel, unless the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival is satisfied that the proper consular officer of the country to which the alien seaman belongs has been informed of the contemplated action, and has not then notified the immigration officer that the alien seaman is not entitled to admission under the immigration laws, or unless a bond in the penal sum of $300 with sufficient surety is given for the return of the alien seaman on board or to the custody of the master of the vessel on which he arrived, or on board or to the custody of the master of some other vessel of the same line, or of the agent of the line, within a period of time to be fixed by the Secretary of Labor, not exceeding five days, sufficient to enable the master, owner, agent, consignee, or commander of the vessel on board or to the custody of the master of which the alien seaman arrived to secure a certificate from the proper consular officer of the country to which the alien seaman belongs that he has been informed of the contemplated action, and has not then notified the immigration officer that the alien seaman is not entitled to admission under the immigration laws, except that the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, permit the departure of any such vessel before the inspection of the passengers and crew is completed, upon the filing with the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival of a bond in the penal sum of $10,000 for each alien concerning whom certain data are not furnished, or a sum sufficient to cover such fine. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs to any foreign port or place while any alien seaman who has arrived at a port of the United States on board thereof remains thereon or has been taken therefrom, except temporarily for the purposes of medical treatment, injury, or emergency, or because of illness, without the permission of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, or who may be designated by the Secretary of Labor to go on board, to go on board for the purpose of inspecting said vessel and the passengers and crew thereon before the departure of such vessel from such port, and it shall be the duty of said master, owner, agent, consignee, or commander of any such vessel to which an immigrant inspector may be assigned to detain said vessel at the port of arrival until completion of the inspection of the passengers and crew, unless sooner released or landed: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, permit the departure of any such vessel before the inspection of the passengers and crew is completed, upon the filing with the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival of a bond in the penal sum of $10,000 for each alien concerning whom certain data are not furnished, or a sum sufficient to cover such fine. Every alien seaman admitted temporarily to the United States under the provisions of this section shall be deported in the same manner as provided in the case of other aliens illegally in the United States at the time of their deportation.

(b) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that deportation of any alien seaman who is a member of the crew of any vessel arriving at the ports of the United States will result in hardship or injury to the business of the line on which he arrived, he may, in his discretion, transfer such alien seaman to the vessel of the same line on which he arrived, or to any vessel of the same company, or to any vessel which relieves it, bringing to the United States an alien seaman of like character entitled to return to the country to which the alien seaman sought to be deported.

(c) It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation, or any agent thereof, or any owner, master, or commanding officer of any vessel to bring to the United States any alien seaman who has been refused a landing permit by the Secretary of Labor, and any such person, firm, or corporation, or any agent thereof, or any owner, master, or commanding officer of any vessel bringing any such alien seaman to the United States shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien seaman so brought, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(d) Except that as otherwise provided in this section, the master of any vessel who refuses or neglects to deport any alien seaman specified in this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien seaman, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien seaman on any vessel of a nation which refuses to accept back any alien seaman who has been refused a landing permit by the Secretary of Labor cannot be effected, he may cause the deportation of such alien seaman to be effected on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance papers until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(f) Section 33 of the Immigration Act of 1917 is repealed, but shall remain in force as to all seamen, theretofore admitted, with respect to their deportation.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival then contained the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and absolutely refuse to go on board, and the master of such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing as soon as discovered, all cases in which such alien has illegally landed from such vessel. Before a certificate of inspection and sailing, together with such information likely to lead to the apprehension and deportation of any such alien, forfeit the sum of $10 for each and every alien employed on board at the time of the arrival of such vessel and not reported as aforesaid, and before the master of such vessel shall be entitled to a clearance from the collector of customs he shall produce to such collector a certificate from the proper immigration officer that all the provisions of this section have been complied with. Any person who will knowingly brings into the United States from any foreign port any alien not duly certified by the proper immigration officer at the port of departure, or who shall refuse to return any alien deported from the United States to the port from which he came, or who shall refuse to pay the head tax imposed by this act on account of any such alien, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 and by imprisonment not exceeding one year: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, permit any such alien to land temporarily during a period not exceeding one year, under such bond as he may require, without being deemed to have landed or entered the United States within the meaning of this act.

(a) The master, owner, agent, consignee, charterer, or owner pro hac vice of any vessel bringing an alien who is not in possession of an unexpired immigration visa, or other document specified in section 3 of this act, or who is not in possession of a valid passport viséed by an American consular officer, where a passport is required by section 4 of this act, or who is not in possession of a valid certificate of identity issued by the Secretary of Labor, where such certificate is required by section 6 of this act, shall be liable to a penalty of $200 for each such alien, and no vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the liability of the person charged with the payment of said penalty, or while the alien remains on board, unless security is furnished to the satisfaction of the collector of customs in the sum of $300 for each such alien, conditioned upon the return of such alien to a foreign port within four months from the date of the bringing of such alien to the United States, if he be excluded and returned within such period of time. Such penalty shall be remitted or refunded only upon certificate of the Secretary of Labor that such alien was duly landed at a port of the United States and not returned thereto within four months from the date of such landing, or that such alien was prevented from so returning by reason of his detention for the purposes of any criminal prosecution, or by reason of sickness or other cause found by the Secretary of Labor to constitute such alien a public charge, and that his decision is final.

(b) Any master, owner, agent, consignee, charterer, or owner pro hac vice of any vessel bringing an alien who is not in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa, or other document specified in section 3 of this act, or who is not in possession of a valid passport viséed by an American consular officer, where a passport is required by section 4 of this act, or who is not in possession of a valid certificate of identity issued by the Secretary of Labor, where such certificate is required by section 6 of this act, shall be liable to a penalty of $200 for each such alien, and no vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the liability of the person charged with the payment of said penalty, or while the alien remains on board, unless security is furnished to the satisfaction of the collector of customs in the sum of $300 for each such alien, conditioned upon the return of such alien to a foreign port within four months from the date of such landing, or that such alien was prevented from so returning by reason of his detention for the purposes of any criminal prosecution, or by reason of sickness or other cause found by the Secretary of Labor to constitute such alien a public charge, and that his decision is final.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall not have rendered a decision in such case within four months after the date of such landing of such alien, or if such alien was prevented from returning within such period of time by reason of the pendency of any such criminal prosecution, or by reason of such sickness or other cause found by the Secretary of Labor to constitute such alien a public charge, then the bond shall be void and shall be canceled; but otherwise it shall be in full force and effect.

(d) Every alien who shall depart from the continental territory of the United States, or from any island possession thereof, or from the District of Alaska, to any foreign country, shall be required before departure to obtain from the Secretary of Labor a certificate of identity, which shall be issued only upon application therefor, in person, by such alien, and upon such proof of his identity and of his right to return to the United States as may be required by regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Every such alien who shall depart without obtaining such certificate of identity shall be deemed to be unlawfully in the United States within the meaning of section 19 of this act, and shall be subject to the penalties prescribed in that section against aliens unlawfully in the United States. Every such alien who shall depart or attempt to depart from the continental territory of the United States, or from any island possession thereof, or from the District of Alaska, to any foreign country, without obtaining such certificate of identity, and every master, owner, agent, charterer, or owner pro hac vice of any vessel which shall carry away from the United States any such alien without such certificate of identity, shall be liable to a penalty of $200 for each such alien, and no vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the payment of such penalty, or while such alien remains on board, unless security is furnished to the satisfaction of the collector of customs in the sum of $300 for each such alien, conditioned upon the return of such alien to the United States within four months from the date of such departure, or that such alien was prevented from so returning by reason of his detention for the purposes of any criminal prosecution, or by reason of sickness or other cause found by the Secretary of Labor to constitute such alien a public charge, and that his decision is final.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor shall not have rendered a decision in such case within four months after the date of such departure of such alien, or if such alien was prevented from returning within such period of time by reason of the pendency of any such criminal prosecution, or by reason of such sickness or other cause found by the Secretary of Labor to constitute such alien a public charge, then the bond shall be void and shall be canceled; but otherwise it shall be in full force and effect.

(f) Any person who knowingly aids or assists any such alien to depart from the United States to any foreign country in violation of the provisions of this act, or who knowingly harbors any such alien who has departed or who has attempted to depart from the United States in violation of the provisions of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both.

(g) Section 33 of the Immigration Act of 1917 is repealed, but shall remain in force as to all causes, rights, offenses, and proceedings now pending under said section, or which may be instituted for violations committed prior to the date of the taking effect of this act.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospitalization, or because of sickness or injury requiring his removal, unless certified by the Secretary of Labor as not coming within any of the classes of aliens excluded by law.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any port in contiguous territory or adjacent islands shall before any alien seaman employed on such vessel shall land temporarily, be examined by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and in addition to any other examination of such seaman as may be required by law, such seaman shall be required to sign and deliver to such immigration officer at the port of arrival a declaration under oath, in duplicate, on a form prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, stating whether it is intended that such seaman shall depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived or shall depart therefrom on some other vessel or by some other means, and whether he has in his possession or has obtained a passport viséed by an American consular officer. Such declaration may be required at any time prior to the departure of such seaman from the United States, and a like declaration may be required of any alien seaman who has been permitted to land temporarily, at any time prior to the departure of such seaman from the United States. Any alien seaman who shall fail or refuse to make such declaration, or who shall make a false statement therein, shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of this act, and in addition thereto shall be fined not more than $500 or imprisoned for not more than one year, or both.

(b) Any alien seaman who shall depart from the United States without having obtained a passport viséed by an American consular officer, where a passport is required by section 4 of this act, or who is not in possession of a valid certificate of identity issued by the Secretary of Labor, where such certificate is required by section 6 of this act, shall be liable to a penalty of $200, and no vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the payment of such penalty or while such alien remains on board, unless security is furnished to the satisfaction of the collector of customs in the sum of $300 conditioned upon the return of such alien to the United States within four months from the date of such departure, or that such alien was prevented from so returning by reason of his detention for the purposes of any criminal prosecution, or by reason of sickness or other cause found by the Secretary of Labor to constitute such alien a public charge, and that his decision is final.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall not have rendered a decision in such case within four months after the date of such departure of such alien, or if such alien was prevented from returning within such period of time by reason of the pendency of any such criminal prosecution, or by reason of such sickness or other cause found by the Secretary of Labor to constitute such alien a public charge, then the bond shall be void and shall be canceled; but otherwise it shall be in full force and effect.

(d) Section 33 of the Immigration Act of 1917 is repealed, but shall remain in force as to all causes, rights, offenses, and proceedings now pending under said section, or which may be instituted for violations committed prior to the date of the taking effect of this act.

(Section 23 of the Act of February 5, 1917.)

The boards who are called to meet on the days fixed by the Secretary of Labor for the hearing of appeals from the decisions of the boards of special inquiry shall consist of three members, namely, a commissioner of immigration, a medical officer, and a third officer, who shall be appointed by the Secretary of Labor. The boards shall have authority to determine the rules of procedure to be followed in the hearing of appeals from the decisions of the boards of special inquiry. They shall have authority to affirm, reverse, or modify any decision of the boards of special inquiry. They shall have authority to order the admission of aliens who have been excluded by boards of special inquiry. They shall have authority to order the deportation of aliens who have been admitted if such aliens are found to have been at the time of entry within any of the classes excluded by law. They shall have authority to recommend to the Secretary of Labor the cancellation of certificates in cases where fraud or misrepresentation was practiced or attempted by the alien or other persons in connection with the application for a certificate. They shall have authority to take testimony concerning any matter within the jurisdiction of the board upon the request of the Secretary of Labor or upon the request of the commissioner of immigration in charge of any port. They shall have authority to administer oaths, to examine witnesses, to receive evidence, and to perform such duties as may be required by the Secretary of Labor in the administration of the immigration laws. They shall have authority to require the production of books, papers, and documents, and to issue subpœnas for the attendance of witnesses and the production of documentary evidence. They shall have authority to invoke the aid of any court of the United States in requiring the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of books, papers, and documents. Any person who shall neglect or refuse to attend and testify, or to produce any books, papers, or documents, as required by any such subpœna, or who shall refuse to answer any question authorized by this section to be asked by the board, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction in any district court of the United States shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. The boards shall have authority to administer oaths and take evidence touching the privilege of any alien or any person claiming the right to remain in the United States to enter, reenter, pass through, or reside in the United States, or concerning any matter which is material and relevant to the enforcement of this act and the admission, detention, or deportation of any alien or the collection of any head tax or penalty imposed by this act. Such boards shall have authority to require by subpœna the attendance and testimony of witnesses before said boards concerning the right of any alien to enter, reenter, pass through, or reside in the United States, and concerning any matter which is material and relevant to the enforcement of this act and the admission, detention, or deportation of any alien or the collection of any head tax or penalty imposed by this act, and to that end may invoke the aid of any court of the United States. Such boards shall have authority to administer oaths to witnesses appearing before them and to require witnesses to testify; and every person who shall knowingly give false testimony in relation to any matter under consideration before any board of special inquiry shall be guilty of perjury and upon conviction shall be punished accordingly. Such boards shall have authority to require the production of books, papers, and documents touching the right of any alien to enter, reenter, pass through, or reside in the United States, or touching any matter which is material and relevant to the enforcement of this act and the admission, detention, or deportation of any alien or the collection of any head tax or penalty imposed by this act, and to that end may invoke the aid of any court of the United States. Such boards shall have authority to administer oaths to witnesses appearing before them and to require witnesses to testify; and every person who shall knowingly give false testimony in relation to any matter under consideration before any board of special inquiry shall be guilty of perjury and upon conviction shall be punished accordingly. Such boards shall have authority to require the production of books, papers, and documents touching the right of any alien to enter, reenter, pass through, or reside in the United States, or touching any matter which is material and relevant to the enforcement of this act and the admission, detention, or deportation of any alien or the collection of any head tax or penalty imposed by this act, and to that end may invoke the aid of any court of the United States.

(Section 25 of the Act of February 5, 1917.)

The term "United States," when used in a geographical sense, includes the Canal Zone, Porto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Hawaii, and Alaska, but does not include the Philippine Islands, Tutuila, or any other possession of the United States.

(Section 11 (A) of the Act of February 5, 1917.)

Every alien, including those in transit through the United States, shall be inspected by the immigrant inspectors at the port of arrival, and such aliens may be detained for that purpose for a period not exceeding two days, exclusive of Sundays and holidays, unless the Secretary of Labor shall extend the time in individual cases.

(Section 16 of the Act of February 5, 1917.)

Every alien who is excluded by the boards of special inquiry shall be deported as provided by law, unless an appeal is taken from the decision of the board to the proper appellate board within three days, exclusive of Sundays and holidays, after the decision of the board appealed from is rendered. No alien whose case is pending before a board of special inquiry or the appellate board shall be deported or allowed to land or enter, pending the decision in his case, except upon the written permission of the Secretary of Labor or such person as he may designate for the purpose.

(Section 17 of the Act of February 5, 1917.)

Every alien who comes to the United States by water, whether entering the country at a seaport or not, shall be examined before he lands, and for this purpose the vessel upon which he arrives shall be detained at the port of arrival or removed to such other port as the Secretary of Labor may direct until the examination is completed, unless sooner released by the Secretary of Labor or his authorized agent. Such detention shall not exceed five days, exclusive of Sundays and holidays, except in cases specially certified by the Secretary of Labor to the collector of customs as requiring further detention. Pending the examination, the vessel shall be properly safeguarded, and no person shall be allowed to leave the vessel except for the purpose of examination or by special permission of the immigrant inspector in charge. The cost of such detention and safeguarding shall be borne by the owners of the vessel, and a lien for the payment of such cost is hereby imposed upon the vessel, which may be enforced by libel in any district court of the United States within the district in which the vessel may be found.

(Section 18 of the Act of February 5, 1917.)

Any person, including any transportation company, bringing an alien to the United States who is afflicted with any of the mental or physical defects or diseases specified in clauses (1), (2), (3), and (4) of section 2 of this act, or who brings an alien who has come in violation of any of the provisions of this act, shall be required to take back to the country whence he came any such alien who may be excluded and deported within one year after his entry into the United States, the cost of such deportation to be borne by the person or company bringing such alien to the United States. Any person, including any transportation company, bringing an alien to the United States who is afflicted with any of the mental or physical defects or diseases specified in clauses (1), (2), (3), and (4) of section 2 of this act, or who brings an alien who has come in violation of any of the provisions of this act, shall be required to take back to the country whence he came any such alien who may be excluded and deported within one year after his entry into the United States, the cost of such deportation to be borne by the person or company bringing such alien to the United States.

(Section 20 of the Act of February 5, 1917.)

Any person, including any transportation company, who shall bring to a port of the United States any alien afflicted with any of the mental or physical defects or diseases specified in clauses (1), (2), (3), and (4) of section 2 of this act, or who brings an alien who has come in violation of any of the provisions of this act, shall be required to take back to the country whence he came any such alien who may be excluded and deported within one year after his entry into the United States, the cost of such deportation to be borne by the person or company bringing such alien to the United States.

(Section 21 of the Act of February 5, 1917.)

Do not enter merely "Laborer," "Clerk," or "Servant" without specifying the character of labor performed, as "Laborer, coal mine," "Clerk, dry goods store," "Servant, cook," etc.

Column 7 (Nationality).—Enter the country of which the person named is a citizen or subject.

Column 8 (Nationality).—Question 8 should be construed to mean the country of which the person named is a citizen or subject.

Column 9 (Race or people).—See list of races printed on back of this sheet. The question should show the race or people as given in said list.

Column 10 (Last permanent residence before coming to the United States).—Enter the country of which the person named has been a permanent resident immediately before coming to the United States. Mere sojourning in a country for a short time, as for pleasure, travel, study, or business, does not constitute permanent residence. Do not enter "Europe," "America," "Asia," "Africa," "Australia," "West Indies," or "South America" unless the person named has resided permanently throughout the whole country or continent.

Column 11 (Name of city, town, or village).—Enter the name of the city, town, or village in which the person named has had a permanent residence. If it is impossible to obtain the name of the city, town, or village, enter the name of the province, county, or other political subdivision.

Column 12 (Destination in the United States).—Enter the name of the city, town, or village in the United States to which the person named is destined. If destined to a relative, friend, or other person, enter the name, relationship, and complete address of such relative, friend, or other person.

Column 13 (Final destination, if not to the United States).—Enter the name of the country of which the person named intends to become a permanent resident, if not the United States.

Column 14 (Whether ticket is through to destination).—Answer "Yes" or "No."

Column 15 (Whether in possession of $50 or more, and how much).—Answer "Yes" or "No." If "Yes," the amount need not be stated.

Column 16 (Whether going to join a relative or friend, and if so, what relative or friend, and his name and complete address).

Column 17 (Whether ever before in the United States, and if so, when and where).

Column 18 (Whether ever before refused admission to the United States or deported, and if so, when and why).—The master should write "Yes" or "No" in answer to this question.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFEST

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States, regardless of sovereignty. Manifests prepared on separate manifests must be numbered consecutively. The names of all persons included on each manifest must be arranged in the order of their numbers. Each page must be numbered consecutively, beginning with number 1. The names of all members of a family should be entered on consecutive lines, and the relationship of each member to the head of the family should be shown. Infants must be entered on the same line as the parents or other adult members of the family to which they belong.

Columns 1 (Last name).—Surname (family name) should be entered in this column.

Column 2 (First name).—The given name in full should be entered in this column.

Column 3 (Middle name).—The middle name should be entered in this column. If the person has no middle name, a cross (×) should be made in this column.

Column 4 (Age).—The person's age in full years should be entered in this column. If under 1 year, the age should be stated in months.

Column 5 (Sex).—Write "male" or "female," or "M." or "F." as the case may be.

Column 6 (Married or single).—Write "married," "single," "widowed," or "divorced," or "M." or "S." or "W." or "D." as the case may be.

Column 7 (Occupation).—The occupation should be entered as follows: Professional persons should state their profession, as "physician," "lawyer," "engineer," "clergyman," "author," "musician," "actor," "actress," "editor," "journalist," "teacher," "professor," etc. Persons having no occupation, such as housewives, children, and persons living on their income, should be returned as "none." Laborers should not be returned simply as "laborer" or "factory worker," but should specify the particular kind of labor performed, as "agricultural laborer," "cotton planter," "stevedore," "longshoreman," "miner," "factory worker," "weaver," "spinner," "dressmaker," "milliner," "mason," "bricklayer," "carpenter," "painter," "blacksmith," "machinist," "locomotive engineer," "fireman," "conductor," "section hand," etc. Farmers, stock raisers, planters, ranchmen, and persons working on farms should be returned as such, specifying whether they own, hire, or work on shares. Persons formerly engaged in any occupation, but incapacitated by age or other cause, should be returned as "retired."

Column 8 (Nationality).—Write the country to which each person belongs. Care should be taken to distinguish between persons born in Great Britain and those born in Ireland, and between persons born in Austria and those born in Hungary, Bohemia, Galicia, Poland, etc. Persons born in Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Porto Rico, China, Japan, and other countries should be returned as natives of those countries, and not as natives of the United States.

Column 9 (Race or people).—Write "white," "negro," "Chinese," "Japanese," "Hindu," "East Indian," "Korean," "Filipino," "Indian," "Spanish," "Spanish-American," "Mexican," "Cuban," "Porto Rican," "Central American," "South American," "Polish," "Russian," "Finnish," "Bohemian," "Slovak," "Hebrew," "Scandinavian," "Dutch," "Flemish," "Lithuanian," "Croatian," "Servian," "Bulgarian," "Roumanian," "Greek," "Italian," "Portuguese," "Ruthenian," "Turkish," "Armenian," "Syrian," "Arabic," "Magyar," "Basque," "Welsh," "Scotch," "Irish," "English," "French," "German," "Swiss," "Dutch," "Flemish," "Belgian," "Spanish," "Portuguese," "Italian," "Roumanian," "Greek," "Russian," "Polish," "Finnish," "Bohemian," "Slovak," "Lithuanian," "Croatian," "Servian," "Bulgar

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States, according to sections applicable immediately and subsequently. Use the manifest prescribed by the Immigration Act of 1924; but also passengers arriving in the United States from foreign contiguous territory are required by the Immigration Act of 1924 to be manifested. The names of all members of a family should be entered consecutively. Be careful to show which names belong to each family. Each alien must be listed on the proper manifest, whether he is destined to the United States or to a foreign country. Each alien arriving at a port of the United States must be listed on the manifest prepared at the port of embarkation, whether in transit through the United States or destined to a point within the United States. Each alien departing from the United States must be listed on the manifest prepared at the port of departure, whether he departs for a foreign country or for a possession of the United States. Each alien departing from Hawaii for the United States must be listed on the manifest prepared at the port of departure, whether he departs for the United States or for a foreign country. Each alien departing from Puerto Rico for the United States must be listed on the manifest prepared at the port of departure, whether he departs for the United States or for a foreign country. Each alien departing from the Virgin Islands of the United States for the United States must be listed on the manifest prepared at the port of departure, whether he departs for the United States or for a foreign country.

Columns 1 (Last name) to 5 (Sex).—Alphabetize names according to the first letter of the family name, and write the last name first, then the given names in full, in the order customarily used by the alien. Do not abbreviate names. Do not use initials for any part of the name. Be careful to show the sex correctly.

Column 6 (Age).—Write the age of the alien at his last birthday before the sailing of the vessel. If under 1 year of age, write the number of months, as "6 mos.", "11 mos.", etc.

Column 7 (Married or single).—Use the word "married" or "single" or the abbreviation "M." or "S." as appropriate to show whether the alien is married or single.

Column 8 (Calling or occupation).—Use only words appearing in the Department's Immigrant Classification List. Enter the occupation which the alien has followed for the longer period of his life. Do not enter such occupations as "laborer," "servant," "clerk," "student," "housewife," "child," "none," or "unemployed." Entries such as "engineer," "mechanic," "farmer," "merchant," "manufacturer," "dressmaker," "professor," "physician," "nurse," "clergyman," "author," "editor," "musician," "actor," "actress," "lawyer," "chemist," "accountant," "stenographer," "bookkeeper," "clerk," "salesman," "saleswoman," "agent," "barber," "hairdresser," "tailor," "seamstress," "baker," "butcher," "miner," "weaver," "painter," "decorator," "plasterer," "bricklayer," "carpenter," "cabinetmaker," "machinist," "blacksmith," "tinsmith," "plumber," "printer," "pressman," "locksmith," "jeweler," "watchmaker," "engraver," "upholsterer," "shoemaker," "butcher," "cook," "waiter," "waitress," "housekeeper," "laundress," "launderer," "presser," "fireman," "sailor," "longshoreman," "teamster," "chauffeur," "driver," "gardener," "horseman," "soldier," "policeman," "guard," "watchman," "janitor," "housework," "housekeeping," "housewife," "housewifery," "housework," "housekeeping," "housewife," "housewifery," "housework," "housekeeping," "housewife," "housewifery

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms supplied by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration officer at the port immediately upon the vessel's arrival at the port of entry. The list or manifest required to be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival must be signed by the master or commanding officer of the vessel, and his signature must be verified by his oath administered by the said immigration officer or by some other officer designated by the Secretary of the Treasury for the purpose. Any person who knowingly makes a false statement in the said list or manifest as to the name, nationality, last residence, or destination of any alien, or who refuses to subscribe and verify the said list or manifest when required so to do, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 6, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel at the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, commanding officer, or agent of such vessel, and of the owner thereof who may be present at the port of arrival, to deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival lists containing a correct manifest of all aliens, including those in the cabin, who are on board such vessel, and which shall be prepared at the time of embarkation at the last port of foreign departure, or place where such aliens may be transferred to the vessel or vessels by which they are to be brought to the United States, in such form and manner as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and to have such lists or manifests duly verified by the oath of the master or commanding officer, or the first or second officer of the vessel, before the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and to have such lists or manifests produced for inspection at the time of such verification. Such lists or manifests shall contain such information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and shall be prepared on such forms and delivered to such immigration officer at such time in advance of the arrival of such vessel at the port of arrival as the Secretary of Labor may by regulations prescribe. Any master, commanding officer, agent, owner, or consignee of any such vessel who refuses to comply with the provisions of this section or with any such regulations shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such a violation occurs.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 7. (Immigration.) [Illegible] shall be admitted upon payment of such head tax as may be required by law, except that the head tax required by section 36 of the act of February 5, 1917, may be remitted in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor in the case of any alien who has been lawfully admitted to the United States and who is returning from a temporary visit abroad.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any place outside thereof, or any alien employed on board any such vessel destined to a port of the United States, except upon such conditions as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty or emergency necessitating such landing, or for such other reasons as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Any such alien who is permitted to land temporarily as provided in this section shall be deported in the same manner as provided for aliens who become public charges within one year after entry, unless the Secretary of Labor shall adjudge that such alien was unable to depart therefrom because of physical or mental disability or other cause not due to his own fault or misconduct, any such finding by the Secretary of Labor to be conclusive. Any master, commanding officer, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel bringing an alien who is excluded from admission by this section shall be required to remove such alien on board such vessel or some other vessel or otherwise to cause such alien to be deported from the port of arrival. Any master, commanding officer, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel who shall refuse or fail to comply with the requirements of this section or with any regulations of the Secretary of Labor pursuant thereto shall pay a penalty of $200 for each such alien in respect of whom such violation occurs. Clearance may be withheld pending the determination of the liability to the payment of such penalty. Such penalty when finally determined may be recovered by the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located, and in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor a part of not to exceed one-half of any penalty collected without suit therefor may be paid to the informer. Until the master, commanding officer, owner, agent, or consignee of any vessel who has been convicted of violating the provisions of this section shall have given a bond with sufficient sureties, in such sum not exceeding $1,000 for each alien as the court may direct, to indemnify the United States against any expense for the maintenance and subsistence of any alien who may become a public charge, and for the return of such alien if he becomes such within one year after entry, such vessel may depart from the port notwithstanding the provisions of this section. Such bond shall be void after one year. Nothing in this section shall be construed to amend, repeal, or affect the provisions of section 2 of the act entitled "An act to regulate the immigration of aliens into the United States," approved February 5, 1917, or the provisions of section 18 of the act entitled "An act to regulate the entry of aliens into and the departure of aliens from the United States," approved May 10, 1920.

(a) Food shall be on board in sufficient quantity to provide each person carried thereon with 3 pounds of bread or flour, 1 pound of beef, pork, bacon, or fish, 1 pint of beans or peas, 3 pints of potatoes, 1 pint of rice or hominy, 1 pint of coffee, 2 pounds of sugar, 1 pint of vinegar, 1 pint of molasses, 2 pounds of butter or substitutes, and pickles, mustard, pepper, salt, and vinegar sufficient for the use of the persons carried. Such provisions shall be issued to the persons carried in quantities sufficient for the voyage, and shall be of wholesome quality and sufficiently cooked to insure their preservation during the voyage. Any person who knowingly issues or causes to be issued to any person carried on board any vessel any provisions which are not wholesome and sufficient shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(b) Food shall be on board in sufficient quantity to provide each person carried thereon with 3 pounds of bread or flour, 1 pound of beef, pork, bacon, or fish, 1 pint of beans or peas, 3 pints of potatoes, 1 pint of rice or hominy, 1 pint of coffee, 2 pounds of sugar, 1 pint of vinegar, 1 pint of molasses, 2 pounds of butter or substitutes, and pickles, mustard, pepper, salt, and vinegar sufficient for the use of the persons carried. Such provisions shall be issued to the persons carried in quantities sufficient for the voyage, and shall be of wholesome quality and sufficiently cooked to insure their preservation during the voyage. Any person who knowingly issues or causes to be issued to any person carried on board any vessel any provisions which are not wholesome and sufficient shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(c) It shall be the duty of the master of any vessel bringing aliens to the United States to provide and maintain at his own cost and expense such medical care and treatment of aliens who become sick or injured during the voyage as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor.

(d) Each vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign port or place shall be subject to such inspection by the United States immigration officers as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe. Such inspection may be conducted on board the vessel at quarantine or elsewhere as the Secretary of Labor may direct. Any master, commanding officer, agent, owner, or consignee of any such vessel who refuses to allow such inspection or to comply with such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the purpose of such inspection shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each such offense.

(e) The Secretary of Labor may prescribe such regulations as he may deem necessary to carry out the provisions of this section, and may provide that any violation of any such regulation shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(f) Any person who knowingly brings into the United States any alien not duly admitted by an immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who knowingly aids or abets any alien to enter the United States at any place other than a port of entry, or who knowingly aids or abets any alien to evade any of the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(g) Any person who knowingly brings into the United States any alien not duly admitted by an immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who knowingly aids or abets any alien to enter the United States at any place other than a port of entry, or who knowingly aids or abets any alien to evade any of the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(h) Any person who knowingly brings into the United States any alien not duly admitted by an immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who knowingly aids or abets any alien to enter the United States at any place other than a port of entry, or who knowingly aids or abets any alien to evade any of the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(i) Any person who knowingly brings into the United States any alien not duly admitted by an immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who knowingly aids or abets any alien to enter the United States at any place other than a port of entry, or who knowingly aids or abets any alien to evade any of the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(j) Any person who knowingly brings into the United States any alien not duly admitted by an immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who knowingly aids or abets any alien to enter the United States at any place other than a port of entry, or who knowingly aids or abets any alien to evade any of the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(k) Any person who knowingly brings into the United States any alien not duly admitted by an immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who knowingly aids or abets any alien to enter the United States at any place other than a port of entry, or who knowingly aids or abets any alien to evade any of the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(l) Any person who knowingly brings into the United States any alien not duly admitted by an immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who knowingly aids or abets any alien to enter the United States at any place other than a port of entry, or who knowingly aids or abets any alien to evade any of the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(m) Any person who knowingly brings into the United States any alien not duly admitted by an immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who knowingly aids or abets any alien to enter the United States at any place other than a port of entry, or who knowingly aids or abets any alien to evade any of the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(n) Any person who knowingly brings into the United States any alien not duly admitted by an immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who knowingly aids or abets any alien to enter the United States at any place other than a port of entry, or who knowingly aids or abets any alien to evade any of the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(o) Any person who knowingly brings into the United States any alien not duly admitted by an immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who knowingly aids or abets any alien to enter the United States at any place other than a port of entry, or who knowingly aids or abets any alien to evade any of the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(p) Any person who knowingly brings into the United States any alien not duly admitted by an immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who knowingly aids or abets any alien to enter the United States at any place other than a port of entry, or who knowingly aids or abets any alien to evade any of the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(q) Any person who knowingly brings into the United States any alien not duly admitted by an immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who knowingly aids or abets any alien to enter the United States at any place other than a port of entry, or who knowingly aids or abets any alien to evade any of the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(r) Any person who knowingly brings into the United States any alien not duly admitted by an immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who knowingly aids or abets any alien to enter the United States at any place other than a port of entry, or who knowingly aids or abets any alien to evade any of the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(s) Any person who knowingly brings into the United States any alien not duly admitted by an immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who knowingly aids or abets any alien to enter the United States at any place other than a port of entry, or who knowingly aids or abets any alien to evade any of the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspectors boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens in which members of crews (Form 257) shall not be separated on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port.

When an arriving alien is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on board such vessel, stating the nationality, last residence, and intended destination of each alien, the port at which he embarked, whether he has been in the United States previously and how long, whether he has a ticket through to his destination, whether his passage is paid by himself or by others, whether he has in his possession more or less than $50 and who gave him the money, whether he is coming to join relatives or friends and if so what relatives or friends, whether he has ever been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether he is a polygamist, whether he is an anarchist, whether he believes in or is opposed to organized government, whether he is a member of any organization entertaining such belief, whether he has ever been deported from the United States, and whether he is coming under contract or agreement to perform labor, and such other information relative to each alien as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, which said lists shall be produced at the time of inspection of such vessel by the immigrant inspector or other officer of the United States Government authorized to make such inspection, and such officer shall have the right to require the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to prove the correctness of such lists by his oath administered by such officer. Such lists shall be prima facie evidence of the right of the aliens named therein to enter the United States, but such evidence may be overcome and such aliens excluded from admission into the United States if found to be so under the provisions of this Act. Such lists shall be filed in the office where they were presented and shall be preserved for a period of three years, after the expiration of which time they may be destroyed: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may require the retention of any list or lists for such longer period of time as he may deem necessary. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who refuses or fails to deliver such lists, or who refuses or fails to deliver any additional information required by the Secretary of Labor, or any immigrant inspector, or who refuses or fails to detain any alien when required so to do by any such officer, or who refuses or fails to comply with the provisions of section 37 of this Act, or who refuses or fails to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival any such alien, shall pay a penalty of $120 for each alien with respect to whom such violation occurs: Provided, That no penalty shall be imposed for failure to deliver the list of any alien who has been in the United States for more than twelve months prior to the departure of such vessel from a foreign port or place, or who is in transit through the United States to a foreign country, or who is a member of the crew of such vessel who is employed on board as such and who remains on board while such vessel is in port, or who shall have been forced to land at such port or place by reason of illness, shipwreck, or other emergency, or who shall have been rescued at sea by such vessel: Provided further, That the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel shall not be required to deliver lists for any alien who has been lawfully admitted to the United States and who is returning from a temporary visit abroad.

SEC. 37. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof shall not permit any alien to land from such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such alien or aliens, or has issued a certificate that the inspection of such alien or aliens is unnecessary, at the time of such alien's application for admission, or has given notice that such alien or aliens will be detained on board or at such place designated by such immigration officer for special inquiry under the provisions of section 16 of this Act: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive examination of aliens in particular cases or classes of cases when in his opinion the same can not be practicably performed, subject to such conditions as he may prescribe.

(b) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be responsible for the safekeeping of all aliens detained on board or at such place designated by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival pending the completion of the inspection, and shall not permit any such alien to land except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the protection of the welfare of such aliens, or pursuant to a permit issued by the Secretary of Labor, and shall, when required so to do, return any such alien for further inspection or examination at any time within three years after the date of his arrival, to any place designated by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, whether such alien has been admitted to the United States or not, and shall not allow any such alien to land in violation of any rule, regulation, or order made by the Secretary of Labor. Any such alien who shall land in violation of any such rule, regulation, or order shall be deported as provided in section 19 of this Act.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall order the deportation of any alien detained on the vessel on which he arrived, such vessel shall pay the cost of maintenance while such alien is detained at such port, and the cost of his deportation, unless the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall have obtained a certificate from the Secretary of Labor to the effect that such alien was not afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disabilities for the reason of which he might be excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and had embarked on board such vessel after the inspection of such alien by the proper immigration officer, or after the physician designated by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel had certified that such alien was not afflicted with any such disease or mental or physical defect or disability, and that such alien was not otherwise inadmissible under the immigration laws, and had been given a permit by such officer to proceed to the United States.

SEC. 38. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or any person who may have charge or command of such vessel, shall be responsible for the proper maintenance while in the United States, including the actual cost of burial in case of death, of any alien seaman employed on board such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has issued a certificate that the services of such alien seaman are not required, or such alien seaman has been granted a permit to land temporarily for medical treatment, or has been granted a permit to land temporarily under bond, or has been deported, or has been duly discharged in accordance with the immigration laws and regulations prescribed thereunder, and has received a certificate from the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to the effect that such alien seaman has been so discharged, and has been given a permit to land temporarily or permanently under the immigration laws and regulations prescribed thereunder, or has been granted a certificate by the Secretary of Labor that such alien seaman is not entitled to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the protection of the welfare of such aliens seamen, or pursuant to a permit issued by the Secretary of Labor, and shall, when required so to do, return any such alien seaman for further inspection or examination at any time within three years after the date of his arrival, to any place designated by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, whether such alien seaman has been admitted to the United States or not, and shall not allow any such alien seaman to land in violation of any rule, regulation, or order made by the Secretary of Labor. Any such alien seaman who shall land in violation of any such rule, regulation, or order shall be deported as provided in section 19 of this Act.

(b) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be responsible for the safekeeping of all alien seamen employed on board such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has issued a certificate that the services of such alien seamen are not required, or such alien seamen have been granted a permit to land temporarily under bond, or have been deported, or have been duly discharged in accordance with the immigration laws and regulations prescribed thereunder, and has received a certificate from the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to the effect that such alien seamen have been so discharged, and has been given a permit to land temporarily or permanently under the immigration laws and regulations prescribed thereunder, or has been granted a certificate by the Secretary of Labor that such alien seamen are not entitled to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the protection of the welfare of such aliens seamen, or pursuant to a permit issued by the Secretary of Labor, and shall, when required so to do, return any such alien seamen for further inspection or examination at any time within three years after the date of his arrival, to any place designated by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, whether such alien seamen has been admitted to the United States or not, and shall not allow any such alien seamen to land in violation of any rule, regulation, or order made by the Secretary of Labor. Any such alien seamen who shall land in violation of any such rule, regulation, or order shall be deported as provided in section 19 of this Act.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall order the deportation of any alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived, such vessel shall pay the cost of maintenance while such alien seamen is detained at such port, and the cost of his deportation, unless the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall have obtained a certificate from the Secretary of Labor to the effect that such alien seamen was not afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disabilities for the reason of which he might be excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and had embarked on board such vessel after the inspection of such alien seamen by the proper immigration officer, or after the physician designated by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel had certified that such alien seamen was not afflicted with any such disease or mental or physical defect or disability, and that such alien seamen was not otherwise inadmissible under the immigration laws, and had been given a permit by such officer to proceed to the United States.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a seaman, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor shall order the deportation of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, such vessel shall be required to detain such alien on board or at such place designated by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival pending the completion of the deportation, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance papers until such alien has been deported, or the Secretary of Labor notifies the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel that such alien seaman may be treated as any other alien, or to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance papers until such alien has been deported

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector portside the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crew (Form 6551) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on board, specifying those to be held on board such vessel pending the port of arrival, or lists containing so much of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure; and also the names of those the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those il any, who have been held on and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver either of the said lists of such aliens arriving and departing respectively, or so to report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall, if required by the Secretary of Labor, pay to the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the duration of the liability to the payment thereof. Upon the payment of such sum, and, in the event such sum is imposed, while it remains unpaid; but shall such sum be remitted or refunded; Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 6

SEC. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by Section 36 hereof been furnished, and not then unless, before the lapse of the administrative time prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 32 hereof been waived, the deposit specified in Rule 32 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who intends, or whenever so ordered by any immigrant inspector, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, from the vessel in the port of arrival and shall be detained on board or at such place as may be designated by the immigrant inspector in charge until such alien is entered for immigration or is granted a landing permit, or is ordered deported to the country to which he belongs under the provisions of this Act. Any alien seaman who fails to remain on board or at such place as may be designated by the immigrant inspector in charge, or who fails to obtain such landing permit within the time prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, shall be deemed to be unlawfully in the United States and may be arrested without warrant and deported in accordance with the provisions of section 19 of this Act.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to obtain on board such vessel before departure a landing permit from the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival for each alien seaman (whether detained on board or not) or who fails to report the illness or hospitalization of any such alien seaman, or who fails to obtain such landing permit for any alien seaman discharged on board such vessel, unless such alien seaman is excluded by such immigration officer from admission into the United States under the provisions of this Act, or who fails to obtain such permit for any alien seaman who has been granted temporary medical treatment, or who fails to report the illness or hospitalization of such alien seaman, or who fails to deliver to such immigration officer at the port of arrival a complete list or manifest of all alien seamen employed on board such vessel at the time of arrival, or who fails to report the departure of any such alien seaman by reason of desertion, discharge, or otherwise, or who fails to deliver to such immigration officer at the time of departure a list of all alien seamen employed on board such vessel at the time of departure, shall pay to the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $120.00 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such default occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deposit after reimbursement by the immigration officer at the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(d) Section 35 of the Immigration Act of 1917 is repealed, but shall remain in force as to all vessels, their owners, agents, consignees and masters, and as to all seamen, arriving in the United States prior to the enactment of this Act.

I, [illegible], of the [illegible], do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage. I have noted the copy of section 36 of the United States Immigration Law and of paragraph 2, subdivision (b), Immigration Rule 6, which appear below.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on and discharged in the contiguous territory, the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, the names of all aliens shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on and discharged in the port of arrival; or, if late contraband so much of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave both thereon at the time of port departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired or discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the said lists of such aliens arriving and departing, respectively, or so to report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall, if required by the Secretary of Labor, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $ 10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the duration of the liability to the payment of such fund, and, in the event such fund is imposed, while remains unpaid: not shall such fund be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such duration upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fund.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 8

PAR. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 have been furnished, and not then unless, notice of liability to the administrative fund prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 37 having been waived, the deposit specified in Rule 55 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain any such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $ 1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs.

No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport after requirement by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(d) Section 35 of the Immigration Act of 1917 is repealed, but shall remain in force as to all vessels, their owners, agents, consignees, and masters, and as to all seamen arriving in the United States prior to the enactment of this Act.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form 988) shall not be retained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "wokaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER.

I, A. DEKEMA, Master, of the M.V. "DIRKDIX", do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage.

I have noted the copy of section 36 of the United States Immigration Law and of paragraph 2, subdivision (b), Immigration Rule 8, which appears below.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms furnished by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector inspecting the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens required by the immigration laws of the United States (Form 500) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port.

Upon an arriving steamer is a "MONKEYWAY," a definition to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That from arrival at any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place in Asia by the gulf of the ocean, canal, connecting, or inland route to which the provisions that immediately next below apply, and within forty-eight hours after such arrival the master, agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel shall report and present for examination by the proper immigrant inspector at the port of arrival all aliens employed on board such vessel, stating the nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of each alien, together with any information likely to lead to the apprehension and proper disposition of any such alien who may be found to be unlawfully in the United States or subject to deportation under the provisions of this act. Any such master, agent, owner, consignee, or inland carrier who refuses to report, or to present for examination, or who makes a false report concerning any such alien, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and in addition thereto shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien not reported, presented, or truthfully described as required by this act, which penalty may be sued for and recovered by the United States district attorney in any district in which such alien may be found. The Secretary of Labor may issue rules governing the reporting, presentation, and examination of aliens on board vessels arriving at ports of the United States from foreign countries, and may detail immigrant inspectors for duty on board such vessels during their passage in the United States, and may refuse clearance to any vessel the master, agent, owner, consignee, or inland carrier of which shall refuse to obey such rules. Any such master, agent, owner, consignee, or inland carrier who refuses to obey such rules shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to repeal, alter, or amend the provisions of section 8 of the act of February 20, 1907, relating to the examination of aliens in transit through the United States.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 6

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the laws omitted by section 36 have been complied with, and not then unless, unless of Hebrew, or the administrative time prescribed by said section or of a part prescribed by section 32 thereof, have been waived, the vessel excepted in Rule XX has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or adjacent islands, or who has been granted a conditional permit to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or who has been certified by the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival has intended to desert, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or who has been certified by the proper immigration officer at the Secretary of Labor to be a bona fide alien seaman (which information in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who has been granted a conditional permit to land temporarily under bond, which bond shall be returned to the master, agent, owner, consignee, or charterer of the vessel upon the departure of such alien seaman on board: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the withdrawal of such conditional permit to land temporarily and the return of such alien seaman to the vessel or waive such return when, in his opinion, the circumstances warrant such withdrawal or waiver: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, require the deposit of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the temporary transfer of such alien seaman to a vessel or the return of such alien seaman to the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or to secure the departure of such alien seaman from the United States on any vessel other than the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, in such amount, not to exceed $1,000 for each alien seaman, as he may deem necessary: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, require the deposit of a bond sufficient to cover each alien, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the temporary transfer approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Any alien seaman who shall depart from the continental territory of the United States on any vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or adjacent islands, or who has been granted by the immigration officer at the Secretary of Labor to be a bona fide alien seaman (which information in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who has been granted a conditional permit to land temporarily under bond, which bond shall be returned to the master, agent, owner, consignee, or charterer of the vessel upon the departure of such alien seaman on board: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, require the deposit of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the temporary transfer approved by the collector of customs.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be cleared otherwise until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(d) Section 35 of the immigration act of 1917 is repealed, but shall remain in force as to all vessels, their owners, agents, consignees, and masters, and as to all seamen, arriving in the United States prior to the enactment of this act.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, Capt. J. Jamison, of the Mayflower, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew, brought in said vessel from and port or place quoting for transit to the United States, to the best of my knowledge and belief, and that I will not, without the consent of the Commissioner of Immigration, land or permit to be landed any of the crew, except in accordance with the regulations governing the landing of aliens temporarily in the United States or under the immediate care of a United States immigrant inspector.

The list of aliens or alien members of the crew (Form 6500) shall not be destroyed or mutilated, and shall be delivered by the master to the boarding immigration officer at the port of arrival. Write "NOTHING," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge of the port, or officer there conducting examination, a list or manifest of all the persons on board such vessel, whether they be cabin passengers or members of the crew or other persons carried on such vessel, and whether they are citizens of the United States or aliens, and such additional information as the Secretary of Labor may by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to each such immigration officer at the port of arrival, or there continuing on board of such vessel, a correction of such list, together with such information likely to lead to the apprehension of any such alien that may illegally be in the United States, as may be discovered. All cases in which such alien has been specially inquired for by such immigration officer shall be noted upon such list. Such list shall be signed and sworn to before the immigration officer at the port of arrival by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of the vessel, except that in the absence of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser, the list may be signed and sworn to by the first officer or second officer or other officer next in command. Such officer shall be furnished by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser with a true copy of such list, and shall be responsible for the delivery of such copy to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser. Such list shall contain such information and be prepared in such manner as the Secretary of Labor may by regulation prescribe. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of any such vessel who refuses or fails to deliver such list, or who refuses or fails to deliver to each such immigration officer at the time of the arrival of such vessel at each port in the United States at which such vessel shall stop during her voyage, or within one hour thereafter, a correct list of all the persons on board such vessel, whether they are citizens of the United States or aliens, and such additional information as the Secretary of Labor may require, or who refuses or fails to deliver to each such immigration officer at the time of the arrival of such vessel at each port in the United States at which such vessel shall stop during her voyage, or within one hour thereafter, a correction of such list, touching any omissions or errors therein, which may be discovered after the delivery of the original list, or who refuses or fails to deliver to each such immigration officer at the time of the departure of such vessel from each port in the United States at which such vessel shall stop during her voyage, or within one hour thereafter, a correct list of all the persons on board such vessel at the time of departure, and of the additions to such list since the arrival of such vessel at such port, touching any omissions or errors therein which may be discovered after the delivery of such list, or who refuses or fails to present such vessel for and submit to such inspection and examination by the boarding immigration officers as by this Act required, or who refuses or fails to deliver to the boarding immigration officer at the port of arrival the certificate required by section 10 of this Act to be delivered to the master of such vessel, or who refuses or fails to detain on board such vessel, when ordered by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, any alien required by such officer to be detained on board, or who refuses or fails to comply with the regulations of the Secretary of Labor governing the detention, care, and maintenance of aliens detained on board vessels, or who refuses or fails to deliver to the immigrant inspectors at the port of arrival any alien detained on board such vessel for special inquiry at such port, unless such master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser shall prove to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he has exercised due diligence in the performance of such duty, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each and every such alien, or for each and every alien specified in such list, or in such correction thereof, in respect to which such master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser shall so refuse or fail, and no such vessel shall have clearance granted her from the port at which such alien is required to be detained by the immigrant inspector in charge at such port until such sum is paid or until a bond to the United States in such amount as the Secretary of Labor may require, or in such amount as may be fixed by the collector of customs of the customs district in which such port is located, not exceeding $300 for each such alien, shall be given by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of such vessel, conditioned upon the delivery of such alien to the proper immigrant inspector at the destination in the United States of such alien, unless such alien shall be duly admitted by the United States immigration officials at such destination: Provided, That clearance may be granted such vessel prior to the delivery of such alien or the giving of such bond upon the payment of $300 for each such alien: Provided further, That clearance may be granted such vessel prior to the payment of such sum or the giving of such bond upon the production of a certificate from the Secretary of Labor that such alien has been duly admitted into the United States or has been granted such further time as he may deem necessary for his proper examination: And provided further, That no such bond shall be required to be deposited in any customs collection district in excess of the amount of bonds required to be given in such district to secure the payment of taxes and duties on imported merchandise.

SEC. 31. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof and bringing any alien (whether in transit to some foreign destination or for the purpose of entering the United States) who is afflicted with such a contagious disease that he would be excluded from admission to the United States under section 16 of this Act, or who is found to be a stowaway, shall be liable to the payment of a penalty of $300 for each such alien, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and, in the event such fine is imposed, until it is paid or a bond approved by the Secretary of Labor is given to the United States for the payment thereof.

(b) If the Secretary of Labor finds that a vessel has been operated in violation of this section, he may withhold clearance from any other vessel owned by the owner of such vessel until such fine has been paid or a bond approved by the Secretary of Labor has been given to the United States for the payment thereof.

(c) Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fines imposed by section 32 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been collected, or bond approved by the Secretary of Labor has been given to the United States for the payment thereof: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fines required by section 32 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been collected, and bond approved by the Secretary of Labor has been given to the United States for the payment thereof: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospital or burial purposes, unless the Secretary of Labor is satisfied that the seaman will not become a public charge and (after inspection at all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners) or, also in lieu of such inspection, the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which such seaman arrived deposits with the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment of such sum, and no such vessel shall depart from the port of arrival in foreign trade until the Secretary of Labor is satisfied that the sum of $10 for each such alien seaman on board such vessel when inspected or to deport such seaman if rejected by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor has been deposited with the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located, or that such seaman has been granted a landing certificate or has been otherwise legally permitted to land in the United States, or has been deported pursuant to law, or that the Secretary of Labor has notified the collector of customs that such deposit is not required or that a bond approved by the Secretary of Labor has been given to the United States for the payment thereof: Provided, That clearance may be granted such vessel prior to the deposit of such sum or the giving of such bond upon the production of a certificate from the Secretary of Labor that such alien has been duly admitted into the United States or has been granted such further time as he may deem necessary for his proper examination: And provided further, That no such bond shall be required to be deposited in any customs collection district in excess of the amount of bonds required to be given in such district to secure the payment of taxes and duties on imported merchandise.

(a) Flood that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the inspector in charge of the port, or that he was found to be a stowaway, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport.

(b) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, ... of the ..... do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew, wherever shipped, in said vessel from any port or place during the year ending the 31st December, 1924, except those who have been transferred to the service of the United States, or who have died, or who have been discharged in the United States, or who have been left on account of sickness or injury, or who have deserted, or who have been lost overboard, or who have been taken from the vessel by the immigration officers of the United States, and that I have made a personal examination of the said crew, and that I have compared the above list with the ship's articles, and that I have caused the same to be corrected to the date of sailing, and that I have made a personal examination of the said list

The list theretofore before shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector at least twenty-four hours before the vessel is to be boarded, preferably by delivery by the master to the boarding immigration officer at the port of entry. [Penalty for failure of master to deliver list, $10 for each passenger not included in list.]

When an alternate manifest is a "crewman," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival at any vessel at the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of entry a complete list of all the aliens on board such vessel, which list shall be prepared in the form of manifests of aliens required by the Secretary of Labor and shall contain such additional information relative to each such alien as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and shall be subscribed by the master of such vessel, which list or manifest shall be produced at the time of the inspection of such vessel by the immigrant inspector or inspectors, and verified by the oath of such master thereon administered by such inspector or inspectors. Any master who refuses to deliver such list or manifest, or who refuses to allow the inspection provided for in this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such information is required and not furnished, or concerning whom such information is incorrectly furnished, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Any master who refuses to land from his vessel any alien who has been duly certified by the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival as entitled to land, shall be liable to the cost of the return of such alien to the country whence he came, and to a penalty of $200 for each alien so certified, which penalty shall be a lien upon the vessel, and may be recovered by the United States or any person who shall furnish the money for such return in any action in admiralty. Any person who shall knowingly bring to the United States any alien who has been certified by the Secretary of Labor, or by any board of special inquiry, to be excluded from admission to the United States, or who shall bring to the United States any alien afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any person who shall knowingly aid or assist any alien to land in the United States at a time or place other than as designated by immigration officers, or who shall connive with or conspire with any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel to bring to the United States any alien who has been certified by the Secretary of Labor, or by any board of special inquiry, to be excluded from admission to the United States, or who shall bring to the United States any alien afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master who shall refuse to receive back into the vessel any alien certified by the Secretary of Labor, or by any board of special inquiry, to be excluded from admission to the United States, shall be liable to the cost of the return of such alien to the country whence he came, and to a penalty of $200 for each alien so certified, which penalty shall be a lien upon the vessel, and may be recovered by the United States or any person who shall furnish the money for such return in any action in admiralty. Any person who shall knowingly bring to the United States any alien who has been certified by the Secretary of Labor, or by any board of special inquiry, to be excluded from admission to the United States, or who shall bring to the United States any alien afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any person who shall knowingly aid or assist any alien to land in the United States at a time or place other than as designated by immigration officers, or who shall connive with or conspire with any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel to bring to the United States any alien who has been certified by the Secretary of Labor, or by any board of special inquiry, to be excluded from admission to the United States, or who shall bring to the United States any alien afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

LAW. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and full compliance had with all requirements of law as to final inspection by said section or to final inspection by section 33 of June 29, 1906, as amended by section 2 of the act of February 5, 1917, have been complied with.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. (a) No alien seaman employed upon any vessel arriving at the United States from any foreign port or place shall be permitted to land in the United States except for such time as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor and under such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the alien, while in the United States.

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (except foreign contiguous territory) or departing from the United States, who knowingly employs on such vessel any alien who has not been admitted to the United States or who has not been granted permission to go on board such vessel by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and who fails to report the illegal landing or employment of such alien, or who refuses to allow the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival to make such examination of the crew as may be necessary to determine whether any alien has been illegally landed or employed, or who refuses to allow the removal of any alien ordered deported under the provisions of this act, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which such port is located the sum of $120 for each alien illegally landed or employed, or for each refusal to allow such examination or removal, which sum shall be a lien upon the vessel, and may be recovered by the United States or any person who shall furnish the money for such return in any action in admiralty, or may be withheld from the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel by the collector of customs of the customs district in which such port is located until the payment to the United States of such sum is finally determined; but no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment of such sum or while the question of remission or mitigation thereof is before the Secretary of Labor, or after such determination while such sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the final determination of such question upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) It shall be unlawful for any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel to bring into the United States from any foreign port or place any alien seaman who does not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, and it shall be unlawful for any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel to take from the United States to any foreign port or place any alien seaman who has been lawfully admitted to the United States and who has been certified by the Secretary of Labor as a deserter from any vessel, unless the Secretary of Labor has granted such alien seaman permission to depart from the United States on such vessel. Any person who violates any provision of this subdivision shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is about to sail, cannot be accomplished promptly, he may cause such alien seaman to be detained on board such vessel or at such other place as he may designate until such alien seaman can be deported, but no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of deportation of such alien seaman, except upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such detention, or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(d) That an alien seaman who has been lawfully admitted to the United States and who has been certified by the Secretary of Labor as a deserter from any vessel shall be deported as an alien crewman employed on board such vessel, and such deportation shall be effected by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel, and such alien seaman shall be placed on board such vessel for deportation by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such alien seaman has been so placed on board, unless the Secretary of Labor has granted such alien seaman permission to depart from the United States on some other vessel.

(e) That the provisions of this section relating to the deportation of alien seamen shall be enforced by immigration officers, and the Secretary of Labor is authorized to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of such provisions.

(f) That an alien seaman who has been lawfully admitted to the United States and who has been certified by the Secretary of Labor as a deserter from any vessel shall be deported as an alien crewman employed on board such vessel, and such deportation shall be effected by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel, and such alien seaman shall be placed on board such vessel for deportation by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such alien seaman has been so placed on board, unless the Secretary of Labor has granted such alien seaman permission to depart from the United States on some other vessel.

(g) That the provisions of this section relating to the deportation of alien seamen shall be enforced by immigration officers, and the Secretary of Labor is authorized to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of such provisions.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 16. (a) Any alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or adjacent islands, shall be detained on board or at such port of entry as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor, to be deported to the country from which he came to the United States, at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws, upon the certification by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival that such alien seaman has been so employed. Any such alien seaman may be required to enter into a bond in such sum as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, with sufficient surety, conditioned upon the departure of such alien seaman from the United States to the country from which he came to the United States, and upon compliance with such other conditions as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, in lieu of detention on board or at such port of entry. Any such alien seaman who shall depart from the United States, or who shall be granted by the Secretary of Labor a landing permit to enable him to depart from the United States, shall be deemed for the purposes of the immigration laws to have been deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws.

(b) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States is unnecessary for the enforcement of the immigration laws, or that the cost of detention on board or at the port of entry will be unduly burdensome, he may cause such alien seaman to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(c) Any alien seaman who shall not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or adjacent islands, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to comply with the conditions of his landing permit, except that evidence may be submitted prior to the determination of such question upon the question of whether such nonimmigrant by the immigration officer at the port of the Secretary of Labor. (As added by act May 26, 1924.)

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms furnished by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration officer at the port of arrival. Each list or manifest must be prepared in duplicate, typewritten or written with pen and ink and indelible ink. No lead pencil shall be used. Ditto marks shall not be employed in the body of the list. Each list or manifest must be signed by the master or commanding officer of the vessel. The list or manifest must be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival before any passenger is landed from the vessel. The list or manifest must be signed by the master or commanding officer of the vessel. The list or manifest must be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival before any passenger is landed from the vessel.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or ports it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens destined to ports in the United States, which lists shall be prepared in the form and manner required by the Secretary of Labor, and shall be delivered to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival before any of the passengers shall be landed from the vessel. The master, agent, consignee, or commanding officer of such vessel shall report the number of aliens employed on board such vessel, and shall pay the cost of their maintenance while detained at such port of arrival, and shall furnish such bond as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, in such sum as may be fixed by him, conditioned for the payment of such cost of maintenance. Any such master, agent, consignee, or commanding officer who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such refusal or neglect occurs. In any case in which the master, agent, consignee, or commanding officer of such vessel shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he could not have ascertained by the exercise of due diligence the facts in relation to any alien concerning whom he has failed to report, or that he has reported the name of such alien and has detained him on board or at the port of arrival in accordance with the requirements of this section, he shall not be subject to the penalty imposed by this section in respect to such alien. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, remit any fine, or any part thereof, imposed by this section, and may, in his discretion, mitigate the conditions upon which any vessel may be granted clearance pending the payment of any such fine. Any fine collected under the provisions of this section shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States and credited to the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION 3, RULE 10

SEC. 3. Manifesting, registering and identifying. — (a) Arriving and departing masters shall be immediately on the dock forms provided for that purpose by the department, in accordance with the terms of section 30. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made upon the manifest.

(b) Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 30 hereof upon the manifest, and not then unless, notice of inability to the administrative time prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 hereof, the deposit required in Rule 38 (subd. 3) has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 30. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of first arrival a list or manifest of all persons on board such vessel, which list shall contain the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, which and were they were respectively shipped or entered, and specifying whether any such alien has ever been in the United States, and if so, when and where, and whether he has been in prison or an almshouse or supported by charity, and whether he has a ticket through to the place of his destination, and whether he has the amount of money required by this Act to be in his possession, and by whom such money was furnished, and the relationship, if any, of such person to the person furnishing the money, and whether he is going to join any relative or friend, and if so, what relative or friend, and the name and complete address of such relative or friend, and whether he has ever been in prison or an almshouse or supported by charity, and if so, where, and whether he is a polygamist, and whether he believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, and whether he is an anarchist, and whether he is coming in pursuance of any previous promise, agreement, or solicitation, and what is the condition of his health, mental and physical, and whether deformed or crippled, and if so, how long and for what reason, and whether he has been in the United States before, and if so, when and how long he remained there, and whether he intends to return to the country from which he came after temporary absence, and what is his calling or occupation, and whether he can read or write, and whether he is married or single, and his age, nationality, race, and last permanent residence, and whether going to join relatives, and if so, what relatives, and their names and addresses, and whether going to a friend, and if so, what friend, and his name and address, and whether going to join a society, club, or church organization, and if so, what society, club, or church organization, and whether he has been a member of any such society, club, or church organization, and if so, what society, club, or church organization, and whether he has been deported, and if so, how many times

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival full and complete lists of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, where and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and such additional facts pertaining to each alien employed as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival thus such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with a full statement of the circumstances connected with such landing; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of departure, and also the names of those in charge of such aliens during the period of detention. If any, who have deserted or landed, and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the said lists of such aliens arriving and detained thereon, such owner, agent, consignee or master shall be liable to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $ 10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or a like tenth is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and, in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded. Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 6

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 have been furnished, and not then unless, notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 hereof, been waived, the deposit specified in Rule 22 has been made.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of alien members of crews (form 444) shall not be retained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate seaman is a "workaway" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens embarked on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company. When and where they were respectively as the secretary of labor shall by regulation prescribe. And after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such master, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to the apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such master, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens embarked at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired off and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such master, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the said lists or such other statements as the secretary of labor may by regulation require in relation to the aliens entering or departing, or attempting to enter or depart, the United States, or in case of the failure of such master, agent, consignee, or master to report and deliver to such immigration officer any such alien landed from such vessel, he shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $ 1.00 for each alien concerning whom such report should have been made but was not made as above required, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $ 10 for each alien concerning whom such report should have been made but was not made as above required, nuntil the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall have produced to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the certificate of the principal immigration officer at the port that such report has been made and the number of aliens reported thereon, and the collector of customs is satisfied that the full amount of head money has been paid or accounted for to his satisfaction or that no head money is required to be paid: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 8

PAR. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fees required by Section 36 have been furnished, and not then unless: notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 hereof has been served, the deposit specified in Rule 33 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, or injury requiring hospital treatment, or because of the inability of such vessel to depart from the United States.

SEC. 16. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to obtain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel upon the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival just immediately preceding such seaman arriving at a port in the United States, or who fails to obtain such seaman on board such vessel upon the completion of the discharge of cargo, or who fails to report the death of such seaman or the cause thereof, or who fails to deliver to such immigration officer any such seaman who has been ordered by the Secretary of Labor to be detained in the United States for medical examination, or who fails to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $ 1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located pending the determination of the liability to the payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not obtain upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was detained by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain on board after readmittance by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be detained on shoreby the immigration officer at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or the payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(d) Section 33 of the immigration Act of 1917 is repealed, but shall remain in force as to all vessels, their owners, agents, consignees, and masters, and as to all seamen arriving in the United States prior to the enactment of this Act.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, [illegible], of the Steamship, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage. I have noted the copy of section 36 of the United States Immigration Law and of paragraph 2, subdivision (b), Immigration Rule 8, which appears below.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER.

The list described below shall be prepared and ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival. and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form 528) shall not be retained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 6, 1917.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master, thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the alien's company, where and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board discharged in the port of arrival; or their continuance on board of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and prior the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been landed and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the said lists of aliens arriving and departing, respectively, or so to report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall, if required by the Secretary of Labor, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers until the determination of the question of liability to the payment of such fine, and, in the event such fine is imposed, until it is paid or its payment secured to the satisfaction of the collector, or until the case is remanded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION 3, RULE 10.

SEC. 3. Manifesting, navigating, and identifying.—(a) Arriving and departing seamen shall be manifested on the blank forms provided for that purpose by the department, in accordance with the terms of section 38. When an arriving seaman is a "non-resident alien" a notation to that effect should be made upon the manifest.

(b) Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fees required by section 38 have been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 38 hereof been waived, the deposit specified in Rule 35 (subd. 5) has been made.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival. Said blank forms shall be printed in the English language, and the answers to all questions therein must be written in the English language. The list of aliens to whom inspection at the port of arrival may be granted shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival prior to the inspection of the aliens. (Form 508) Said list shall be examined by the master or person in charge of the vessel. The list of aliens to whom inspection is granted shall be signed by the master, and shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival prior to the inspection of the aliens. (Form 508) Said list shall not be examined by, or delivered to, any other person, except a person authorized by the Secretary of Labor, or by the master of the vessel, or by the officer in charge of the deck or other proper officer of the vessel.

When an alternative manifest is authorized, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to deliver to the boarding immigration officer in charge of the port a complete list or manifest of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the nationality, last residence, and intended final destination of each such alien, and such additional information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe. And upon the arrival of via dual ports of a vessel it shall be the duty of each master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to furnish to each immigration officer at the second port at which the vessel shall touch a correct list of such aliens remaining on board such vessel, together with such information touching such aliens as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Such list shall be delivered to each immigration officer at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the second port, and before the vessel shall be granted pratique. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such list, or who shall deliver an incorrect or incomplete list, shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each such alien not specified therein, but no such master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel shall be liable to any penalty for the refusal or omission of any alien to accept a permit to enter the United States when such permit has been issued by the Secretary of Labor or his authorized agent.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 6. Quarantine shall not be granted any vessel until the data required by section 28 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished and such master makes notice of infinity to the administrative immigrant by mail section or to other prescribed by section 38 of said Act.

Prima facie evidence, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. (a) Any alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or bringing to such territory as a member of the crew or otherwise, and who shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or detention by the Secretary of Labor may thereafter for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has issued such alien a permit to land in the United States, or who fails to detain such seaman on board after inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien so to do, and shall have a lien upon the vessel which may be enforced by the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment thereof approved by the collector, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Any alien seaman who shall not depart from the outside limits of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or land, be refused by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall to such seaman be newly owned, such fine to be deducted on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigrant immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing a full manifest of all persons on board such vessel, arranged in the form and containing the information required by section 12 of this Act, which lists shall be delivered by the master to the immigrant immigration officer at the port of arrival before any person or baggage shall be landed from such vessel, and the master of every such vessel shall, before departure therefrom, deliver to the immigrant immigration officer at such port a like list of all persons on board such vessel destined to the United States, which list shall show the additions to the original list since the same was delivered to the immigrant immigration officer at the last previous port of call, and the cause of their detention, if detained, at any such previous port. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or person charged with the duty of preparing such lists or any part thereof who shall refuse or neglect to prepare such lists in the manner required by this Act, or who shall refuse or neglect to deliver the same, or any part thereof, to the immigrant immigration officer at the time of the departure of the vessel from the last port at which such lists are required by this Act to be delivered, or who shall refuse or neglect to answer truthfully and completely to the best of his knowledge any question touching the persons on board such vessel asked by any immigrant immigration officer, or who shall refuse or neglect to furnish such additional information in writing touching the persons on board such vessel as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each and every such offense, and shall be imprisoned for not more than one year: Provided, That the master of any vessel may be excused for delay in the delivery of such lists when the same have been delayed by reason of weather or other cause found to be sufficient by the immigrant immigration officer at the port of arrival, but in such cases the master shall furnish such lists as soon as practicable and shall make oath that the reasons for the delay in the delivery of such lists as prescribed herein existed in fact.

SEC. 37. (a) That the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel bringing an alien to any port of the United States shall be responsible for the proper care of such alien while on board such vessel, and for his maintenance while a passenger in transit through the United States in case he is not admitted to enter the United States, and for the payment of the head tax provided for by section 2 of this Act in case such alien is admitted to the United States and such tax is not otherwise paid, and for the expenses of the maintenance of such alien at a hospital if he is sent to a hospital for treatment within one year after the date of his arrival at a port of the United States, and for the cost of his return to the country whence he came, if he becomes a public charge from causes existing prior to his admission, and for the cost of his maintenance if he becomes a public charge from causes existing prior to his admission and arising within one year after the date of his arrival at a port of the United States, and for the cost of his return to the country whence he came,

The list ofwritten below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and shall be verified by the immigrant inspector. The list of aliens in the cabin is to be prepared by the master of the vessel. The list of aliens in the steerage is to be prepared by the second officer of the vessel. (Form 598) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigrant inspector. Number the vessel at the foot of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens in the cabin is to be prepared by the master of a vessel (Form 599) shall be delivered by the master to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival.

When an arriving alien is a "stowaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the alien's country, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and especially those to be landed and those to be landed at the port of arrival; or lists containing no information about the aliens as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and upon the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report and deliver to the immigrant inspector, and before the departure of any such vessel from the port of arrival lists containing such information about aliens then illegally on board such vessel, stating the full name, occupation, and last permanent residence of each such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his identification, and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed now or now not employed thereon as the time of the arrival of the vessel but who will leave port thereon subsequently, and the cause for the discharge of each alien so employed. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who refuses to deliver lists required by this section, or who refuses or neglects to report, or to deliver any such alien on board thereof, or who lands or permits to land any such alien, except in case of distress, shall be liable to a penalty of not more than $10 for each alien with respect to whom such default occurs. Any such master, agent, consignee, or owner may appeal from the decision imposing such penalty to the Secretary of Labor, who may, in his discretion, remit or mitigate such penalty. If any such master, agent, consignee, or owner shall refuse or neglect to deliver lists required of him by this section, or shall refuse to allow any immigrant inspector to come on board such vessel for the purpose of inspecting such lists, or to detain such vessel for a sufficient time to enable such inspection to be made, or shall refuse to allow any such inspector to make such examination of the persons on board such vessel as may be provided for by this section, or shall refuse to detain on board any alien specified by any such inspector, such master, agent, consignee, or owner shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such failure occurs. A vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs or other officer authorized to grant clearance papers upon the payment of the penalty, or the execution of a bond with sufficient surety, in such sum as the Secretary of Labor may require, conditioned upon the production of such alien before a special inquiry officer at the port of arrival within such time as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, or the payment of the penalty in case the alien is not produced. Pending the payment of such fine or penalty, or the execution of such bond, the vessel shall not be granted clearance papers. Such fine or penalty may be remitted or mitigated by the Secretary of Labor, who shall also prescribe rules and regulations governing the remission or mitigation of such fines or penalties, and the conditions upon which aliens may be allowed to land temporarily pending the final decision as to their admissibility, and may commute any such fine or penalty to an amount not less than $10 for each alien with respect to whom such fine or penalty was incurred. Such fines, penalties, and bonds may be sued for and recovered by the United States, or remitted or mitigated by the Secretary of Labor, before any court of competent jurisdiction. Jurisdiction is hereby conferred upon the district courts of the United States and the district court of the District of Columbia, and it shall be the duty of the United States attorneys and the Commissioners of Immigration, under the direction of the Attorney General, to prosecute any suits brought to recover such fines or penalties. Any such suit may be brought in the district in which the vessel may arrive or depart or in which the master or owner may be found.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 6. Clearance shall not be refused any vessel until the data required by section 38 of the act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and no alien whose name is required to be furnished by such section or to that prescribed by section 33 of this act shall be allowed to land from any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place until the master has delivered such alien from the United States immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a certificate stating that the data required by said section have been furnished with respect to such alien, or that the master is unable to furnish such data with respect to such alien, stating the reason therefor, and that a bond has been given by the master in the penal sum of $300 conditioned for the production of such alien to the immigrant inspector at the time and place he may be required to land.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 16. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or adjacent islands, or touching at any port of the United States on the Atlantic ocean, the Pacific ocean, the Gulf of Mexico, or the Caribbean Sea, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or treatment in a hospital, or pending the departure of the vessel on which he arrived or the departure of such vessel from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, and each such alien seaman (except temporary visitors in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the immigrant examiner), or who fails to deliver such alien seaman on board such vessel upon inspection or to depart such seaman if refused by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor, to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. A vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Upon that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outward manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or that he was rejected by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor, and that such vessel has departed from the port of arrival without the permission of such officer or the Secretary of Labor, or a failure to deport such alien seaman on such vessel or another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived cannot be accomplished by reason of the failure of the master to comply with the provisions of this section, the master shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such failure occurs.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, D. F. Lewis, master of the Norwegian M/S Hercules, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew, brought in said vessel from and port or place during her present voyage. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration officer at the port. Immediately preceding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest shall contain the names of all persons who may be rejected by the immigration officer at the port.

When an attorney assumes to act "notarially," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the destination of each alien, together with such information required from the vessel by the Secretary of Labor shall be entered on such lists as may be required by the rules and regulations prescribed, and before the vessel shall be granted clearance by the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerned, or imposed to secure to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien shall have been illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the vessel shall be granted clearance by the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerned, or imposed to secure to such immigration officer at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the port of arrival the sum of $10 for each alien as to whom such information is required by the immigration officer to be furnished and which is not furnished, or as to whom it is found that the information furnished is incorrect, and before the vessel shall be granted clearance by the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien not duly reported, or for the failure to report such cases of deportation or hospital, such owner, agent, consignee, or master, shall, if practicable, be returned on the vessel on which he arrived, or, if that be not practicable, on the vessel sailing next after the discovery of such alien, to the country whence he came, at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and the cost of his maintenance while detained shall be a lien against the vessel, and shall be recoverable as a penalty from the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel bringing such alien, and the vessel may be detained until such penalty is paid or until a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(a) That all aliens arriving at the ports of the United States from foreign contiguous territory by water or by land shall be inspected by the immigrant inspectors at the time of their arrival and application for admission to the United States, but such inspection shall not affect the decision as to whether or not they may be admitted to the United States or shall be subject to deportation under the provisions of this Act.

(b) That the Secretary of Labor shall have the power and duty to control and guard the admission and immigration of aliens into the United States, and he shall make all rules and prescribe all forms and regulations necessary for the execution of the provisions of this Act, and he shall have charge of all matters concerning the care, detention, maintenance, instruction, hospital treatment, and guardianship of all classes of aliens who may be admitted temporarily or permanently to the United States, and he shall have the power and duty to establish such bureaus, boards, offices, and detention stations in the United States and such places in foreign countries and at such ports of the United States as he may think necessary or advisable for the proper administration and enforcement of this Act, and all such bureaus, boards, offices, and detention stations shall be subject to the direction of the Secretary of Labor in charge of the United States Immigration Service.

(c) That the Secretary of Labor shall have the power and duty to establish such regulations, prescribe such forms of bond, make such inspection of himself and through such officers and employees of the United States as he may designate, and take such evidence as he may deem necessary to prevent the admission of any alien to the United States who is not entitled under this Act to admission, to detect and arrest any alien who shall enter the United States in violation of this Act, and to cancel any certificate or permit granted by him or by any person authorized to act in his behalf.

SEC. 20. (a) That no alien seaman shall be admitted into the United States unless he has in his possession a certificate from a consular officer of the United States, stating that such alien seaman has been found admissible for admission to the United States under the immigration laws and has been shipped on board such vessel at the port where such consular officer is stationed, or at the nearest practicable port to which such alien seaman may proceed for the purpose of being so shipped, and that such consular officer has caused the name of such alien seaman to be entered on the vessel's articles before the departure of the vessel from such port. Such certificate shall be prepared in triplicate, on forms prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and the original thereof shall be delivered to the master of such vessel, a duplicate retained by such consular officer, and the triplicate transmitted to the Commissioner General of Immigration. Such certificate shall be viséed by the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival before such alien seaman shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for hospital treatment, or because detained at Ellis Island for special examination in connection with the decision as to whether or not he belongs to one of the classes excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board the vessel attempting to depart from the United States, or because detained by the United States authorities for the purpose of prosecution, or as a witness in connection therewith, or because detained by the United States authorities as a witness in connection with the prosecution of any person charged with a violation of any law of the United States, except temporarily for hospital treatment, or because detained by the United States authorities as a witness in connection with the prosecution of any person charged with a violation of any law of the United States, or because such alien seaman is a member of the crew of a vessel which will depart within the period of time required by the immigration officer at the port of arrival for the departure of such vessel, and such alien seaman shall be returned on board such vessel and be employed thereon by the master or owner thereof, unless such master or owner shall satisfy the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival that such alien seaman will desert the vessel at no foreign port or place. Such alien seaman shall be returned on board such vessel

The list checked below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector at the port.

Each alien (name each one) shall not be examined on board, but shall be detained by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port.

When an arriving seaman is a "stowaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival by sea or by way of a foreign port or place at which the quota of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof or the immigrant inspector officer in charge of the port of arrival have contracted with the owners of all vessels employed on such route, whereby such vessels were respectively bound in the event of the refusal of any alien seaman to depart on board the vessel on which he arrived at the port of arrival, or his consignee, or master thereof, to pay the cost of the maintenance of such alien seaman while detained at the port of arrival, as soon as discovered, in writing, by the immigrant inspector officer, or within twenty-four hours after such alien seaman has been landed from the vessel, except the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the payment of such maintenance by the owners of vessels in cases where it is impracticable to return such alien seaman on board the vessel on which he arrived at the port of arrival, or where the master of such vessel refuses to receive such alien seaman on board, or where the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived has been condemned as unseaworthy, and the cost of the maintenance of such alien seaman while detained at the port of arrival, pending his departure on board some other vessel or otherwise, shall be paid to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1.50 for each alien detained, which sum shall be covered into the Treasury as a head tax. Such sum shall be refunded by the master of the vessel to the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof upon the presentation of a receipt showing the payment of such head tax to the alien seaman. Such head tax shall be in addition to any other sum required by law to be paid by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel for the support and maintenance of such alien seaman. Such head tax shall be a lien upon the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived, which may be enforced by libel in any district court of the United States within the district in which such vessel may be found. No such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such head tax, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit with the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such head tax is claimed. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment of such head tax, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit with the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $4 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such head tax is claimed, or the production of a bond approved by the collector of customs and sufficient to cover the payment of such head tax, and, in the event such head tax is refunded, such bond shall become void and be canceled. Such head tax shall be refunded in the event the alien seaman is permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for the purpose of obtaining medical treatment, or hospital or other relief necessary, or is returned on the vessel on which he arrived at the port of arrival or on any vessel of the same owner, agent, consignee, or master as the vessel on which he arrived at the port of arrival, or on any vessel which brings another alien seaman to the port of arrival to take the place of the seaman who is refunded the head tax, or is returned on a vessel of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which he arrived at the port of arrival, or on a vessel of any owner, agent, consignee, or master which shall have been substituted for the vessel on which he arrived at the port of arrival, or is returned on a vessel of any owner, agent, consignee, or master which shall have been substituted for the vessel on which he arrived at the port of arrival, or

When an alternate manifest is used, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival [here contained a list of names of all persons on board such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, what nationality they were respectively entitled to, or claimed, and whether they intended to become citizens of the United States, and whether they had a ticket through to their destination, and if so, the name of the railway company which issued it and the number thereof, and whether they had been in the United States before, and if so, when and where, whether they had been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether they were connected with any criminal institution or penal institution, their calling or occupation, whether they were in possession of money, and if so, how much, whether they were coming under contract to perform labor, whether they had paid their own passage or whether it was paid by others, whether they were in good health, mental and physical, and whether deformed or crippled, and if so, how, the height, race, last residence, and destination of each person who may not be entitled to admission, and such information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, in addition to the information required to be furnished by masters of vessels by section 12 of the immigration act of February 20, 1907, and by such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and shall present such list to the immigrant inspector at the time of inspection of the vessel at the port of arrival, and before any of the passengers shall be landed from the vessel, which list or a duplicate thereof, verified by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel, shall be delivered to the commissioner of immigration at the port of arrival by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel before the vessel shall depart from the port, and a failure to deliver such list or any part thereof, or to furnish the information required concerning any person specified therein, shall be unlawful and punishable as provided in section 37 of this Act: Provided, That the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall have delivered to the immigrant inspector a list containing the names of all persons who have been taken on board his vessel for inspection, and who shall have made oath before the immigrant inspector that the list contains the names of all persons who have been taken on board his vessel for inspection, shall not be required to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the time of inspection any list or part of list containing the name or names of any person or persons who may have been taken on board his vessel for inspection and who do not appear at the time of inspection, but such master, agent, consignee, or owner shall be required to deliver such list, or part of list, containing the name or names of such person or persons who do not appear for inspection to the commissioner of immigration at the port of arrival within twenty-four hours after the inspection of the vessel by the immigrant inspector, unless such person or persons shall sooner present themselves for inspection, and for each and every person who may be taken on board his vessel for inspection and who does not appear for inspection as aforesaid within twenty-four hours after the inspection of the vessel by the immigrant inspector, unless such person or persons shall sooner present themselves for inspection, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel upon which such person or persons was taken for inspection shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each person specified in the list required to be delivered by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel as aforesaid, but not including in the number of persons for which a penalty is imposed any person who is in transit through the United States to some foreign country and who is in possession of a through ticket to such country, and any person who is a bona fide resident of Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Cuba, Porto Rico, the Canal Zone, Hawaii, or the Philippine Islands who shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he is such bona fide resident of one of such countries and that he entered the United States solely for the purpose of visiting the United States temporarily as a visitor or in transit through the United States to some foreign country, and any person who is in possession of a through ticket to such country and who establishes to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he is entitled to admission to some foreign country after a visit to the United States, and any person who establishes to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he is a member of a class of aliens who, pursuant to section 3 of this Act, may be admitted to the United States without becoming subject to the head tax levied by section 2 of this Act.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished and not then unless notice of inability to the administrative has been received by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act, stating that the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospital to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the safeguarding of the public health, and such alien seaman shall be placed in the custody of the master of the vessel. The list of crewmen required to be delivered on board such vessel by the immigrant inspector shall contain a statement of the number of aliens employed on such vessel who have been excluded from admission into the United States, and the ports at which they were respectively excluded.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof shall cause every alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall have issued to such alien seaman (unless inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to obtain such certificate, a landing card, which shall be delivered on board such vessel and inspected by such immigration officer or the secretary of labor before such seaman shall be permitted to land. Such landing card shall be issued only upon the production of such alien seaman of a passport visaed by an American consular officer in which the port of arrival is located (the visa fee of $2.12 not to be charged in addition), and shall contain such information concerning such alien seaman as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Such passport shall be returned to such alien seaman on board such vessel before departure from the United States.

(b) Any alien seaman who fails to present himself for physical examination by the medical examiners, or who fails to obtain a landing card before the departure of the vessel on which he arrived, shall be deemed to have remained in the United States in violation of law, and may be arrested and deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the Act of February 5, 1917, as amended by section 6 of the Act of May 26, 1924.

(c) Any master, owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or adjacent islands, who violates any of the provisions of this section or any rule or regulation made thereunder, or who knowingly or negligently files or causes to be filed any false or incorrect list, manifest, or other document or paper required by this section to be filed with the commissioner of immigration, or who refuses to present any such list, manifest, or other document or paper for examination upon the demand of any immigration officer authorized to make such demand, or who refuses to permit any immigration officer to board such vessel or to enter any part thereof, or who refuses to detain any alien seaman on board thereof when required so to do by any immigration officer, or who refuses or fails to deliver to the master of any vessel any alien seaman required by this section to be left behind, or who refuses or fails to remove any such alien seaman on board or from such vessel when required so to do by any immigration officer, or who refuses or fails to pay the tax imposed by section 2 of the Act of February 5, 1917, or any part thereof, shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each such alien seaman in respect to whom any such violation occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of any question under this section, or while any fine, penalty, or tax incurred or imposed pursuant to this section remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the question upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector.

(d) Any alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States in accordance with the terms of any permit granted him under the provisions of this section, or who shall remain in the United States for a longer time than permitted, shall be deemed a person who entered the United States without inspection at the time of his entry, and may be arrested and deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the Act of February 5, 1917, as amended by section 6 of the Act of May 26, 1924.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that any vessel or aircraft arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory or adjacent islands has been allowed to depart therefrom without having landed all alien seamen employed thereon, and that any such alien seaman has been left behind contrary to the provisions of this section, such vessel or aircraft shall be required to remain in the United States for such period of time as the Secretary of Labor may deem necessary, not to exceed five days, unless sooner granted clearance by the Secretary of Labor.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, _____, of the _____, do declare that the foregoing list contains a full and true statement of all the crew now employed in said vessel, and that no part of the crew now employed has been left behind in any foreign port or place during the present voyage. I have noted the color of each person in the list required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from subdivision B, rule 7, and copy of sections 18 and 30, Act of May 26, 1924, marked above.

The list of questions below shall be propounded on appeal from alien applicants rejected by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration officer at the port.

Interpreters employed by aliens must be approved by the inspector in charge of the port at which the alien arrives before communicating the answers to all questions propounded to such alien applicants.

Upon the completion of the examination of each alien applicant the immigration officer in charge of the port at which the alien arrives shall indorse upon the manifest the word "admitted" or "rejected," as the case may be, opposite the name of such alien applicant.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 38. That there shall be levied, collected, and paid a tax of $8 for each alien, whether adult or minor, entering the United States from any foreign port or place in the owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing such alien to the United States, which tax shall be paid before any such alien shall be allowed to land; and the said tax shall be paid to the collector of customs of the district in which such vessel shall arrive, or to his deputies, by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of such vessel before any such alien shall be landed from such vessel; and the said tax shall be refunded to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of such vessel if such alien shall not be allowed to land: Provided, That nothing in this section shall be construed to impose such tax upon any alien who is in transit through the United States to a foreign country, who has been in the United States but a short time prior to his departure, who is a bona fide resident of Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Cuba, Central or South America, or adjacent islands belonging to the countries aforesaid, who is not destined to the United States, who shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor his admissibility without becoming a public charge, and who shall not engage in any occupation for which he is not duly qualified: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, by rules prescribed in accordance with section 35 of this Act, exempt from the payment of the tax provided for in this section any alien who is in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa, who is not destined to the United States, but who is in transit through the United States to a foreign country, who establishes to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor his admissibility without becoming a public charge, and who is not engaged in any occupation for which he is not duly qualified: And

The list specified below shall be prepared on paper bearing appropriate letterhead, showing the vessel's name, official number, and port of registry, and shall be subscribed by the master. The list of aliens required by the immigration officer at the port of departure from the United States shall be made on the prescribed form, and shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of departure before the vessel leaves the dock at which she is lying, or, if she is not docked, before the vessel departs from the port. If any alien fails to be listed, or if the vessel departs from the port without having been granted clearance by the immigration officer, the master shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien not listed.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 3. That the following persons shall be excluded from admission into the United States: All persons who have not been in actual possession of at least $50 in money, or who are coming under contract or agreement, parol or special, express or implied, to perform labor in this country, except as hereinafter provided, or who have been deported as paupers or who have come in consequence of advertisements for laborers, or who are assisted by others to come, or who are coming for the purpose of performing labor or service of any kind as contract laborers, except persons belonging in any of the classes enumerated in section 3 of this Act, or who have come in violation of any of the provisions of this Act, or who are prohibited by section 1 hereof, or who are idiots, insane persons, epileptics, or persons who have had one or more attacks of insanity at any time previously, or who are feeble-minded, or who are afflicted with constitutional psychopathic inferiority, or who are afflicted with chronic alcoholism, or who are paupers or likely to become public charges, or who are professional beggars, or who are afflicted with tuberculosis or with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, or who have been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or who are polygamists, or who believe in or advocate the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, or who disbelieve in or are opposed to organized government, or who advocate or belong to a class or group of persons who disbelieve in or are opposed to organized government, or who advocate the assassination of public officials, or who advocate or teach the unlawful destruction of property, or who are members of or affiliated with any organization entertaining a belief in, teaching, or advocating the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, or the unlawful destruction of property, or who are members of or affiliated with any such organization, or who advocate or teach the duty, necessity, or propriety of the unlawful assaulting or killing of any officer or officers, either of specific individuals or of officers generally, of the Government of the United States or of any other organized government, because of his or their official character, or who advocate or teach the unlawful assaulting or killing of any officer or officers, either of specific individuals or of officers generally, of the Government of the United States or of any other organized government, because of his or their official character, or who are members of or affiliated with any organization entertaining, advocating, or teaching the doctrine of the unlawful assaulting or killing of any officer or officers, either of specific individuals or of officers generally, of the Government of the United States or of any other organized government, because of his or their official character, or who are members of or affiliated with any such organization, or who are members of or affiliated with any organization entertaining, advocating, or teaching the duty, necessity, or propriety

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, whether the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, were then and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and especially those who are to be discharged in the port of arrival; or else consisting of such of the crew as may be destined to remain on board during the time the vessel is in port, and such information relative to the same as may be required by the Secretary of Labor shall be furnished from the vessel. Except a description of such aliens, collected with due information thereto, by the proper officers of the vessel, as the master is hereby required to furnish, no other information shall ever be demanded of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or officer of the vessel in which such alien may arrive, before the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival shall have first granted to such alien permission to land, or to the immediate custody of such alien by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or officer of the vessel, and before the master, owner, agent, consignee, or officer of the vessel shall have been given a certificate in writing by such immigration officer to the effect that the matter of the inspection of such alien has been completed. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or officer of any such vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver to such immigration officer, in manner as above required, all lists of aliens required by this section to be delivered, or who refuses to deliver to such immigration officer, in manner as above required, any such information as is called for by the forms prescribed and before the master, owner, agent, consignee, or officer of the vessel has been given a certificate in writing by such immigration officer as above provided, shall pay a penalty of $10 for each and every such alien concerning whom any such information is withheld, and no such vessel shall be cleared or granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, such vessel shall not have the right to be granted clearance papers until such fine shall have been paid or remitted. Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 6

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by Section 36 have been furnished, and not then unless the master of likewise to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 unless such fine shall have been remitted.

In Rule 55 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 16. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the deportation or removal of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, operator, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, who shall employ on board such vessel any alien seaman who has not been duly admitted by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival for the purpose of performing duty as a seaman on board such vessel, or who shall fail to report the illness or hospitalization of any alien seaman employed on board such vessel, or who shall fail to deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival such alien seaman (within twenty-four hours after the arrival of such vessel at such port, if such alien seaman is then ill, or if he shall become ill within such time), for examination by such officer, or who shall fail to detain on board such vessel any alien seaman who has been certified in accordance with the provisions of this section, shall pay a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment of such penalty, or while any such penalty remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond satisfactory to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof shall be held to have been given that any alien seaman did not obtain upon the discharge of the vessel or while he was employed in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport such alien seaman on board such vessel or to report his illness or hospitalization or to deposit such sum or bond as required by this section.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, or on which he is employed, would cause undue hardship to such seaman or would cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(d) Section 35 of the Immigration Act of 1917 is repealed, but shall remain in force as to all vessels, their owners, agents, consignees, and masters, and as to all seamen, arriving in the United States prior to the enactment of this Act. 24—888

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, _____, of the _____, do depose and say that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew thereof in said vessel from and including the master down to the last person shipped, so far as I have been able to ascertain, and that the following is a correct statement of the nationality, last permanent residence, and the date and port of shipment of each of them; that I am the master (or first or second officer) of said vessel; that I have made a careful examination of the crew and of the log of said vessel, and that I have personally interrogated each member of the crew concerning the matters set forth in the foregoing list; that I have complied with the provisions of the United States immigration laws and of paragraph 6, subdivision (b), Immigration Rule 6, so far as they apply to me, and that I have caused the other members of the crew to comply with such provisions so far as they apply to them, to the best of my knowledge and belief.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspectors detailed to board vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens or alien members of crews (Form 598) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port.

When an alien arrives seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and the ports at which they severally intend to be landed; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers until the master thereof has delivered to the collector of customs the lists required by this section, and has made oath before such collector that they contain a full and correct account of all such aliens employed on board such vessel to the best of his knowledge and belief up to the time of such clearance, and that he will deliver a copy of such lists to the immigrant inspector at the port of first arrival in the United States of any such alien employed on board such vessel after the time of such clearance and before the arrival of such vessel at such port. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such lists, or who shall refuse or neglect to make oath to the same as herein required, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each such offense. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers in such case until the master thereof has complied with the requirements of this section. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall knowingly and willfully report falsely or fraudulently in relation to the matters required by this section, or who shall knowingly and willfully refuse to report any such matter required of him by this section, or who shall knowingly and willfully refuse to report any such matter required of him by this section, or who shall knowingly and willfully report falsely or fraudulently in relation to the matters required by this section, or who shall knowingly and willfully refuse to report any such matter required of him by this section, or who shall knowingly and willfully refuse to report any such matter required of him by this section, or who shall knowingly and willfully refuse to report any such matter required of him

The list checked below shall be presented on blank forms furnished by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration officer at the port of arrival [see sections 4 and 12 (a) of the immigration act of 1917]. The list of aliens is to be prepared in the order of their manifests, and the number of the corresponding manifest entered on each list. Each list must be verified by the master or commanding officer or purser of the vessel at the time of arrival at the first port in the United States. Any changes or additions to the lists must be verified in the same manner by the master or commanding officer or purser of the vessel at the time of its departure from the last port in the United States. Any alien who is entered on the list and who is not on board the vessel at the time of its departure will be required to show cause why he is not on board, and his failure to do so may result in a fine of $1,000 for each alien not produced or accounted for to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor or his representative. Any alien who is on board the vessel at the time of its departure from the last port in the United States and who is not entered on the lists will be required to show cause why he is not entered, and his failure to do so may result in a fine of $1,000 for each alien not produced or accounted for to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor or his representative. Any alien who is on board the vessel at the time of its departure from the last port in the United States and who is not entered on the lists will be required to show cause why he is not entered, and his failure to do so may result in a fine of $1,000 for each alien not produced or accounted for to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor or his representative.

(a) The master, purser, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof [except vessels plying between the United States and Canada, Mexico, Newfoundland, the West Indies, Panama, Cuba, or Miquelon] shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and before any alien has left the vessel, a list containing the name, age, sex, calling, nationality, last permanent residence, final destination, whether having a ticket through, whether in possession of money, and whether going to join relatives or friends, and if so, what relatives or friends, of each alien on board, and shall indicate in the manner directed by the Secretary of Labor which aliens are to be detained on board or at quarantine for special examination. Any master, purser, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who refuses or fails to deliver such list, or who delivers an incomplete list, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such information is not furnished.

(b) The master, purser, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel bringing an alien who is not in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa, if such visa is required by law, or who is not in possession of a valid unexpired passport, if a passport is required by law, shall be liable to a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien, unless it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that such master, purser, agent, consignee, or owner had no reasonable ground to believe that such alien was an alien of the class prohibited admission to the United States at the time of departure from the last foreign port or place or contiguous territory.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that deportation of the alien detained on the vessel or any of the vessel or vessels mentioned in the manifest will be unduly delayed, and such vessel shall be ready to depart from the port, the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, permit the master, purser, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to deposit with the Secretary of Labor a sum sufficient to cover the cost of the maintenance of such alien or aliens pending the completion of the necessary formalities and the departure of the vessel, such sum to be refunded upon the departure of the alien or aliens, or so much thereof as may not be necessary for such purpose; or, in his discretion, he may permit the master, purser, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to give a bond with sufficient surety, to be approved by the Secretary of Labor, conditioned for the maintenance of such alien or aliens pending the completion of the necessary formalities and the departure of the vessel from the port. Such bond shall be in such amount as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, not exceeding $300 for each alien detained, and may be sued upon and recovered by the United States in the event that such alien or aliens shall become a public charge within one year after entry or shall be found in the United States in violation of this act.

(d) The master, purser, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel bringing an alien who is not in possession of a valid unexpired visa, if such visa is required by law, or who is not in possession of a valid unexpired passport, if a passport is required by law, shall be liable to a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien, unless it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that such master, purser, agent, consignee, or owner had no reasonable ground to believe that such alien was an alien of the class prohibited admission to the United States at the time of departure from the last foreign port or place or contiguous territory.

Sec. 36. That any person, including any transportation company, who shall bring into the United States from any foreign port or place any alien who is found to be afflicted with any of the mental or physical defects or diseases specified in section 2 of this act, shall be required to return such alien to the country whence he came or to the place from which he embarked, as the Secretary of Labor may direct, and the cost of the maintenance of such alien while in the United States and of his return shall be borne by the person or transportation company bringing him. Any person, including any transportation company, bringing any alien afflicted with any such defect or disease, or who has been deported as such, who shall thereafter return to the United States shall be fined not more than $200 and imprisoned not more than one year, unless prior to his return such alien shall have been given permission to reapply for admission by the Secretary of Labor. Any person, including any transportation company, bringing any alien who has been excluded from admission and deported in pursuance of the provisions of this act, who shall return to the United States in violation thereof, shall be fined not more than $1,000 and imprisoned not more than one year, and shall be deported as provided for in this act. Any alien who shall enter the United States in violation of this section shall be deported as provided for in this act.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

Sec. 38. That any alien arriving at a port within the United States who is found to be afflicted with any of the mental or physical defects or diseases specified in section 2 of this act, or who has been deported as such, shall be given a hearing before a board of special inquiry, which shall report to the Secretary of Labor whether such alien may land in the United States. Such alien shall have the right to appeal from the decision of the board of special inquiry to the Secretary of Labor, who shall give such appeal due consideration and make such order as he may deem proper. Pending the decision of the Secretary of Labor, such alien shall be detained in such manner as the Secretary of Labor may direct. All expenses for the maintenance of such alien while detained under the provisions of this section shall be borne by the owner of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States.

(a) That the Secretary of Labor shall cause a careful physical and mental examination to be made of any alien who arrives in the United States on board any vessel, and if he finds that any alien has a mental defect of such a character as to render him likely to become a public charge, or has a contagious disease which will endanger the public health, he shall cause such alien to be detained on board such vessel or at such place as he may designate until a careful examination can be made of such alien, and if he finds that such alien belongs to any of the classes excluded by law he shall cause such alien to be deported in the manner provided by law. Any alien who becomes a public charge within one year after his entry into the United States from causes existing prior to his entry shall be deported as provided by law. Any alien who shall enter the United States in violation of this section shall be deported as provided for in this act.

(b) That the Secretary of Labor shall cause careful inquiry to be made concerning the importation into the United States of any alien who is excluded by law, and who shall come into the United States in violation of law, and for this purpose he may employ such special agents as he may deem necessary, and may employ counsel to represent the United States in such cases as may be appealed to the courts, and may pay such counsel such sums for their services as he may deem reasonable.

Sec. 39. That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, take such measures and make such rules and regulations as he may think necessary to prevent the introduction into the United States of any of the diseases mentioned in section 2 of this act, and may, in his discretion, refuse admission to the United States to any alien coming from a country wherein any of such diseases exist, or to any alien coming from any locality in such country which he may designate as infected with any of such diseases, until he is satisfied that such alien does not have any of such diseases, and may confine any alien found to be afflicted with any of such diseases in such manner as he may think necessary, and may cause such alien to be deported in accordance with the provisions of this act.

ALIEN SEAMEN

Sec. 10. No alien seaman shall be admitted into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign port or place, or any vessel plying between the United States and any insular possession thereof, or between any two such possessions, unless such alien seaman, except those employed in the Canal Zone, shall have been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence and shall have in his possession the immigration visa required by section 3 of this act. Any alien seaman who shall land in violation of this section shall be deported as provided in this act, and shall be deemed to be a person excluded from admission and who entered the United States illegally. Any master or agent of any vessel who shall employ any alien seaman not lawfully entitled to enter the United States shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned for not more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court.

Sec. 30. (a) Immigrant, quota, and nonquota immigrant visas shall be granted to aliens applying therefor who are found by the consular officer to be admissible under the immigration laws and this act, and who are not inadmissible under the public health laws in force at the time of the application for admission to the United States. Immigrant visas shall be granted to quota immigrants only during the period beginning with the first day of July of the calendar year for which the quota is applicable and ending with the last day of June of the next succeeding calendar year. Nonquota immigrant visas may be granted at any time.

(b) Quota immigrant visas shall be granted in the order in which such aliens apply therefor, except that preference shall be given to applicants entitled to nonquota immigrant visas as the wives, unmarried children under 18 years of age, or parents of citizens of the United States who have sufficient means to support themselves and their families, or who have a definite job awaiting them, and are found by the consular officer to be otherwise admissible under the immigration laws and this act. Quota immigrant visas shall be granted to the wives, children under 18 years of age, and parents of citizens of the United States who are found by the consular officer to be otherwise admissible under the immigration laws and this act, notwithstanding the numerical limitation of any calendar month.

Sec. 31. (a) Immigrant visas shall be granted only upon the presentation by the alien to the consular officer of a valid passport issued to him by the country of which he is a subject or national, or, if he is not the subject or national of any country, by the country of which he last was a subject or national, except that in the case of an alien who has resided continuously for two years prior to his application for a visa in the country of which he is a native, and who is unable to obtain a passport, a consular officer may, in his discretion, upon the production of such other evidence of identity as may be prescribed by the Secretary of State, certify in lieu of a passport that he is satisfied that the alien is entitled to receive a visa. Such certification shall be made in duplicate, one copy to be delivered to the alien and the other to be retained in the files of the consular office. Such certification shall be valid only for the period of the visa granted in reliance thereon.

(b) Immigrant visas shall be granted only upon the presentation by the alien to the consular officer of a valid unexpired passport, if a passport is required by law, and of such other documents as may be required by the Secretary of State.

Sec. 32. That no alien shall be admitted to the United States unless he has an unexpired immigration visa, or is otherwise entitled to enter, except that a nonresident alien may be admitted in pursuance of such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, upon the payment of the head tax, if in possession of a valid unexpired passport or other travel document, or such other means of identification as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and if found by the immigration officer at the port of arrival to be clearly and beyond a doubt entitled to enter the United States under all the laws applicable thereto.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 6. Certificates shall not be granted and passports shall not be issued pursuant to section 2 of the act of February 5, 1917, save as provided by section 30 of this act and subdivision (a) of section 31 thereof, to any alien who is not in possession of an immigration visa granted by an American consular officer, except that certificates may be granted and passports issued to aliens lawfully admitted for permanent residence who are returning to the United States from a temporary visit abroad, and to aliens who are returning to the United States after having resided therein for at least two years and who have been prevented from obtaining immigration visas before sailing by the shortness of time between the date of their application for such visas and the departure of the vessel on which they have engaged passage, or by the unavailability of such vessel, or by reason of the sailing dates of such vessels not being definitely fixed at the time of application for visas, or by reason of the fact that the vessel on which they have engaged passage touches at a port or ports in the United States before sailing for a foreign port, or by reason of the fact that the vessel on which they have engaged passage is scheduled to call at a port in the United States for the purpose of embarking passengers for a foreign port, or by reason of the fact that the vessel on which they have engaged passage is scheduled to call at a port in the United States for the purpose of disembarking passengers en route to a foreign port, or by reason of the fact that the vessel on which they have engaged passage is scheduled to call at a port in the United States for the purpose of changing the character of the vessel's service, provided the vessel is regularly

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of vessels in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing a full and correct manifest of all persons on board such vessels, stating the locations from vessels respectively built in the ship's compass, were then and where they were respectively naturalized, and whether they have in their possession certificates of citizenship, and, if so, the number, date, and place of issuance of each certificate, as far as known, the name of the vessel, names and a description of each alien, so far as known to such owner, agent, consignee, or master, to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel since the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place, and the reason for the failure to deliver such list or any part thereof, and to report to such immigration officer, at arrival at each port in the United States, all aliens employed on such vessel since her departure from such foreign port or place, and pay the head tax of $8 for each alien employed on such vessel, which head tax shall constitute a lien upon such vessel, and shall be a debt owing by such owner, agent, consignee, or master to the United States, and may be collected by suit or withheld from such owner, agent, consignee, or master, or any vessel owned in whole or in part by him: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

SEC. 3. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the data required by section 28 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and all penalties incurred under section 37 of said act have been paid or secured, the deposit prescribed in rule 23 have been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or adjacent islands, except temporarily for incidental purposes, or intending to ship on board any vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has issued to such alien seaman a landing certificate, or permit to land temporarily, and such certificate or permit has been delivered to the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, which certificate or permit shall be surrendered by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to the immigration officer at the port of departure of such alien seaman, who shall indorse on the certificate or permit the fact of departure and return of such alien seaman. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers until the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof shall have paid to the collector of customs a sum sufficient to pay the cost of maintenance and return to the country whence he came of each alien seaman employed on board such vessel who may be certified by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival as likely to become a public charge, and a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(a) Text that is in addition to that to be furnished by the master of such vessel as a seaman, shall be printed in such size of type as to be clearly distinguishable from the remainder of the list.

(b) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that conditions in any foreign country make it impracticable to secure the visa of any consular officer in such country, he may authorize the issuance of certificates by such officers as he may designate, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such certificate has been had or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively held in the ship's company, naming and stating they were respectively entitled or intended, and whether they had been registered in the port of arrival; or if such information is not known as to the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any alien passenger from any foreign port or place at any port in the United States it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port a list containing the name and such other information about such alien as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; all cases in which any such alien has been lawfully admitted from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, pocketed, duly verified by the master of the vessel, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed by such master, agent, consignee, or master as the case may be, and reported, from any port or place in a foreign country, which were not reported on the list of the crew or the previous lists delivered under this section. Any master, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver any list required of him by this section, or who shall refuse to answer questions or furnish information in connection therewith, shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which such vessel shall arrive a sum not exceeding $10 for each alien concerning whom such correct lists are not delivered, or a sum equal to the expenses of detention, whichever is greater, to be paid before the vessel shall be granted clearance; but no such vessel shall be detained by the Secretary of Labor, by or for the collector of customs or the customs officer in charge of the port, for more than twenty-four hours by reason of the failure to deliver such lists on account of the refusal of any alien to be examined, unless the master, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel shall have been notified by the Secretary of Labor that such alien will be allowed to land from such vessel. Any master, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who shall refuse to allow any immigrant inspector to enter such vessel for the purpose of examining the lists of passengers required by this section to be delivered to the immigration officer, or who shall refuse to allow such immigrant inspector to remain on board of such vessel while it remains in port, or who shall refuse to allow such immigrant inspector to go from one part of such vessel to another while in port, shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which such vessel shall arrive a sum not exceeding $100 for each such offense. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, until it is paid, or a sufficient sum deposited to cover such fine.

If consular officer: Not shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 3. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 38 of the act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 36 of said act has been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, or injury requiring hospital treatment, or because of the necessity of such seaman for examination in connection with the case of a relative or friend who arrives on board such vessel, until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has investigated such seaman (which investigation in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to deposit on demand any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer at the port of arrival has issued a certificate to the effect that the case of such seaman has been investigated by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor, and that such seaman may be allowed to land, or who fails to deposit such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment of such sum, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Hotel and all alien seamen old not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was refused by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deposit after reimbursement by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or the payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing a true manifest of all persons on board such vessel, arranged and bound together in the order in which they were entered on the manifest, and such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Such lists shall be delivered to the port of arrival: or lists containing as much of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe, and other lists with such information likely to lead to the apprehension and deportation of any alien unlawfully entering the country, shall be delivered to the principal immigration officer at such other port or place as the Secretary of Labor may designate. Such lists shall be prepared and delivered in the form and manner and with such additional information relative to the persons named therein as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, and the owner, agent, consignee, master, or commander of any vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver such lists, or who delivers incomplete or inaccurate lists, shall be liable to a penalty of $100 for each and every such refusal or neglect, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the delivery of such lists or the correction of such incomplete or inaccurate lists to the satisfaction of the immigration officer at the port of arrival, nor shall such vessel be granted clearance papers in such cases from one port to another in the United States: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the delivery of such lists in cases of emergency, upon the payment of the penalty herein provided for, pending the delivery of such lists within the time prescribed by the Secretary of Labor: Provided further, That the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel from which no list or incomplete lists have been delivered may be allowed a writ of review upon application to the Secretary of Labor within the time limited for the delivery of such lists, and upon the giving of a bond with sufficient surety, to be approved by the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the delivery of such lists if the decision of the Secretary of Labor be adverse to the applicant.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted via vessel until the lists required by section 38 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and then only when the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel shall have made oath before a duly authorized officer of the administrative inspectional district that the lists required by section 38 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and that no person has been omitted therefrom whose presence on board the vessel was known to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer, or could have been ascertained by the exercise of reasonable diligence.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, or any vessel departing from the United States, except temporarily for inspection, detention, or hospital treatment, or because of sickness or injury requiring treatment which cannot be furnished on board such vessel, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of sickness or injury requiring treatment which cannot be furnished on board such vessel, until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman. Such inspection shall be separate and apart from the inspection of aliens other than seamen, and there shall be reasonable provision made by the immigration officer at the port of arrival for the proper medical examination of such seamen. Any seaman who is certified by the medical officer of the United States public health service at the port of arrival to be suffering from any disease or condition which would be the cause of his subsequent rejection by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall be treated as provided in section 18 of the immigration act of 1917. Any seaman who is certified by the medical officer of the United States public health service at the port of arrival to be suffering from any disease or condition which would be the cause of his subsequent rejection by the medical examiner, or who fails to obtain a permit to land from the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, may be required by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which he arrived to return to the country from which he came on the vessel on which he arrived or on some other vessel owned by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which he arrived, or on a vessel owned by a subject or citizen of the country to which he belongs, which will accept him in return, and the cost of his maintenance while detained and of his return shall be borne by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which he arrived. Any seaman who refuses to return on the vessel on which he arrived or on such other vessel when required so to do by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, or who fails to report to the immigration officer at the time specified for his return, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any seaman who, after having been certified by the medical officer of the United States public health service at the port of arrival to be suffering from any disease or condition which would be the cause of his subsequent rejection by the medical examiner, or who fails to obtain a permit to land from the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, may be required by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which he arrived to return to the country from which he came on the vessel or on some other vessel owned by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which he arrived, or on a vessel owned by a subject or citizen of the country to which he belongs, which will accept him in return, and the cost of his maintenance while detained and of his return shall be borne by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which he arrived. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form 598) shall not be detained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of departure. The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspectors boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form 598) shall not be detained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of departure.

When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing a true manifest of all persons on board such vessel, arranged and bound together in the order in which they were entered on the manifest, and such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Such lists shall be delivered to the port of arrival: or lists containing as much of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe, and other lists with such information likely to lead to the apprehension and deportation of any alien unlawfully entering the country, shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at such other port or place as the Secretary of Labor may designate. Such lists shall be prepared and delivered in the form and manner and with such additional information relative to the persons named therein as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, and the owner, agent, consignee, master, or commander of any vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver such lists, or who delivers incomplete or inaccurate lists, shall be liable to a penalty of $100 for each and every such refusal or neglect, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the delivery of such lists or the correction of such incomplete or inaccurate lists to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor. Such lists shall be prepared in duplicate, one list to be delivered to the port of arrival, and the duplicate list to be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of departure, and shall be verified by the oath of the master and by the oath of each cabin passenger as to the facts stated therein concerning each person whose name is entered on the list, except that in the case of infants the oath may be made by the parent or guardian accompanying them. The said lists shall show the full name, age, sex, occupation, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of every alien who shall have been granted a visa, the number and date of issuance of his passport, the place where his application for a visa was made, and such additional information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, the Secretary of State, or the Secretary of the Treasury. Such lists shall show whether each alien has been in the United States previously, and if so, when, how long he resided here, and whether he has been deported or has ever applied for deportation, and if so, when and why. The said lists shall show whether each alien has a ticket to his ultimate destination, whether he has been assisted in coming, whether his passage is paid by himself or by others, whether he is in possession of money, and how much, whether he is going to join relatives or friends, and if so, what relatives or friends, and their names and addresses, whether he has ever been in prison or almshouse or an institution for the insane or supported by charity, whether he is a polygamist, whether he is an anarchist, whether he believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, whether he is coming in pursuance of a previously arranged contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, and whether he has received assistance from any foreign government or society. The said lists shall show whether each alien is coming to the United States to perform labor, and if so, what his occupation is, and whether he has been guilty of any crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, and the cause for his deportation. The said lists shall show whether each alien is married or single, his height and weight, whether he is blind, deaf and dumb, or crippled, and the cause thereof, if known, and whether he has a tuberculous disease, or has had such disease, and whether he has ever been an inmate of or treated in a hospital for insane persons, and whether he is a professional beggar, vagrant, or anarchist. The said lists shall show whether each alien is a citizen or subject of the country of his former nationality, and his race, and the last country of which he was a citizen or subject. The said lists shall show whether each alien has been in the United States previously, and if so, when, how long he resided here, and whether he has been deported or has ever applied for deportation, and if so, when and why. The said lists shall show whether each alien has a ticket to his ultimate destination, whether he has been assisted in coming, whether his passage is paid by himself or by others, whether he is in possession of money, and how much, whether he is going to join relatives or friends, and if so, what relatives or friends, and their names and addresses, whether he has ever been in prison or almshouse or an institution for the insane or supported by charity, whether he is a polygamist, whether he is an anarchist, whether he believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, whether he is coming in pursuance of a previously arranged contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, and whether he has received assistance from any foreign government or society. The said lists shall show whether each alien is coming to the United States to perform labor, and if so, what his occupation is, and whether he has been guilty of any crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, and the cause for his deportation. The said lists shall show whether each alien is married or single, his height and weight, whether he is blind, deaf and dumb, or crippled, and the cause thereof, if known, and whether he has a tuberculous disease, or has had such disease, and whether he has ever been an inmate of or treated in a hospital for insane persons, and whether he is a professional beggar, vagrant, or anarchist. The said lists shall show whether each alien has been in the United States previously, and if so, when, how long he resided here, and whether he has been deported or has ever applied for deportation, and if so, when and why. The said lists shall show whether each alien has a ticket to his ultimate destination, whether he has been assisted in coming, whether his passage is paid by himself or by others, whether he is in possession of money, and how much, whether he is going to join relatives or friends, and if so, what relatives or friends, and their names and addresses, whether he has ever been in prison or almshouse or an institution for the insane or supported by charity, whether he is a polygamist, whether he is an anarchist, whether he believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, whether he is coming in pursuance of a previously arranged contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, and whether he has received assistance from any foreign government or society. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspectors boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall be in the custody of the master from the vessel. The list of passengers shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. Upon an arrival subject to the provisions of section 10 of the act of February 20, 1907, a separate list shall be prepared in the manner above provided for each class of passengers carried.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival in any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspectors at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, whether they be passengers, sailors, or otherwise, who intend to enter the United States, and whether they have consented or declared their intention to become citizens thereof or not, and the manifest shall be prepared in the form of writing; or data contained in such lists or manifests shall be typewritten on the reverse of the last page of such manifest, and shall be delivered as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to each immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed upon such vessel since the last previous list was delivered. Any person who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each alien as to whom such violation occurs. Upon the refusal of the master of any vessel to deliver the lists required by this section, or upon the refusal of any person to answer truthfully the questions propounded to him by the immigrant inspectors, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. The Secretary of Labor shall have the power to enter any vessel or vehicle arriving from foreign territory for the purpose of inspecting the same and the manifests and lists required by this section to be delivered to the immigrant inspectors, and for the purpose of examining any alien on board thereof, and to detain such vessel or vehicle for a sufficient time to accomplish such inspection, and any master, agent, consignee, or owner who refuses to permit such entry, inspection, or detention shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 38 of the act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished and found to be correct, the deposit specified in rule 35 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 16. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospitalization, or because of the necessity of obtaining surgical treatment, or because he has been detained as a witness in connection with the prosecution of persons charged with violating the immigration laws, and every such alien seaman shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 of the immigration act of 1917 to the country from which he came to the United States or to the country in which is located the port from which he last departed prior to his arrival at a port in the United States, except that any such alien seaman who is a native of the United States shall be entitled to be deported to the United States. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported as provided in this section, regardless of the time which may have elapsed between his entry and the discovery of his violation of this section. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported as provided in this section, regardless of the time which may have elapsed between his entry and the discovery of his violation of this section. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported as provided in this section, regardless of the time which may have elapsed between his entry and the discovery of his violation of this section.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or any person in charge of the port of arrival from immediately upon such arrival (whether permission to land be granted to all or any of the persons aboard such vessel or not) deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival manifests and lists or passenger declarations in such form as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and in such number of copies as may be required by the immigration officer in charge at the port, covering all persons on board such vessel, whether passengers or members of the crew, and concerning each such person before the departure of the vessel from the last port at which it touched, and before the departure of the vessel from each subsequent port or place at which it touches for passengers, or if destined to the United States from a port or place not adjacent to the United States, before the departure of the vessel from the last port or place at which it touches before coming to the United States, and before the departure of the vessel from each subsequent port or place at which it touches for passengers destined to the United States, and before the departure of the vessel from the United States for any port or place not adjacent to the United States, such additional information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor in the enforcement of the provisions of this Act, and such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any such vessel shall truthfully answer all questions propounded to him by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival or by any assistant to such officer touching the persons carried on board such vessel, their nationality, their right to admission to the United States, and such other matters as may be specified in such manifests and lists. Such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any such vessel shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a passport viséed by an American consular officer for each alien, other than a United States citizen, a seaman, or an alien in transit through the United States, who is required by section 2 of this Act to be in possession of a passport viséed as therein provided, and such other documents as may be required by the Secretary of Labor to establish the identity and nationality of such aliens and their admissibility to enter the United States. Such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or any person in charge of the port of arrival from which such vessel departs for the United States, who refuses to deliver manifests and lists or passenger declarations in the manner and form and within the time prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, or who delivers manifests and lists or passenger declarations which are incomplete or inaccurate in any respect, or who refuses to answer truthfully questions propounded to him by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, or who refuses to permit the entry of any immigration officer, or who refuses to permit the detention of any alien on board such vessel for examination by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, or who refuses to permit the examination of any such alien by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, or who refuses to detain any such alien on board such vessel when required so to do, or who refuses to deliver any such alien detained for special inquiry to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, or who refuses to pay the expenses of the maintenance of any such alien while detained for special inquiry, or who refuses to pay the cost of the return of any such alien ordered deported, shall pay to the collector of customs at the port of arrival a sum not exceeding $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such violation occurs, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment of such sum, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien who shall not be in possession of the visé of a consular officer, or other document required by section 2 of this Act, at the time of his application for admission to the United States, and every alien who shall enter the United States at a time or place other than as designated by immigration officers, or who enters without inspection, or who shall enter the United States by means of a visé, passport, or other document obtained from the consular officer by fraud or misrepresentation, shall be deported as provided in section 19 of the immigration act of 1917. Any alien who shall enter the United States in violation of this section shall be deported as provided in section 19 of the immigration act of 1917. Any alien who shall enter the United States in violation of this section shall be deported as provided in section 19 of the immigration act of 1917.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall have reason to believe that any alien has been guilty of any act or thing which would be a ground for deportation under this section, he shall cause such alien to be taken into custody and shall cause a warrant and a copy of the charges against him to be delivered to him, and he shall have a reasonable opportunity to be heard before the Secretary of Labor or such officer as he may designate for that purpose. Such warrant shall be issued and such hearing shall be had

The list of races printed below shall be preserved on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery at the inspection of vessels. The list of races of which each person on board is described in the certificate of identity shall be the same as the races entered opposite his name in the list of seamen required to be carried on board the vessel. The certificate of identity of each seaman shall be exhibited to him when the list of seamen is corrected, and when he is discharged. Any master who fails to comply with any provision of this section shall be liable to a penalty of $100 for each offense.

(See. 4, act of February 6, 1915, as amended by act of March 4, 1915.)

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 28. That upon written application of any person duly authorized by the Secretary of Commerce, the Commissioner of Immigration at any port of arrival shall furnish to such person a certified list containing the name, age, nationality, last residence, and destination of each alien who may be refused a permit to land by the immigration officers at such port, and the reasons for such refusal shall be noted on said list. Such certified list shall be prima facie evidence in favor of the right of the person who secures it to demand the deportation of any alien who may thereafter be found unlawfully in the United States, and who was included in such list, and the Secretary of Labor shall cause any such alien to be deported in accordance with the provisions of section 19 of this Act upon the application of such person, made within one year after the date of such certified list, to the Commissioner of Immigration at the port through which such alien originally entered the United States, or to the Commissioner of Immigration at any port to which such alien may subsequently have come in transit through the United States from foreign contiguous territory. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the detention of any alien during the pendency of any application for his deportation, but any such alien who departs from the United States pending the decision upon such application shall be deported only in accordance with the provisions of section 19 of this Act. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the Commissioner of Immigration at any port of arrival to refuse a permit to land to any alien who, in his judgment, is clearly and beyond a doubt entitled to admission under the provisions of this Act, but in every case where a permit to land is refused the Commissioner of Immigration shall furnish to such alien a certified list as herein provided, if requested by such alien within one year after the date of such refusal. Any person who shall willfully refuse to furnish such certified list when requested so to do by any alien who was refused a permit to land, and who thereafter shall have been deported at the expense of any steamship or transportation company, shall pay to the Secretary of Labor, for the use of the United States, the sum of $1,000 for each alien so deported, to be recovered by suit in the name of the United States. Any steamship or transportation company which shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section shall pay a penalty of $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such refusal or neglect occurs. Any penalty imposed by this section may be remitted in whole or in part, or may be paid into the treasury of the United States, by the Secretary of Labor, in his discretion, upon such terms and conditions as he may prescribe. Provided, That no penalty shall be imposed under this section if it shall appear to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that it was impossible for the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel to obtain the information necessary to furnish the certified list within the time specified herein, but in such cases the vessel shall be required to wait a sufficient length of time for the certified list to be obtained, not exceeding three days, unless sooner released by the Secretary of Labor, or unless the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel shall furnish a bond in such sum, not exceeding $500, as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, sufficient to insure compliance with the requirements of this section. Nothing herein shall be construed to amend, modify, or repeal section 2 of the Act of March 3, 1903, entitled "An Act to regulate the immigration of aliens into the United States," nor to relieve any steamship or transportation company from the payment of the penalty therein prescribed.

(See. 29. That upon written application of any person duly authorized by the Secretary of Commerce, the Commissioner of Immigration at any port of arrival shall furnish to such person a certified list containing the name, age, nationality, last residence, and destination of each alien who may be refused a permit to land by the Commissioner of Immigration at such port, and the reasons for such refusal shall be noted on said list. Such certified list shall be prima facie evidence in favor of the right of the person who secures it to demand the deportation of any alien who may thereafter be found unlawfully in the United States, and who was included in such list, and the Secretary of Labor shall cause any such alien to be deported in accordance with the provisions of section 19 of this Act upon the application of such person, made within one year after the date of such certified list, to the Commissioner of Immigration at the port through which such alien originally entered the United States, or to the Commissioner of Immigration at any port to which such alien may subsequently have come in transit through the United States from foreign contiguous territory. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the detention of any alien during the pendency of any application for his deportation, but any such alien who departs from the United States pending the decision upon such application shall be deported only in accordance with the provisions of section 19 of this Act. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the Commissioner of Immigration at any port of arrival to refuse a permit to land to any alien who, in his judgment, is clearly and beyond a doubt entitled to admission under the provisions of this Act, but in every case where a permit to land is refused the Commissioner of Immigration shall furnish to such alien a certified list as herein provided, if requested by such alien within one year after the date of such refusal. Any person who shall willfully refuse to furnish such certified list when requested so to do by any alien who was refused a permit to land, and who thereafter shall have been deported at the expense of any steamship or transportation company, shall pay to the Secretary of Labor, for the use of the United States, the sum of $1,000 for each alien so deported, to be recovered by suit in the name of the United States. Any steamship or transportation company which shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section shall pay a penalty of $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such refusal or neglect occurs. Any penalty imposed by this section may be remitted in whole or in part, or may be paid into the treasury of the United States, by the Secretary of Labor, in his discretion, upon such terms and conditions as he may prescribe. Provided, That no penalty shall be imposed under this section if it shall appear to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that it was impossible for the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel to obtain the information necessary to furnish the certified list within the time specified herein, but in such cases the vessel shall be required to wait a sufficient length of time for the certified list to be obtained, not exceeding three days, unless sooner released by the Secretary of Labor, or unless the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel shall furnish a bond in such sum, not exceeding $500, as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, sufficient to insure compliance with the requirements of this section. Nothing herein shall be construed to amend, modify, or repeal section 2 of the Act of March 3, 1903, entitled "An Act to regulate the immigration of aliens into the United States," nor to relieve any steamship or transportation company from the payment of the penalty therein prescribed.

(See. 29, act of February 5, 1917.)

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Rule 7. (b) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under this act, and no alien seaman who is afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except for emergency medical treatment, or hospitalization, or because of such temporary illness as may render his departure from the United States at the time of his exclusion impracticable or unreasonable, or because he is a member of the crew of a vessel which will depart from a port of the United States within a period sufficient in the opinion of the immigration officer in charge to allow of the treatment of such alien, but in any such case the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel on which such alien arrived shall be required to furnish a bond in such amount, not exceeding $500 for each such alien, as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, conditioned that such alien will depart on said vessel or some other vessel, and that he will not become a public charge. Such seaman shall be detained on board or at quarantine or in such hospital as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge until the departure of the vessel on which he arrived, or such other vessel as he may depart on, or until the bond required in his case is furnished and approved, or until the Secretary of Labor has rendered a decision in the case, if a decision is requested. Such seaman shall be entitled to a hearing before the Secretary of Labor, or such boards of special inquiry as he may designate, upon the question of his admissibility, upon request therefor being made by him or his master, agent, owner, or consignee within five days after the date of the certificate of medical examination. Pending the decision of the Secretary of Labor such seaman shall be detained as provided in this section. Any such seaman who is excluded from admission to the United States and who is not immediately deported shall be detained on board or at quarantine or in such hospital pending his deportation. Such seaman shall be deported in accordance with the provisions of section 19 of this Act. Any such seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported as provided in section 19 of this Act.

Sec. 18. (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under this Act, and no alien seaman who is afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except for emergency medical treatment, or hospitalization, or because of such temporary illness as may render his departure from the United States at the time of his exclusion impracticable or unreasonable, or because he is a member of the crew of a vessel which will depart from a port of the United States within a period sufficient in the opinion of the immigration officer in charge to allow of the treatment of such alien, but in any such case the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel on which such alien arrived shall be required to furnish a bond in such amount, not exceeding $500 for each such alien, as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, conditioned that such alien will depart on said vessel or some other vessel, and that he will not become a public charge. Such seaman shall be detained on board or at quarantine or in such hospital as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge until the departure of the vessel on which he arrived, or such other vessel as he may depart on, or until the bond required in his case is furnished and approved, or until the Secretary of Labor has rendered a decision in the case, if a decision is requested. Such seaman shall be entitled to a hearing before the Secretary of Labor, or such boards of special inquiry as he may designate, upon the question of his admissibility, upon request therefor being made by him or his master, agent, owner, or consignee within five days after the date of the certificate of medical examination. Pending the decision of the Secretary of Labor such seaman shall be detained as provided in this section. Any such seaman who is excluded from admission to the United States and who is not immediately deported shall be detained on board or at quarantine or in such hospital pending his deportation. Such seaman shall be deported in accordance with the provisions of section 19 of this Act. Any such seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported as provided in section 19 of this Act.

(b) Penalty for bringing in diseased aliens.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman employed upon any vessel arriving at a port of the United States shall be permitted to land temporarily unless upon the same day a complete list of the crew of such vessel, containing the name, nationality, last residence, and such other facts with respect to each member of the crew as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, shall be delivered by the master of such vessel to the immigration officer in charge at the port. Such list shall be certified by the master of such vessel in such form as the Secretary of Labor shall prescribe, and a true copy thereof shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the time of the arrival of such vessel at the port. Any master who fails to comply with any provision of this section shall be liable to a penalty of $100 for each offense. Any list or manifest required by the Secretary of Labor shall be admissible in evidence in any proceeding under the immigration laws, notwithstanding any defect or error therein or omission therefrom.

(See. 10, act of May 26, 1924.)

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or any port in a possession, each and every alien and every [illegible] shall be duly examined by one or more immigrant inspectors. Said inspectors shall have authority to administer oaths and to take evidence touching the right of any alien to enter, reenter, pass through, or reside in the United States, which evidence shall be taken down in writing and filed with the record of the proceedings. Said inspectors shall be provided with such books and forms as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and shall perform such other duties relative to the examination of aliens as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor or by regulations made by him not inconsistent with law. Said inspectors shall have power to administer oaths, examine any alien touching the right of such alien to enter, reenter, pass through, or reside in the United States, and shall have power to require by subpoena the attendance and testimony of witnesses before them or immigrant inspectors, and the production by such witnesses of books, papers, and documents relating to the right of such alien to enter, reenter, pass through, or reside in the United States, and to that end may invoke the aid of any court of the United States. Any person who shall neglect or refuse to attend and testify, or to answer any lawful inquiry, or to produce books, papers, or documents, if in his power to produce, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction in any court of the United States shall be punished by a fine not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both. Any alien who shall willfully make false or misleading statements or shall willfully conceal any material fact or information touching his right to enter, reenter, pass through, or reside in the United States, or who shall knowingly and willfully have in his possession, custody, or control any paper, document, or other evidence which may be produced for the purpose of showing the right of any alien to enter, reenter, pass through, or reside in the United States, which was procured by fraud or misrepresentation or was issued without authority of law, shall be deported as provided in this act. Any person who shall bring into the United States any alien not duly entered by the immigrant inspectors at the time and place of his entry, or who shall bring into the United States any alien who has been excluded and deported or required to depart from the United States, unless prior to the application for admission of such alien the Secretary of Labor shall have given his consent for the readmission of such alien to the United States, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both. Any person who shall aid or assist any alien to enter the United States in violation of law, or who shall conceal or harbor or shield from detection any such alien in the United States, or who shall attempt or conspire to do any of the acts aforesaid, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than two years, or both. Any alien who shall be found in the United States in violation of this act or any regulation made in pursuance thereof shall be taken into custody and deported in the following manner: [illegible] shall be deported to the country whence he came, at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this act, unless the cost of his deportation shall be paid by the steamship company bringing him to the United States, as hereinafter provided. Any alien who shall come in violation of the provisions of this act, or who shall remain in the United States for a longer time than that for which he was admitted and allowed to land, shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who come in violation of law. The decision of the Secretary of Labor shall be final as to the facts of any case and as to the admissibility of any alien under the provisions of this act, except in so far as judicial review may be invoked under the Constitution and laws of the United States. The Secretary of Labor shall have power to establish such rules and regulations not inconsistent with law as may be necessary to carry this act into effect, and may require such additional information to be furnished by masters of vessels as he may deem necessary for the proper execution of the provisions of this act relating to the entry of aliens. Any person who knowingly violates any of the provisions of this act relating to the entry of aliens for which no other punishment is specifically provided shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. [As amended] Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or adjacent islands, shall be immediately listed by the master, purser, or other officer of such vessel, and such list shall contain the name, age, nationality, last foreign residence, calling, and intended length of stay in the United States of every such alien seaman, and shall be subscribed by the master, purser, or other officer of such vessel, and sworn to before the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival. Such list shall be produced by the master, purser, or other officer of such vessel when requested by any immigrant inspector, and a correct entry shall be made therein at the time of the departure of any such alien seaman from the United States. Upon the arrival of such vessel at a port in a contiguous territory or adjacent islands, the master, purser, or other officer of such vessel shall report to the immigrant inspector at such port the name of every alien seaman who has been discharged or who has deserted, or who has died or been left behind, since the departure of such vessel from the last port in the United States, and shall deliver to such inspector a list containing the name of every alien seaman who has joined such vessel since her departure from the last port in the United States, and the name of the vessel on board which he sailed. Such list shall be subscribed by the master, purser, or other officer of such vessel, and sworn to before the immigrant inspector at such port. Any master, purser, or other officer of such vessel who shall fail to comply with the requirements of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 for each offense. No such vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs of the district from which she is about to depart from the United States for any foreign port or for any contiguous territory or adjacent islands, and no such vessel shall depart from any port in the United States for any foreign port or for any contiguous territory or adjacent islands, without the permission of the collector of customs of the district from which she is about to depart, which permission shall be granted by the collector of customs upon the certificate of the immigrant inspector that the requirements of this section have been complied with as to all alien seamen on board. Any alien seaman who shall depart from the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who come in violation of law. The Secretary of Labor shall have power to make such rules and regulations not inconsistent with law as may be necessary to carry this section into effect, and may require such additional information to be furnished by masters of vessels as he may deem necessary for the proper execution of the provisions of this section relating to the entry of aliens.

(2) That [illegible] shall be made available for the transfer of any alien seaman from one vessel to another, or for the detention of any alien seaman on board any vessel, or in any port of the United States, or for the deportation of any alien seaman, or for the maintenance of any alien seaman who is a witness in any proceeding under this section, or who has been granted a temporary permit to land temporarily in the United States, or who has been granted a conditional permit to land in the United States, or who has been granted a permit to land in the United States for the purpose of medical treatment, or who has been granted a permit to land in the United States solely for the purpose of obtaining surgical treatment, or who has been granted a permit to land in the United States solely for the purpose of obtaining treatment at a hospital, or who has been granted a permit to land in the United States solely for the purpose of visiting a relative who is dangerously ill, or who has been granted a permit to land in the United States solely for the purpose of burial of a relative, or who has been granted a permit to land in the United States solely for the purpose of participating in the funeral ceremonies of a relative, or who has been granted a permit to land in the United States solely for the purpose of performing such temporary service or temporary employment as the Secretary of Labor may approve in his discretion as necessary to the welfare of vessels on which they arrive, or who has been granted a permit to land in the United States solely for the purpose of rendering assistance in case of fire or other similar casualty, or who has been granted a permit to land in the United States solely for the purpose of taking treatment for trachoma at a clinic or hospital, or who has been granted a permit to land in the United States solely for the purpose of receiving treatment for any other contagious disease specified in the regulations from time to time made by the United States Public Health Service, or who has been granted a permit to land in the United States solely for the purpose of testifying in any case under this section, or who has been granted a permit to land in the United States solely for the purpose of participating in any case under this section, or who has been granted a permit to land in the United States solely for the purpose of pursuing a course of study, or who has been granted a permit to land in the United States solely for the purpose of adjusting the affairs of a deceased relative's estate, or who has been granted a permit to land in the United States solely for the purpose of receiving benefits from a fraternal society, such sum as may be necessary, to be expended under the direction of the Secretary of Labor, for the maintenance, pending examination, hearing, and decision, of aliens in immigrant stations, and for the necessary [illegible] and [illegible] of such aliens pending examination, hearing, and decision as to their admissibility, and for the [illegible] of aliens who have been ordered deported, pending deportation, and for the [illegible] of aliens who have been ordered deported, pending deportation, and for the [illegible] of aliens who have been ordered deported, pending deportation

SEC. 10. (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospitalization, or because of shipwreck, unless (1) he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he entered the United States prior to July 1, 1924, and has resided continuously in the United States since such entry, and (2) he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he is not ineligible to citizenship, and (3) he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he is not a member of any of the classes excluded from admission to the United States by section 3 of the immigration act of 1917, or by section 1 of this Act, or by any other law or treaty now in force, and (4) he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he is not coming to the United States solely, principally, or incidentally to perform labor of any kind, skilled or unskilled, and (5) he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he is in possession of a valid passport issued to him by the country of which he is a national, or by the country which last issued a passport to him, and (6) he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he is in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa if one is required by section 2 of this Act, and (7) he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he is in possession of a permit to land temporarily issued to him by the Secretary of Labor under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, which permit may be issued in lieu of a passport and immigration visa in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor when the application therefor is made by the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel upon which the alien arrived, and which permit may be limited to a specified time and to a specified port or ports, and may be revoked in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor at any time prior to the departure of such alien, and, if the Secretary of Labor shall have established a system of identification of aliens entering or departing from the United States, such alien shall have been identified thereunder.

(b) Any master, commanding officer, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel who shall refuse to receive back on board thereof, or on the demand of any immigrant inspector shall remove therefrom, any alien seaman who arrived in the United States on such vessel, or who shall fail to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel when required by any immigrant inspector so to do, or who shall fail to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the time of departure of such vessel from any port of the United States any such alien seaman specified in the manifest of such vessel, or who shall fail to report the illness or hospitalization of any such alien seaman, or who shall fail to make any declaration, report, or deposition required of him by this section or by any rule or regulation made in pursuance thereof, shall pay a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien seaman in connection with whom such violation occurs. The vessel shall be cleared upon the payment of such penalty to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located and the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in connection with whom such violation occurs. EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port at three it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the proper immigration officer at the port of first arrival a complete list of all aliens who may be on board such vessel, which list shall contain the name of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the nationality, last residence, and final destination so far as known of each such alien, and the immigration officer at the port of arrival shall have the right to go and come at will over any such vessel in the discharge of his duties, and for the purpose of examining the list of aliens required to be delivered by the master as in this section provided. Any master who shall refuse to deliver such list, or who knowingly and willfully shall report or make any false or incomplete statement in such list concerning any alien specified therein, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Before any vessel shall be granted clearance by the collector of customs or other officer authorized by law to grant clearance to such vessel, the master thereof shall deliver to such collector a certificate to the effect that the master has fully complied with the provisions of this section relating to the list of aliens required to be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and such certificate shall be produced by the master to the officer of customs granting clearance to such vessel before such clearance shall be granted. Any master who fails to produce such certificate shall be liable to the penalty prescribed in this section in case of the failure of the master to deliver the list required by this section. The Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, may from time to time prescribe such additional rules and regulations governing the preparation and delivery of lists or manifests of aliens required by this section to be delivered to immigration officers at ports of arrival of vessels from foreign ports, and for the examination of aliens on board such vessels, as he may deem best for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this section. Such additional rules and regulations, when printed for the use of immigration officers, shall be posted by the master of each vessel in a conspicuous place accessible to the aliens thereon, and shall be kept so posted while such aliens are on board. Any master who fails to comply with any such additional rules and regulations shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien with respect to whom such failure occurs.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

The 3 days mentioned in the above-quoted rule may be extended by section 38 of the Act of February 5, 1917, when [illegible] by order of the Secretary of Labor, but the time cannot be extended to more than 5 days.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or adjacent islands, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or deportation of such alien from the United States [one word illegible] shall furnish a bond in the penal sum of $300 for each such alien, conditioned that such alien will depart from the United States in pursuance of law, and pay the head tax and produce the certificate required by section 16 of this Act. Such bond shall be in such form and with such sureties as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and may be sued for and recovered by the United States in the name of the collector of customs of the district in which it was given, or his successor in office, for the use of the United States, notwithstanding any stipulation as to the place of suit contained therein. The Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, may from time to time prescribe such rules and regulations governing the admission of aliens seamen on board vessels arriving in the United States from foreign contiguous territory or adjacent islands, except that deportation may be effected under the terms of section 19 of the Immigration Act of 1917 at any time after entry. Any master or agent of any vessel who refuses to comply with the provisions of this section or with any such rules and regulations, or who connives at or abets the violation by any alien seaman of any of the provisions of this section or of such rules and regulations, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such violation, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Clearance of any vessel may be withheld pending the decision of the question of any such violation, and if any master or agent shall depart or attempt to depart from the United States in violation of this section, he shall forfeit to the United States the sum of $2,000, to be recovered by action in the name of the United States. Nothing in this section shall be construed to repeal, amend, or modify the provisions of section 4 of the Act of February 5, 1917, or any other Act relating to the exclusion or deportation of aliens.

(a) Upon the arrival of any vessel at a port of the United States from a foreign contiguous territory or adjacent islands, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a complete list of all alien seamen employed on board such vessel, which list shall contain the name, nationality, last foreign residence, and intended length of stay in the United States of each alien seaman employed on board such vessel, and shall indicate which of such alien seamen have been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence. Such list shall be prepared at such time before the departure of such vessel from a port of the United States as the Commissioner General of Immigration shall prescribe, and shall be subject to such examination by immigration officers as the Commissioner General of Immigration may prescribe. Any master or agent of any vessel who refuses to deliver such list, or who connives at or abets the violation of any of the provisions of this section, or of any rule or regulation made hereunder, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such violation, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Clearance of any vessel may be withheld pending the decision of the question of any such violation, and if any master or agent shall depart or attempt to depart from the United States in violation of this section, he shall forfeit to the United States the sum of $2,000, to be recovered by action in the name of the United States. Nothing in this section shall be construed to repeal, amend, or modify the provisions of section 4 of the Act of February 5, 1917, or any other Act relating to the exclusion or deportation of aliens.

(b) If the Secretary of Labor finds that adequate immigration officer at the port of arrival is not provided for the proper administration of the immigration laws and the protection of the seamen employed on board vessels arriving at such port, he may, in his discretion, detail to such port such number of immigrant inspectors as he may deem necessary, and may detail for duty at any port any immigrant inspector employed at any other port. The cost of maintaining the necessary additional immigrant inspectors detailed to any port shall be certified by the Secretary of Labor to the Secretary of the Treasury, who shall thereupon cause the same to be paid out of any moneys appropriated for the enforcement of the immigration laws.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that adequate immigration officer at any foreign port at which vessels clearing therefrom to the United States carry passengers is not provided for the proper administration of the immigration laws of the United States, he may detail to such port such number of immigrant inspectors as he may deem necessary, and may refuse clearance of any such vessel, or may refuse to permit the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel to land any passengers at any port of the United States, until such time as the Secretary of Labor shall report that adequate immigration officer is provided at such foreign port. The cost of maintaining such immigrant inspectors shall be certified by the Secretary of Labor to the Secretary of the Treasury, who shall thereupon cause the same to be paid out of any moneys appropriated for the enforcement of the immigration laws.

(d) Upon the refusal of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel to deliver the list required by subdivision (a) of this section, or upon the refusal of any alien seaman to be examined by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, such alien seaman may be required to be detained on board the vessel, at the discretion of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, until such alien seaman shall have been so examined. Any alien seaman who shall depart or attempt to depart from the United States in violation of this section, or who shall refuse to be examined before leaving the United States, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Clearance of any vessel may be withheld pending the decision of the question of any such violation, and if any master or agent shall depart or attempt to depart from the United States in violation of this section, he shall forfeit to the United States the sum of $2,000, to be recovered by action in the name of the United States. Nothing in this section shall be construed to repeal, amend, or modify the provisions of section 4 of the Act of February 5, 1917, or any other Act relating to the exclusion or deportation of aliens.

(e) Nothing in this section shall be construed to apply to any vessel carrying passengers regularly between the United States and foreign contiguous territory or adjacent islands, except that deportation may be effected under the terms of section 19 of the Immigration Act of 1917 at any time after entry. Any master or agent of any vessel who refuses to comply with the provisions of this section or with any such rules and regulations, or who connives at or abets the violation by any alien seaman of any of the provisions of this section or of such rules and regulations, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such violation, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Clearance of any vessel may be withheld pending the decision of the question of any such violation, and if any master or agent shall depart or attempt to depart from the United States in violation of this section, he shall forfeit to the United States the sum of $2,000, to be recovered by action in the name of the United States. Nothing in this section shall be construed to repeal, amend, or modify the provisions of section 4 of the Act of February 5, 1917, or any other Act relating to the exclusion or deportation of aliens.

(f) Upon the refusal of any alien seaman to be examined by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, such alien seaman may be required to be detained on board the vessel, at the discretion of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, until such alien seaman shall have been so examined. Any alien seaman who shall depart or attempt to depart from the United States in violation of this section, or who shall refuse to be examined before leaving the United States, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Clearance of any vessel may be withheld pending the decision of the question of any such violation, and if any master or agent shall depart or attempt to depart from the United States in violation of this section, he shall forfeit to the United States the sum of $2,000, to be recovered by action in the name of the United States. Nothing in this section shall be construed to repeal, amend, or modify the provisions of section 4 of the Act of February 5, 1917, or any other Act relating to the exclusion or deportation of aliens.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, [illegible], of the [illegible] of [illegible], do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew employed in and now on board or bound outward for this vessel, and that the following is a true report [illegible] as required by section 38, rule 7, and copy of section 19 and 20, Act of May 26, 1924, in each case as above.

Sworn to before me this [illegible] day of [illegible], 19[illegible].

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be brought on and discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing no names of such aliens, as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe, and after the arrival of such vessel it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to be of assistance in the apprehension and deportation of any such alien. It shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of all aliens who have been discharged from such vessel since the last previous report, and the cause of such discharge, so far as known, and the destination of each of those. It was, and now is, the duty of those in charge of the inspection of vessels at the several ports of entry of the United States to see that the provisions of this section are complied with, and any master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver to any immigrant inspector the lists required by this section, or who refuses to answer truthfully the questions contained therein, or who refuses to deliver to any such inspector any person on board such vessel whom the inspector may desire to examine, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense, or by imprisonment for a period not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, refuse to permit the unloading of any such vessel at any port in the United States pending the examination of any person on board thereof, and during such detention such vessel shall be subject to the supervision and control of the immigrant inspectors, and any person who shall, without the permission of the Secretary of Labor, land from any such vessel at any port in the United States, or who shall bring or cause to be brought to any port in the United States any person for the purpose of evading any of the provisions of this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 6.

Par. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 38 hereof has been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section 38 or to that prescribed by section 35 hereof, the deposit specified in Rule 25 has been made.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens on this manifest of crews (Form 903) shall not be destroyed on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving alien claims it is "MOTHERWAY," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival in the United States from any foreign port or place if shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the ports of the United States contiguous to the mainland or islands belonging to or under the jurisdiction thereof, and after the arrival of such vessel it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or master to report to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival; or if no immigration officer is in charge of the port, then to the officer in charge of the collection district in which the port is situated, the name of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the nationality, last residence, and intended future residence of each alien employed, and the amount paid each alien employed, and such other information relative to the employment of such aliens as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, all in such manner and form as may be prescribed, and before the departure of such vessel from such port or place shall report any additional aliens employed, or any changes in the residence of aliens before reported, and the amounts paid them, and such other information relative to such aliens as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe; and for each failure to report the employment of any alien, or any change in residence of any alien so employed, or the amount paid or to be paid any such alien, and for each failure to report such additional information relative to any such alien as may be required by the Secretary of Labor within the period fixed by him, the master, agent, consignee, or master of any such vessel shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien in respect to whom such failure occurs. Any vessel which shall be granted clearance papers before the determination of any such question or complaint, or while the same is pending, may, in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, be required to furnish a bond in such sum, not exceeding the amount which may be imposed as a penalty hereunder, as the Secretary of Labor may direct, conditioned for the payment of such penalty as may be finally determined against the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel. No such vessel shall be granted clearance papers while any such question or complaint is pending, or while any penalty imposed hereunder remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of any such question upon the deposit with the collector of customs of the amount of the penalty demanded in a sum sufficient to cover the same, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) That it shall be unlawful for the master of any vessel to allow any alien to land from said vessel at any port in the United States from any foreign port or place until the boarding officer shall have inspected all such aliens on board, or such as remain on board after the physical inspection of the others has been completed, and certified the same to the immigrant inspector in charge, and no such alien shall be permitted to land in the United States except upon the certificate in writing of the said immigrant inspector that the inspection has been made and the landing permitted, and upon the production by such alien of the certificate of the examining surgeon at the port of foreign departure, and of the medical officer at the port of arrival, provided for in this section, and upon the payment of the head tax, if any, required by section 2 of this Act, and in default of the production of such certificates by any such alien, or the payment of such head tax, he shall be kept in custody on board or at such place as may be designated by the immigrant inspector in charge until a certificate in lieu thereof shall be issued by the Secretary of Labor or his authorized agent, or until he shall be otherwise entitled to land or be deported pursuant to law. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be fined in a sum not exceeding $500 for each and every such violation, and shall also be liable to the cost and expense of the detention on board or elsewhere and the maintenance and care while in detention of any such alien.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that the collector of customs or the boarding officer at the port of arrival has been guilty of culpable negligence in the performance of his duties in connection with the provisions of this section, he may, in his discretion, withhold the clearance papers of the vessel on which such alien arrived pending the investigation of the facts by the Secretary of Labor or the Board of Review provided for in section 25 of this Act, and if such alien shall be found to be unlawfully in the United States and deported therefrom within five years after the date of his arrival, the cost of his deportation shall be a lien against the vessel on which he arrived, and no clearance shall be granted such vessel pending the payment of the cost of deportation of such alien.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Citizens of the United States, and aliens lawfully admitted for permanent residence therein, returning from a temporary visit abroad, may be identified by the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival by such documentary evidence as may be satisfactory to him as to their identity and right to return, and may be admitted upon their own declaration as to the purpose and length of their absence. Such persons may be questioned by the immigrant inspector as to their right to admission, and may be required to establish such right to his satisfaction by a preponderance of evidence before admission. Any alien who has been lawfully admitted to the United States and who is returning from a temporary visit abroad may be admitted upon the certificate of identification issued by the Secretary of Labor or his authorized agent, or upon other satisfactory evidence of his identity and lawful residence. Such alien may be questioned by the immigrant inspector as to his right to admission, and may be required to establish such right to his satisfaction before admission. Any alien who has been continuously a resident of the United States for five years or more, and who has been absent therefrom for a period of six months or more but less than one year on any one occasion, may be admitted upon his own certificate, if found upon examination to be otherwise admissible, unless the immigrant inspector has knowledge that such alien has been absent from the United States for a period of more than one year, or unless such alien has been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or is a polygamist, or is an anarchist, or is coming to engage in any of the occupations described as excluded in section 3 of this Act, or is an idiot, insane person, epileptic, or person afflicted with tuberculosis in any form, or with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, or is a person who has been certified by the examining surgeon at the port of departure and at the port of arrival as having a mental or physical defect of such a character as to affect the ability of such alien to earn a living, unless such alien is in possession of a certificate issued by the Secretary of Labor or his authorized agent, waiving such disability, or unless such alien has been granted a visa by the proper consular officer after the Secretary of Labor has consented thereto, or is a person who has been certified by the examining surgeon at the port of departure and at the port of arrival as being unable to comply with the requirements of section 3 of this Act because of physical disability, but who is otherwise admissible under the provisions of this Act, or is a person who has been convicted or who admits the commission of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or is a polygamist, or is an anarchist, or is coming to engage in any of the occupations described as excluded in section 3 of this Act, or is an idiot, insane person, epileptic, or person afflicted with tuberculosis in any form, or with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, or is a person who has been certified by the examining surgeon at the port of departure and at the port of arrival as having a mental or physical defect of such a character as to affect the ability of such alien to earn a living, unless such alien is in possession of a certificate issued by the Secretary of Labor or his authorized agent, waiving such disability, or unless such alien has been granted a visa by the proper consular officer after the Secretary of Labor has consented thereto

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list of races or peoples printed on blank forms prepared by the Department and to be left with the immigration officer at the port of debarkation must be followed literally. Write the word as it is commonly spelled in the country mentioned, but should not be abbreviated. The use of characters or abbreviations, unless they are commonly understood, will not be permitted. Do not group persons of different races together, even husband and wife, or parents and children, under the same head, but write each separately. Thus, "Scotch and English" is not sufficient, but "Scotch" or "English" should be used, according to the race to which each person belongs. Carefully scrutinize the manifest before delivering it to the immigration officer, to see that the number of persons in each group specified is correct, and that the race or people to which each belongs is properly designated. Any omission to comply with these instructions will be deemed sufficient cause for refusing to grant clearance papers to the vessel.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens who have been taken on board the vessel at any foreign port or place, and intended to be landed at such port or place in the United States, and such other information in relation thereto as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe. In the case of aliens arriving at ports of the United States from foreign contiguous territory, not specifically provided for in this section, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel upon which such aliens arrive shall be required to furnish lists containing the names of such aliens and such other information in relation thereto as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse or fail to deliver such lists, or to furnish any additional information required by the Secretary of Labor or any immigrant inspector, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $10 for each alien concerning whom such information is required but not furnished, or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both. Any master who shall refuse to allow any immigrant inspector to enter the vessel for the purpose of inspecting the same and the persons on board thereof, or who shall refuse to detain any alien on board when ordered by an immigrant inspector, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien so permitted to land, or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both. Any master who shall land or permit to land any alien at any time or place other than as designated by the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival, except in case of accident, or of other cause beyond his control, or in case of stress of weather or other necessity, shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each alien so landed, and may be imprisoned for not more than one year. Any master who shall land or permit to land any alien brought to the port of arrival by any vessel at any place in the United States other than as designated by the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival, or who shall fail to detain any alien on board when ordered so to do by such inspector, shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each alien so landed or detained, and may be imprisoned for not more than one year. The master of any vessel who fails to report, deliver, or present any alien on board thereof for examination, or who refuses to detain any alien on board when ordered so to do by an immigrant inspector, or who lands or permits to land any alien at any port or place in the United States other than as designated by the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival, or who violates any of the provisions of this section relative to any alien, for each and every violation shall pay a penalty of $200, which shall be a lien upon the vessel, and such vessel may be libeled therefor in the district court of the United States for the district in which the port of first arrival is located; and until the payment of the fine imposed the vessel may be detained.

(a) Any alien who shall come to the United States in violation of law, or who shall remain therein for a longer time than permitted by this Act or by any rule or regulation made in pursuance thereof, shall, upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor, be taken into custody and returned to the country whence he came, as provided in section 20 of this Act, at any time within three years after his entry, if the cause of his deportation shall have arisen before entry and be disclosed by such examination as could then be reasonably made of his person, and at any time within three years after his entry, if the cause for his deportation shall have arisen subsequent to his entry: Provided, That no alien shall be deported by reason of having become a public charge from causes not affecting him prior to his landing unless he shall become a public charge within two years after his landing and as a result of conditions existing prior thereto.

(b) Any alien who at the time of entry is found to be one of the classes excluded by law, or who enters or remains in violation of law, shall be deported as provided in this Act. Any alien who shall be found in the United States in violation of this Act or any amendment thereto, or who shall have been admitted upon the certificate of a physician or a public-health officer that he was free from a disease or mental or physical defect or disability which is a ground for exclusion, and who shall be found to have had any such disease or defect or disability at the time of entry, shall be deported as provided in this Act: Provided, That the provisions of this subdivision shall not apply to an alien who was convicted or who admits the commission prior to entry of a crime involving moral turpitude, the maximum punishment for which is not more than one year's imprisonment or a fine of not more than $500, unless the alien was convicted of such crime, or admits the commission thereof, after entry.

(c) Any alien who shall be found advocating or teaching the unlawful destruction of property; or who is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining a belief in, teaching, or advocating the unlawful destruction of property; or who is a member of or affiliated with any organization which writes, prints, sells, or distributes any printed or written matter containing such advocation, teaching, or belief; or who shall be found to be a member of or affiliated with any organization which permits membership to persons who entertain such belief, teach such doctrine, or circulate such literature, shall be deported as provided in this Act.

(d) Any alien who shall be found to have violated any of the provisions of section 3 of this Act shall be deported as provided in this Act.

(e) Any alien who shall be found to have violated any of the provisions of section 4 of this Act shall be deported as provided in this Act.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States shall be permitted to enter the United States temporarily for shore leave, except upon the certificate of the immigration officer at such port that such alien seaman has been duly certified by the consular officer at the port of foreign departure as to the results of the examination conducted by the medical examiners, or after such other examination as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for such alien seamen employed on such vessel, that the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has reasonable assurance that such alien seaman will depart from the United States on board the vessel on which he arrived or on some other vessel, and that such alien seaman is not excluded from admission to the United States. Such certificate may be withheld by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival if he has reason to believe that such alien seaman is afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disabilities set forth in section 2 of this Act, or that such alien seaman belongs to any of the classes excluded from admission to the United States by section 3 of this Act, or that such alien seaman intends to land unlawfully in the United States. Such certificate may be withheld by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival for such time as may be necessary to enable the Secretary of Labor to make such investigation as he may deem necessary to determine whether such alien seaman belongs to any of the classes excluded from admission to the United States by section 3 of this Act. Such certificate may be withheld by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival for such time as may be necessary to enable the Secretary of Labor to make such physical and mental examination of such alien seaman as he may deem necessary to determine whether such alien seaman belongs to any of the classes excluded from admission to the United States by section 2 of this Act. The Secretary of Labor may prescribe rules and regulations governing the physical and mental examination of alien seamen provided for in this section. Such examination may be made by medical officers of the United States Public Health Service, by civil surgeons of the United States Army or Navy, by acting assistant surgeons of the United States Public Health Service, by contract surgeons of the United States Public Health Service, or by civil surgeons of the United States Army or Navy specially detailed by the Secretary of Labor for the purpose of examining alien seamen. For the purpose of conducting such examinations the Secretary of Labor may employ such additional surgeons as may be necessary, and may prescribe their duties, and may fix their reasonable compensation for such services, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury. Such compensation, together with the actual traveling expenses and subsistence of such surgeons while traveling in pursuance of such duties, shall be paid out of appropriations for the expenses of the Immigration Service upon certificates of the Secretary of Labor. Any alien seaman who has been certified by the consular officer at the port of foreign departure as to the results of the examination conducted by the medical examiners, or after such other examination as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for such alien seamen employed on such vessel, that the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has reasonable assurance that such alien seaman will depart from the United States on board the vessel on which he arrived or on some other vessel, and that such alien seaman is not excluded from admission to the United States, may be permitted to enter the United States temporarily for shore leave under such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the period the vessel on which he arrived remains in port, or for a period not to exceed five days, whichever is the shorter, without the payment of the head tax provided for in section 2 of this Act, and without having an immigration visa viséed upon his passport. Any alien seaman who has been granted shore leave and who fails to depart from the United States on board the vessel on which he arrived or on some other vessel, or who fails to report on board such vessel at the time of its departure from the United States, shall be deported as provided in this Act. Any alien seaman who has been granted shore leave and who fails to depart from the United States on board the vessel on which he arrived or on some other vessel, or who fails to report on board such vessel at the time of its departure from the United States, shall be deported as provided in this Act. Any alien seaman who has been granted shore leave and who fails to depart from the United States on board the vessel on which he arrived or on some other vessel, or who fails to report on board such vessel at the time of its departure from the United States, shall be deported as provided in this Act.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

AT the last session legislation relative to the carriage of passengers by the Department has been completely revised. The new law is printed in full below. Please read carefully and see that the provisions of the law in relation to the accommodation to be provided for steerage passengers are complied with in every particular. Any violation of the law will be severely punished. Please also remember that the Department will not accept any excuse for violation of the law, such as that the passengers refused to occupy the space provided for them, or that they themselves provided their own food

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

Sec. 16. That every vessel of the United States bound from foreign port or ports it shall be the duty of the master, owner, consignee, or agent of such vessel to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a correct list or manifest of all aliens who may be on board such vessel, and such list or manifest shall in the case of each alien specify the name in full, age, sex, whether married or single, the calling or occupation, the nationality, the last residence, and the final destination of such alien, whether he has a ticket through to such destination or not, whether he has been in the United States previously and if so when, whether he has a relative or friend in the United States and if so what relative or friend, whether he has been in prison or almshouse or an asylum for the insane or supported by charity, whether a polygamist, whether under contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, whether in possession of money and if so how much, whether in possession of a railroad or steamship ticket and if so whether such ticket is limited or through to his final destination, whether the immigrant has been deported from the United States and if so when and why, whether he is coming in pursuance of a previous promise, engagement, or request of any person or persons in the United States and if so what person or persons, the age, nationality, last residence, and last occupation of the father and mother of such alien, whether such alien is joining a husband or father in the United States and if so what husband or father, the name and address of the nearest relative or friend such alien has in the country whence he came, and such other facts as may be required by the Secretary of the Treasury for the information of the immigrant officers at the port of arrival and for the protection of the United States. The list or manifest required by this section shall be prepared and signed in triplicate by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or clerk of the vessel, and the verification of the master shall be sworn to before the consul or commanding officer at the port of departure of the vessel, or, if there be no consul or commanding officer at such port, before the chief executive officer of the United States immigration office at the port of arrival. One copy of such list or manifest shall be delivered to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival before any of the passengers shall be landed, and the other two copies shall be delivered to the master of the vessel. Any master who refuses to deliver such list or manifest, or who refuses to answer truly the questions stated therein, or who delivers a false list or manifest, shall pay a penalty of $10 for each alien specified therein as to which he refuses to answer truly the questions stated or concerning which a false statement is made, and may also be imprisoned for not more than one year. Any master who knowingly lands any alien without delivering a list or manifest as required by this section, or who lands any alien specified in such list or manifest who has been deported under the provisions of this Act, without the permission of the Secretary of the Treasury, shall pay a penalty of $1,000 for each alien so landed. If any master has reasonable cause to believe that any alien on board his vessel is afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, he shall report the fact and the name of such alien before the vessel shall be granted entry, and in default of such report shall pay a penalty of $500. If any master fails to report the sickness or death on board his vessel of any person, or to deliver a list or manifest as required by this section, he shall pay a penalty of $100 for each such failure. If any master of a vessel refuses to detain on board his vessel, or at the dock to which she may be taken, any alien liable to special examination, or refuses to carry back any alien to the port from which such vessel brought him, or refuses to assist in the arrest of any alien who may be required to be arrested, he shall pay a penalty of $1,000 for each such refusal. If any master of a vessel fails to detain any alien on board his vessel after he has been served with a notice in writing from the Secretary of the Treasury or from a special inquiry officer that such alien is required to remain on board for examination, or if any master of a vessel after such notice in writing from the Secretary of the Treasury or from a special inquiry officer fails to take such alien back to the port from which he brought him, or if any master of a vessel refuses to pay the head tax or refuses to deposit with the United States immigrant inspector a sum sufficient to pay the head tax of any alien who may die or become insane, or be taken sick and sent to a hospital within one year after landing, he shall pay a penalty of $500 for each such alien. If any master of a vessel refuses to pay the cost of maintenance of any alien who may become insane within one year after landing, he shall pay a penalty of $500 for each such alien. If any master of a vessel refuses to pay the cost of maintenance of any alien who may be sent to a hospital within one year after landing, he shall pay a penalty of $500 for each such alien. If any master of a vessel refuses to pay the cost of maintenance of any alien who may be sent to a hospital within one year after landing, he shall pay a penalty of $500 for each such alien.

SEC. 36. That every vessel (except vessels exclusively engaged in the fisheries or in the coastwise trade between ports less than one day's journey apart) which carries passengers and not more than fifty steerage passengers, and which does not carry cargo or merchandise other than personal baggage, shall, while in port, have on board a sufficient number of persons, in addition to the crew, who are able to read the English language sufficiently to understand ordinary printed directions relating to the operation of the vessel in case of fire or other peril, to direct the passengers how to act in case of fire or other peril. Such vessels shall be provided with such lights, life preservers, life boats, rafts, ladders, and appliances for the use of passengers in case of fire or other peril, and shall have such fire drills and boat drills as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Commerce. Such vessels shall be subject to such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Commerce for the enforcement of the provisions of this section, and any such vessel which does not comply with the provisions of this section or with such rules and regulations shall not be granted clearance papers, and if such vessel shall depart without clearance papers the collector of customs at the port of departure is hereby directed and required to detain the vessel at the port until such clearance papers are granted. Any such vessel which shall depart or attempt to depart from any port of the United States without complying with the provisions of this section shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each and every such offense, for which sum the vessel shall also have a lien, and may be libeled therefor in the district court of the United States for the district in which the vessel may be found or into which she may first enter. Any person who shall interfere with the operation of any such life preserver, life boat, raft, ladder, or appliance, or with the operation of any such fire drill or boat drill, or who shall refuse to obey any such direction of the officer in charge thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $100 or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 6. Certificates will not be granted any vessel until the local inspectors have received a report from the Bureau of Navigation that the vessel has been duly documented by the Bureau of Customs, or is duly registered by the Bureau of Navigation, Department of Commerce, and has been assigned a number and signal letters.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. That no alien seaman shall be employed on board any vessel belonging to the United States unless such alien seaman shall have declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States at least six months prior to the date of his shipping, and shall have a certificate from the proper court showing the same, or unless such alien seaman has served three years on board of a merchant vessel of the United States and has been honorably discharged therefrom, or unless such alien seaman has a wife or child residing in the United States, in which case he shall be required to ship only once in each year during the continuance of such residence in the United States: Provided, That the provisions of this section shall not apply to masters or pilots.

SEC. 50. That no person employed on board any vessel belonging in part or in whole to citizens of the United States shall be entitled to receive any portion of the wages earned by such vessel until the master thereof shall have been first paid the wages due to the seamen employed before the mast, to the amount of one month's wages, if such amount be due and payable, and no assignment or sale of wages of any seaman before they are due and payable shall bind the vessel or render her master liable for the payment thereof; and any such assignment or sale shall be void: Provided, That the master shall be entitled to withhold from the wages of any seaman who has failed to join the vessel, or who has deserted, or who has been guilty of any act of barratry, a sum not exceeding double the amount of the wages of such seaman: Provided further, That the master shall be entitled to withhold from the wages of any seaman who has been guilty of any act of barratry, or who has been absent from the vessel without leave, or who has refused to perform duty, or who has been guilty of any act of mutiny, or who has been guilty of any act of disobedience to lawful command, or who has been guilty of any act of violence, or who has been guilty of any act of drunkenness while on board ship, or who has been guilty of any act of smuggling, or who has been guilty of any act of theft, a sum not exceeding double the amount of the wages of such seaman: And provided further, That the master shall be entitled to withhold from the wages of any seaman who has been guilty of any act of desertion, or who has been absent from the vessel without leave, or who has refused to perform duty, or who has been guilty of any act of mutiny, or who has been guilty of any act of disobedience to lawful command, or who has been guilty of any act of violence, or who has been guilty of any act of drunkenness while on board ship, or who has been guilty of any act of smuggling, or who has been guilty of any act of theft, a sum sufficient to cover said time, or to pay the cost of a substitute during said time,

Form 1880 U.S. DEPARTMENT OF LABOR Immigration Service

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER.

The list described below shall be prepared and ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of spaces of alien members of crews (Form 699) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 6, 1917.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the alien's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those of no bona fide discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing so much of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe: and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been brought on and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed: and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the said lists of such aliens arriving and departing, respectively, or so to report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall, in respect of each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required: and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question if the liability to the payment of such fine, and, in the event such fine is imposed, until it is paid: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION 3, RULE 10.

SUBD. 3. Manifesting, registering, and identifying.—(a) Arriving and departing seamen shall be manifested on the blank forms provided for that purpose by the department, in accordance with the terms of section 36. When an arriving seaman is a "non-immigrant" a notation to that effect should be made upon the manifest.

(b) Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the last required by section 36 have been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 herein deposit specified in Rule 35 (subd. 5) has been made.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens embarked on such vessel, stating the business they respectively hold in the alien's country, their last permanent domicile, whether they have been in the United States before, and if so how long, whether they have been connected with any penal institution or institution for the care of the insane or supported by charity, their ultimate destination, whether they have a ticket through to such destination, whether their passage is paid by themselves or others, whether they have in their possession more than $50 and if so how much, their calling or occupation, their age, sex, marital condition, nationality, and race, which lists shall be verified by the oath of such owner, agent, consignee, or master taken before any immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, and such additional information relative to such aliens as may be required by the Secretary of Labor shall be furnished from time to time on such forms and in such manner as may be prescribed by him: and failure to deliver such lists or to furnish such additional information shall be punished by a fine of not more than $10 for each alien concerning whom such information is required to be furnished and is not furnished, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment: and before the departure from the United States of any such alien who may be detained for special examination in relation to his admissibility, a certified copy of the list containing the name of such alien shall be furnished to him upon application therefor.

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens embarked on such vessel, stating the business they respectively hold in the alien's country, their last permanent domicile, whether they have been in the United States before, and if so how long, whether they have been connected with any penal institution or institution for the care of the insane or supported by charity, their ultimate destination, whether they have a ticket through to such destination, whether their passage is paid by themselves or others, whether they have in their possession more than $50 and if so how much, their calling or occupation, their age, sex, marital condition, nationality, and race, which lists shall be verified by the oath of such owner, agent, consignee, or master taken before any immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, and such additional information relative to such aliens as may be required by the Secretary of Labor shall be furnished from time to time on such forms and in such manner as may be prescribed by him: and failure to deliver such lists or to furnish such additional information shall be punished by a fine of not more than $10 for each alien concerning whom such information is required to be furnished and is not furnished, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment: and before the departure from the United States of any such alien who may be detained for special examination in relation to his admissibility a certified copy of the list containing the name of such alien shall be furnished to him upon application therefor.

When an attorney appears for a master, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

SEC. 18. (a) No alien seaman employed upon any vessel arriving in the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel entering the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or adjacent islands thereto, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or detention by quarantine officials, and if he be certified on account of such treatment or detention to the Secretary of Labor upon the completion thereof, he shall be returned to the vessel, if practicable, or to the port from which he came, or to the country to which he belongs, at the option of the master, and the cost of his maintenance while on shore and of his return shall be a lien against the vessel, to be collected by the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located, the sum of $2,000 for each alien so certified, which may be sued for and recovered by the United States or any person suing for the penalty in the name of the United States, and shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States, and the vessel shall not be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment of such sum, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or that he was refused by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart on board of such vessel with the intent required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship or obstruct the vessel's departure from the port, he may permit the alien seaman to depart on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall be charged with the cost of maintenance of such alien seaman while detained and the cost of his return passage, and shall not be granted clearance until such costs and expenses have been paid or it be furnished guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFEST

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States. Passengers on separate manifests immediately and continuously, as defined by the Immigration Act of 1924; and also passengers on separate manifests whose final destinations are in different classes; and those whose ports of debarkation are in different districts. The manner in which the passengers are to be so-called foreign class, whose ports of debarkation are in different districts, should also be listed separately, even though they travel in the same class; and if they travel in different classes, appropriate cross references should be made on the sheets on which the respective names are listed.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER.

The list described below shall be furnished on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector at the time of the vessel's arrival at the first port of the United States. The list so furnished shall be the only list of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel required to be delivered at any subsequent port of entry in the United States. Failure to deliver such list shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each offense; and no vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the production of such list and the payment of the fine imposed for the violation of this provision. The term "master" as used herein shall be construed to mean any person having or taking command of any vessel, and the term "vessel" shall be construed to include every description of water craft or other contrivance used or capable of being used as a means of transportation on water.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917.

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or before it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, master, or commander thereof to deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port at which said vessel shall first arrive, or if no officer be stationed at such port, then to the collector of customs, or nearest to such port of entry, a correct list, manifest, or register, in the English language, of all persons on board such vessel, whether cabin passengers or others, the number of which shall be truly stated in such list, manifest, or register, and which list, manifest, or register shall be produced at the request of any such immigration officer or employee of the United States Government authorized to examine the same, and such officer or employee shall have the right to make such examination and to administer such oaths in connection therewith as may be necessary: Provided, That the master, agent, consignee, or commander of any such vessel may appoint, subject to the approval of the immigrant inspector in charge, competent persons to prepare such list, manifest, or register of aliens, and the master, agent, consignee, or commander of such vessel shall be responsible for the correctness and sufficiency of the same as herein provided: Provided further, That the master, agent, consignee, or commander of any such vessel may, in lieu of delivering such list, manifest, or register, at the time of the vessel's arrival at the first port of entry in the United States, deliver a copy thereof, duly certified by the master, agent, consignee, or commander to be correct, at any time prior to the departure of such vessel from a foreign port for the United States, and such certified copy shall be produced and delivered upon the request of any such immigration officer or employee of the United States Government authorized to demand the production of such list, manifest, or register, and shall be subject to the same inspection and examination by such officers or employees as to the correctness thereof as the original list, manifest, or register required to be delivered upon the arrival of the vessel at the port of entry: Provided further, That the master, agent, consignee, or commander of any such vessel shall not be required to deliver in connection with the list, manifest, or register required by this section any certificate or other document relative to the citizenship or alienage of any person whose name appears thereon other than such certificate or document as may be in his possession or may be procured by him without unreasonable delay or expense, and the failure to deliver any certificate or document not in the possession of the master, agent, consignee, or commander of any such vessel, or the failure of any such certificate or document to accompany the list, manifest, or register required by this section to be delivered upon the arrival of the vessel at the port of entry in the United States, shall not be punishable by the fine provided for the failure to deliver such list, manifest, or register, or any part thereof, or by any other penalty: And provided further, That no such master, agent, consignee, or commander of any such vessel shall be required to deliver to any such immigration officer at the time of the vessel's arrival at the first port of entry in the United States any such list, manifest, or register containing the name of any alien whose name has been included in a list, manifest, or register theretofore delivered by him to the proper officer of the United States Government at the last foreign port from which such vessel cleared.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924.

SEC. 13 (a) Aliens seeking admission to the United States may be required to establish by the immigrant's own oath, or otherwise, that they are admissible under the provisions of this Act. Any alien who at the time of application for admission is found to be excludable from the United States by the provisions of this Act or who seeks admission by means of a visa issued without authority under section 10 of this Act, shall be immediately taken by the immigrant inspector in charge to the Board of Special Inquiry for examination.

(b) Any alien who shall be found upon the examination before a Board of Special Inquiry to be excludable from admission into the United States under any provision of this Act, or who shall fail to establish his admissibility to the satisfaction of such Board, shall be deported in accordance with the following: Any such alien may, upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor, be taken into custody and returned to the country whence he came, at any time within one year after entry, at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act. If such alien shall not have been arrested within one year after entry, the Secretary of Labor shall cause a warrant to issue for his arrest upon the certification by the Board of Special Inquiry of the fact that such alien is excludable, and such alien shall be taken into custody and returned to the country whence he came, at any time within five years after entry, at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act. If such alien shall not have been arrested within five years after entry, the Secretary of Labor shall cause a warrant to issue for his arrest upon the certification by the Board of Special Inquiry of the fact that such alien is excludable, and such alien shall be taken into custody and returned to the country whence he came, at any time within ten years after entry, at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act. If such alien shall not have been arrested within ten years after entry, the Secretary of Labor shall cause a warrant to issue for his arrest upon the certification by the Board of Special Inquiry of the fact that such alien is excludable, and such alien shall be taken into custody and returned to the country whence he came, at any time within fifteen years after entry, at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act. If such alien shall not have been arrested within fifteen years after entry, the Secretary of Labor shall cause a warrant to issue for his arrest upon the certification by the Board of Special Inquiry of the fact that such alien is excludable, and such alien shall be taken into custody and returned to the country whence he came, at any time within twenty years after entry, at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act. If such alien shall not have been arrested within twenty years after entry, the Secretary of Labor shall cause a warrant to issue for his arrest upon the certification by the Board of Special Inquiry of the fact that such alien is excludable, and such alien shall be taken into custody and returned to the country whence he came, at any time within twenty-five years after entry, at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act. Any alien who shall be arrested under the provisions of this Act shall be taken before the nearest immigrant inspector for examination, or before a Board of Special Inquiry, at the discretion of the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall be satisfied that deportation of an alien cannot be accomplished by the immigrant inspector in charge within the period prescribed, or within such extended period as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, or that the best interests of the United States will be served thereby, the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, cancel deportation of any such alien, under such conditions and upon the giving of such bond as he may prescribe, and shall report his action hereunder with the reasons therefor to the Congress at the beginning of each regular session thereof.

(d) Section 35 of the Immigration Act of 1917 is repealed, but shall remain in force as to all vessels, their owners, agents, consignees, and masters, and as to all seamen, arriving in the United States prior to the enactment of this Act.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER.

I, [illegible], master [illegible], of the [illegible], do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from and port or place sailing per present voyage.

I have noted the copy of section 36 of the United States Immigration Law and of paragraph 2, subdivision (d), Immigration Rule 6, which appear below.

Sworn to before me this [illegible] day of [illegible], 1927

[illegible], Immigrant Inspector.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector at the port of arrival [here insert name of port] at least twenty-four hours before the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of persons of alien nationality or race (Form 598) shall not be detained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigrant immigration officer at the port. When an arriving alien is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigrant immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival [here continue the name of the port] a complete manifest of all the persons on board such vessel, whether they are destined to the United States or not, and whether they are passengers or members of the crew, and concerning each such person the following data: Full name, age, sex, whether married or single, calling or occupation, whether able to read or write, nationality, last residence, seaport for landing in the United States, final destination if known, whether in possession of a ticket through to such destination, whether the passage is paid by himself or others, whether in possession of money, and if so how much, whether ever before in the United States, if so when and where, whether ever in prison or almshouse or an institution for the insane or supported by charity, whether connected with any criminal or immoral organization, whether a polygamist, whether coming by reason of any offer, solicitation, promise, agreement, or prepaid ticket or otherwise to perform labor in the United States, and if so what kind, whether in the possession of a special ticket to any interior point, whether they have been deported within one year prior, and whether they are coming to join relatives or friends, and if so what relatives or friends, and their name and complete address, and such further information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, for the purpose of the proper enforcement of the immigration laws. Any person who shall knowingly refuse to furnish the information required by this section, or who shall knowingly give false information in response to any inquiry provided for herein, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fees required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and no alien seaman shall be granted a conditional landing permit under section 10 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, unless notice of intention to file declaration for citizenship has been made not earlier than five years nor later than two years before the application for such permit, and unless such alien seaman has resided continuously in the United States for a period of at least five years immediately preceding the application for landing permit, and unless such alien seaman is able to read and write the English language. Exceptions to the requirements of this paragraph may be made in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor in the case of any alien seaman who has been employed on a vessel of the United States during the period of the war with Germany, and who has been honorably discharged therefrom, and who is found by the Secretary of Labor to be otherwise admissible under the immigration laws.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or island adjacent thereto, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty or necessity, and then only under such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, and such seaman shall be returned on board the vessel or another vessel of the same line as soon as practicable. Any such seaman who shall land in the United States and remain for a period of more than five days, or who shall violate any condition upon which he was permitted to land, shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of this Act. Any such seaman who shall land in the United States and remain for a period of more than five days, or who shall violate any condition upon which he was permitted to land, shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of this Act. Any such seaman who shall land in the United States and remain for a period of more than five days, or who shall violate any condition upon which he was permitted to land, shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of this Act.

SEC. 30. (a) Any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof [remainder of section illegible].

SEC. 19. (a) Any alien seaman (whether inspected at all ports shall include a personal examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to remain with the vessel until it departs from the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty or necessity, and then only under such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, or who fails to obtain on board such alien seaman clearance, or who fails to deport such alien seaman on board such vessel or another vessel of the same line as soon as practicable, or who fails to pay the cost of maintenance of such alien seaman while detained, or who fails to pay any fines imposed upon him under this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. An arriving alien seaman shall be detained aboard the vessel pending examination by the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, and such detention may be extended for a period not exceeding forty-eight hours in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor in order to accord a hearing to the master or agent of the vessel or other interested parties. Such seaman may be required to give a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment of the cost of maintenance and subsistence while detained, and may be deported on any vessel sailing from any port in the United States to any foreign port at the discretion of the Secretary of Labor. Such seaman may be required to give a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment of the cost of maintenance and subsistence while detained, and may be deported on any vessel sailing from any port in the United States to any foreign port at the discretion of the Secretary of Labor.

(b) Any alien seaman who shall depart from the United States from any port, either foreign or from a possession of the United States, on any vessel without having been granted clearance by the immigrant inspector at the port of departure, shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of this Act. Any such seaman who shall depart from the United States from any port, either foreign or from a possession of the United States, on any vessel without having been granted clearance by the immigrant inspector at the port of departure, shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of this Act.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration officer at the port indicated not later than (one day) after the arrival of the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens in multiple copies shall be typewritten or printed on good, durable paper, and shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of entry (Form 598) and not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigrant inspector at the port where an alien is to "enter-through," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the port of arrival [and each physician of the vessel, if there is a surgeon, when and where duly qualified] to report and deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, or if there be no inspector at the port, to the collector of customs, lists or manifests of all aliens, including the names of all members of the crew, whether they intend to land or not, and all aliens who may be allowed to land temporarily, and to furnish information in relation to the right of any alien to enter the United States, in such form and manner as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and any master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel who refuses to report, deliver lists, or furnish information required by this section, or by any rule made in pursuance thereof, or who makes any false statement in any report, list, or information furnished, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Before any vessel shall be granted clearance papers the master thereof shall deposit with the collector of customs a sufficient sum of money to pay the cost of the return of any alien who may become a public charge, or a sufficient bond to indemnify the United States against such cost, which deposit or bond shall not be returned to the master until the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival has certified to the collector of customs that no such alien has become a public charge, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such cost, or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear shall be the failure of such vessel, as a precaution, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver or cause to be delivered on shore such alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived when bound outward to the port where such seaman was shipped, unless such seaman has been duly or lawfully discharged to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that deportation of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall to such seaman be such cause that he be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or the payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector at the port. The list of persons of alien immigrants (Form 598) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port.

When an attorney appears at a "motorway" a duration to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, master, or consignee, or another person to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival like conditions the manifest of all persons on board such vessel, setting forth the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, name and native town and place of birth, and such information as to the passengers as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and before the departure of such vessel from the port of arrival of such persons on board such vessel, or as soon as practicable thereafter, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall deliver to the principal immigration officer a further manifest containing the names of all aliens employed thereon who were not reported on the manifest at the time of the arrival but who may have been employed on board such vessel at the time of its departure from the port of arrival, and the reasons for the employment of each of such aliens, and shall report the names of all aliens who have been taken on board such vessel at any foreign port or place and who are destined to the United States, and such information shall be subject to such rules and regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who refuses or fails to deliver such manifest or to furnish such information within the time prescribed by this section or by the rules and regulations of the Secretary of Labor made hereunder shall pay a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom such correct lists are not delivered, or a true report is not made, as herein required: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question or controversy upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fines imposed by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished. and not then unless notice of inability to the administration has been received by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said act.

Where penalty secured, the deposit specified in rule 55 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospitalization, or because of sickness or injury certified by the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the alternate or until the vessel shall be ready to depart from the United States. Any master, owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States from any place outside thereof and who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel during the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival the number of such alien seamen (whether immigrant or not) in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner, or who fails to detain such seamen on board after such inspection or to deport such seamen if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor shall be liable to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $2,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question where the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel has deposited with the collector of customs a sum sufficient to cover the payment thereof, approved by the Secretary of Labor, or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Upon application by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel, the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, cancel any fine, or any part thereof, imposed under the provisions of this section, if it is shown to his satisfaction that the alien in respect of whom the fine was imposed was a stowaway, and that the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel has satisfactorily complied with the requirements of this section with respect to such alien.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

Sec. 18

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, [illegible], master of the [illegible], do depose and say that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from said port or place sailing per passport, so far as the same can be ascertained by diligent inquiry and examination, and that the crew list, extract from subdivision B, rule 7, and copy of sections 18 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, within appear below.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list of questions below shall be propounded on board vessels arriving at ports in the United States from any foreign port or place. The list of questions to which answers are required may be supplemented by the immigration officer at the port.

When an alleged seaman is a "witness" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, where born and where they were last admitted, which lists shall be delivered to the immigrant inspector at the time of arrival; or if any such information should be unknown at the time of arrival it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the vessel shall be granted clearance from any port of the United States to any foreign port the owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel shall deliver to the chief of the customs district in which such port is located a list of all aliens employed on such vessel who have been reported at the time of the departure of such vessel from any port of the United States and not entered in the list of aliens delivered to the immigrant inspector, and shall report in writing the cause of absence of each alien, the date of his death, desertion, or illness, and the name and last known address of each person who has succeeded to the duties of each such alien; and for each failure to deliver such lists or to report the cause of absence of any alien employed on such vessel at the time of departure from the United States, or for each false statement in such lists concerning any such alien, the master of such vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien with respect to whom such failure or false statement occurs: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector.

(a) Every alien seaman entering the United States to which this section applies shall be furnished by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which he arrives with a certificate stating his name, age, nationality, last residence, calling, port where he entered on board such vessel, vessel on which he arrived, and such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor.

(b) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seamen he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be cleared while any expense has been incurred by the Department of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the data required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and for each alien whose name is not listed on the manifest or other list required by section 35 of said Act a certificate from a medical officer of the Public Health Service or a commissioned medical officer of the Army, Navy, or Coast Guard, or a civil surgeon appointed by the Secretary of Labor, must be filed with the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located, stating that the alien has been personally examined by him and that he finds him not to be afflicted with any of the mental or physical defects or diseases set forth in section 2 of the Act of February 5, 1917, or any other form of contagious disease a knowledge of which is necessary for the safeguarding of the public health, unless such certificate be waived by the Secretary of Labor. Any such certificate may be required by the Secretary of Labor in any case in which he deems it necessary.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 16. (a) Any alien seaman entering the United States after the expiration of the time allowed by his visa, who shall have been admitted into the United States under the immediately preceding section, shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who entered as passengers.

(b) Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, or who shall ship on any vessel sailing from the United States to any foreign port or place, without having been granted a landing permit as provided in section 3 of this Act, shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who entered as passengers.

(c) Any alien seaman who shall desert from any vessel in the United States shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who entered as passengers.

(d) Any alien seaman who shall be employed on board any vessel in the United States in violation of the immigration laws, or who, when required by the master to proceed on board his vessel and to depart from the United States in such vessel, shall refuse to do so, shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who entered as passengers.

(e) Any alien seaman who shall be found a stowaway shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who entered as passengers.

(f) Any alien seaman who shall fail to comply with the requirements of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(g) Any alien seaman who shall fail to depart from the United States within the period specified in any notice to depart served upon him by the Secretary of Labor, or within such period as may be granted by the Secretary of Labor, shall be deported as provided in this section notwithstanding the fact that the period allowed for his departure has been extended or that he has been granted permission to enter temporarily the United States as a nonimmigrant.

(h) Any alien seaman who shall be deported in pursuance of law, and who shall have been in the United States for a period of five years next preceding the commencement of proceedings to deport him, shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act.

(i) Any alien seaman who shall be deported in pursuance of law, and who shall have been in the United States for a period of less than five years next preceding the commencement of proceedings to deport him, shall be deported at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector at the port. The list of aliens is not to include persons in transit through the port to foreign countries, unless they are to land at the port. The list of aliens is not to include persons who have been admitted to the United States at a previous port and are now in transit to their destination within the country, unless they are to be detained by the immigration officer at the port. Each list is to be filled out by typewriter or in ink, and must be verified by the master or commanding officer at the time of sailing. If there are no aliens to be reported on board, this shall be declared by the master to the immigration officer at the port.

Upon the list must be entered the name of every alien who may be landed temporarily at any port for medical treatment, and the name of every alien who may be detained at the port for special examination in connection with the decision of his case, or who may be transferred to another vessel for passage to the port of ultimate destination. Every alien who may be refused permission to land at any port must be listed and reported to the immigration officer in charge of the port. Every alien who may be granted shore leave must be reported to the immigration officer in charge of the port, and a permit issued to him.

Upon the list must be entered the name of every alien who may be in transit across the United States, whether he intends to land in the United States or not, and whether he has been previously admitted to the United States or not.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, commanding officer, purser, and surgeon, or person in charge thereof, severally to report to the proper immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival full and complete information concerning, in addition to the matters required in the case of other aliens, every alien on board such vessel who is not a citizen of the United States, including the name, nationality, last residence, and final destination of each such alien, whether destined to the United States or not, and whether in possession of passport or not, the port at which such alien embarked, and the date of such embarkation; the intended place of residence in the United States of each such alien, and whether he has a ticket through to such destination, and whether his passage has been paid for by himself or by others, and if by others, by whom; whether such alien is in possession of money, and if so, how much, and whether he has been in the United States before, and if so, when and how long he resided here; whether he has a relative or friend in the United States, and if so, what relative or friend, and where; whether he intends to return to his native country after temporary residence in the United States, and if so, when; whether he is coming under contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, and what such contract or agreement is; whether he has been deported from the United States, and if so, when and why; whether he is a polygamist; whether he is an anarchist; whether he believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law; whether he is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining and teaching such disbelief in or opposition to all organized government; whether he is coming to the United States to perform any act of violence against the person or property of any officer of the United States, of any State or of any organized government, because of his official character; whether he has ever been in prison or in a poorhouse or supported by charity, and which; whether he is under contract or agreement to perform labor in any specified kind of employment; whether he is a skilled or unskilled laborer, and whether he is married or single; his age, sex, and race; his height and weight; his complexion, color of hair, and color of eyes; any visible distinctive marks of birth or scars on his body; and such other items of information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 8. (Journals shall not be stamped via ferry lines until the data required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and then only when notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 38 of said Act has been duly noted upon the proper entry, the deposit thereof in mail to be considered to have been made at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the port.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, touching at any port in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or intransit to such localities as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the immediate deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has issued a permit for the landing of such alien seaman (except pursuant to an immigration officer at other port in order to proceed to the port of arrival for examination by the Secretary of Labor) shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman not so detained on board after such examination or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the conspicuous manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from the foreign port at which he was employed on board the vessel, except that clearance may be granted prior to the sailing of the vessel upon the deposit with the collector of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or the payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, _____, of the _____, do depose and say that I have carefully read and know the contents of the foregoing list or manifest of aliens; that the information contained therein is true to the best of my knowledge, information, and belief; that the foregoing list contains a full and true statement of all the aliens, specified in said vessel from and including the last port at which I have taken on board aliens destined to the United States; that I have noted in the copy of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, entitled "An Act to regulate the immigration of aliens to, and the residence of aliens in, the United States," approved May 26, 1924, and in the copy of section 38 of said Act, approved February 5, 1917, which appear below, the names of all aliens who have been detained on board the vessel for special examination, and the names of all aliens who have been ordered deported from the United States, and the names of all aliens who have been refused permission to land, and the names of all aliens who have been transferred to another vessel for passage to the port of ultimate destination; and that I have complied with the requirements of said Act in respect to the delivery to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival of the list or manifest of aliens and the taking of the oath of the master or commanding officer thereto.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspectors boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens to whom inspection of the views (Form 629) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the immigrant inspector at the port.

When an arriving alien is a "nonquota" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival like certificate and manifest of all the alien passengers who may be found on board such vessel, whether destined to the port of arrival or to some other port in the United States, which certificate and manifest shall be prepared in quadruplicate upon blanks furnished by the Secretary of Labor, and shall contain such information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor as to the sex, marital condition, age, race, and last occupation of all such aliens, whether they can read or write, whether they have been previously refused admission to or deported from the United States or are coming to rejoin relatives or friends, and if so, what relatives or friends, and their destination, whether they have a ticket through to such destination, whether their passage is paid for by themselves or by others, whether in possession of money, and if so how much, whether they have been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether they are coming by reason of any offer, solicitation, promise, agreement, or assistance of any kind from any corporation, company, or individual in the United States to perform labor in this country, their ultimate destination, whether they have been deported or excluded from the United States previously and the reasons therefor, whether they are connected with any organization which advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, whether they are polygamists, whether they believe in the practice of polygamy, whether they are coming in pursuance of previous promise or agreement to perform specific work, their calling or occupation in their native country, whether they are literate or illiterate, whether they are under contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, their age, sex, marital status, race, nationality, last residence, and last visa, and shall furnish such additional information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. The said certificate and manifest of alien passengers shall be subscribed by the master, agent, consignee, or purser of the vessel, who shall make oath before the United States consul at the port of departure of the vessel to the verity thereof, and shall deliver a duplicate of such certificate and manifest to the said consul, who shall certify upon both documents the number of aliens listed thereon, and shall deliver one of the same to the master, agent, consignee, or purser of the vessel, who shall deliver the same to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival of the vessel in the United States at the time of the inspection of the alien passengers on board thereof. Any master, agent, consignee, or purser of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such certificate and manifest of alien passengers, or who shall refuse or neglect to answer truthfully and fully to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor any question touching the information required by this section to be furnished, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each alien concerning whom any such omission occurs, or false statement is made, and may be imprisoned for a term not exceeding one year: Provided, That the master, agent, consignee, or purser of any vessel who shall have complied with the requirements of this section shall not be liable to any penalty imposed by this section for the illegal landing in the United States of any alien who may come in such vessel as a stowaway: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, remit any fine or penalty provided for in this section where it shall appear to his satisfaction that the same was incurred through inadvertence or without wilful negligence on the part of the master, agent, consignee, or purser of the vessel, and that such fine or penalty ought not to be enforced.

(a) The master, purser, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States from any foreign port shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival the certificate and manifest required by this section to be delivered to the master, agent, consignee, or purser of the vessel, and no alien shall be admitted to the United States unless the master, agent, consignee, or purser of the vessel shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival the certificate and manifest required by this section to be delivered by him, and unless the master, agent, consignee, or purser of the vessel shall subscribe to the oath required by this section to be administered to him by the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival.

(b) Any master, agent, consignee, or purser of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States from any foreign port who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival the certificate and manifest required by this section to be delivered by him, or who shall refuse or neglect to answer truthfully and fully to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor any question touching the information required by this section to be furnished, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each alien concerning whom any such omission occurs, or false statement is made, and may be imprisoned for a term not exceeding one year: Provided, That the master, agent, consignee, or purser of any vessel who shall have complied with the requirements of this section shall not be liable to any penalty imposed by this section for the illegal landing in the United States of any alien who may come in such vessel as a stowaway: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, remit any fine or penalty provided for in this section where it shall appear to his satisfaction that the same was incurred through inadvertence or without wilful negligence on the part of the master, agent, consignee, or purser of the vessel, and that such fine or penalty ought not to be enforced.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which to arrive, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance papers until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(d) Section 35 of the Immigration Act of 1917 is repealed, but shall remain in force as to all vessels, their owners, agents, consignees, and masters, and as to all seamen, arriving in the United States prior to the enactment of this Act.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 6

Par. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the inspection has been completed, and not then unless, before the master, agent, consignee, or purser of such vessel has delivered to the immigrant inspector at the port of departure a list or manifest of all the aliens on board, which list or manifest shall be signed and sworn to before the immigrant inspector, and shall be in the form prescribed by section 38 of the rules governing the admission of aliens to the United States, and shall contain such information concerning each alien as is required by the said section 38 of said rules. Such list or manifest shall be prepared in quadruplicate, one copy to be delivered to the master, agent, consignee, or purser of the vessel, one copy to be retained by the immigrant inspector at the port of departure, one copy to be delivered to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, and one copy to be forwarded by the master, agent, consignee, or purser of the vessel to the Commissioner-General of Immigration, Washington, D. C. Such list or manifest shall be numbered consecutively, and shall contain a statement of the number of aliens listed thereon. Such list or manifest shall be signed and sworn to before the immigrant inspector at the port of departure by the master, agent, consignee, or purser of the vessel, and shall contain a statement of the number of aliens listed thereon. Such list or manifest shall be signed and sworn to before the immigrant inspector at the port of departure by the master, agent, consignee, or purser of the vessel, and shall contain a statement of the number of aliens listed thereon.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspectors boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form 598) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port.

When an arriving alien ''workaway'' a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival by vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel, or the commanding officer thereof, to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival lists containing the full names of all aliens who may be in any part of the vessel, the ports for which they severally have taken passage, the places of their birth, their last permanent residence, whether they have been in the United States before and how long, whether they have been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether they are coming for labor or otherwise, and whether they have a ticket through to their destination, and such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Such lists shall be delivered to the inspector at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port of first arrival in the United States, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such lists, or who shall refuse to answer truthfully the questions contained therein, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court. The master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse to deliver to any immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port of first arrival in the United States the list required by this section, or who shall refuse to answer truthfully the questions contained therein, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court. The master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse to deliver to any immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port of first arrival the list herein required, or who shall refuse to answer truthfully the questions contained therein, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court.

SEC. 37. That upon the arrival by vessel at a port in the United States of any alien immigrant the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel upon which such alien immigrant arrives shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a true and correct list containing the following information concerning each alien immigrant on board such vessel, and the failure to furnish any such information concerning any alien immigrant shall be a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court, for each such offense: Provided, That citizens of the United States, and aliens who have been lawfully admitted for permanent residence in the United States and who are returning from a temporary visit abroad, shall not be required to be listed or to be otherwise identified as immigrant aliens.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 6

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 have been furnished, and not then unless the master shall have delivered to the immigrant inspector at the port of departure a manifest, prepared in accordance with section 4 of the act of March 3, 1903, of all aliens employed on board the vessel, whether as members of the crew or otherwise, and whether they have been admitted to the United States or not, and of all other aliens on board, whether they have been admitted to the United States or not, and whether they are destined to the United States or not, except that aliens in transit through the United States to foreign countries may be identified by reference to their tickets. The master shall also deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of departure a list containing the names of all alien members of the crew who have been discharged from the vessel at that port since the last previous departure, and the cause of their discharge, and a list of all alien members of the crew who have deserted the vessel at that port since the last previous departure, and shall report to the immigrant inspector at that port the name of any alien member of the crew who may be ill or injured at the time of departure, and shall furnish information concerning the sickness or injury sufficient to enable the inspector to determine whether the sick or injured alien may be landed in the United States under the law. The master shall also report the death of any alien member of the crew or any stowaway during the period intervening between the departure of the vessel from a foreign port and its arrival at a port of the United States, and shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a list containing the name, age, sex, nationality, and last residence of each such alien member of the crew or stowaway who died during such period, and the cause of death, as far as known, and the number and disposition of the bodies of such persons. Masters of vessels are required to detain any alien immigrant on board the vessel at the request of any immigrant inspector until such time as the inspector shall have had opportunity to examine such alien immigrant, but such detention shall not exceed five hours after the vessel has been admitted to pratique and has been inspected by the quarantine officer, unless the immigrant inspector in charge at the port shall direct a longer detention.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman employed upon any vessel arriving at a port of the United States shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the enforcement of this section, unless such alien seaman is in possession of a valid passport and a valid seaman's identification card issued by the country of which he claims nationality, or such other document as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Any alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States who fails to depart with the vessel on which he arrived, or on some other vessel, upon the departure of the vessel from the port, or who fails to report to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival at the time the vessel on which he arrived is ready to depart from the port, shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of the immigration act of 1917, as amended, to the country whose nationality he claims, or to the country from which he came to the United States, at the option of the master of the vessel on which he arrived. Any alien seaman who departs from the United States during the period of a temporary visit granted him under the provisions of this section shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of the immigration act of 1917, as amended, unless he shall have obtained a new permit or have had the original permit renewed by the immigration officer in charge at the port from which he departs. Any alien seaman who fails to depart from the United States upon the termination of the period for which he was granted a temporary visit shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of the immigration act of 1917, as amended, unless he shall have obtained from the Secretary of Labor a new permit or an extension of his temporary visit. Any master who knowingly employs on board his vessel any alien seaman not in possession of a valid passport and seaman's identification card, or who refuses to employ any alien seaman who is entitled to and demands employment on board his vessel in place of any alien seaman who has been granted a temporary visit and who is ready, willing, and able to perform the duties required of him by his contract, or who refuses to pay the wages of any alien seaman who has been deported under the provisions of this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court. Any master who fails to deport any alien seaman employed on board his vessel when required so to do by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each alien seaman with respect to whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question or the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or to post a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof shall be taken in each seaman's case by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival (by the seaman's own testimony if necessary) as to the nationality of such seaman, and a record thereof shall be made, which record shall be open to the inspection of the Secretary of Labor and such consular officers of countries contiguous to the United States as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived or on which he may be returned to the port of departure or to the country to which he belongs or from which he came would cause undue hardship to the master of such vessel, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(d) Proof shall be taken in each seaman's case by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival (by the seaman's own testimony if necessary) as to the nationality of such seaman, and a record thereof shall be made, which record shall be open to the inspection of the Secretary of Labor and such consular officers of countries contiguous to the United States as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor. Any seaman who is refused a permit to land in the United States from any cause shall be immediately deported in the manner provided for the deportation of seamen who land and remain unlawfully.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived or on which he may be returned to the port of departure or to the country to which he belongs or from which he came would cause undue hardship to the master of such vessel, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(f) Any master who knowingly employs on board his vessel any alien seaman not in possession of a valid passport and seaman's identification card, or who refuses to employ any alien seaman who is entitled to and demands employment on board his vessel in place of any alien seaman who has been granted a temporary visit and who is ready, willing, and able to perform the duties required of him by his contract, or who refuses to pay the wages of any alien seaman who has been deported under the provisions of this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court. Any master who fails to deport any alien seaman employed on board his vessel when required so to do by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each alien seaman with respect to whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question or the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or to post a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(g) Proof shall be taken in each seaman's case by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival (by the seaman's own testimony if necessary) as to the nationality of such seaman, and a record thereof shall be made, which record shall be open to the inspection of the Secretary of Labor and such consular officers of countries contiguous to the United States as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor. Any seaman who is refused a permit to land in the United States from any cause shall be immediately deported in the manner provided for the deportation of seamen who land and remain unlawfully.

(h) (section 35 of the Immigration Act of 1917 is repealed, but shall remain in force as to all seamen, plenary powers, courtesies, and immunities, and as to all seamen, arriving in the United States prior to the enactment of this act.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFESTS

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States, except that in the third class only those manifests whose destination is Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Panama, Canal Zone, Haiti, Dominican Republic, Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, Newfoundland, Miquelon, St. Pierre, and Bermuda need be prepared. Each manifest should be numbered consecutively, as directed by the Immigration Act of 1924; and also record whether the passengers are first, second, or third class; and if they travel in different classes, appropriate cross references should be made on the sheets on which the respective names are listed.

Column 1 (Head-tax status).—Alien applicants for visas should make no entries in this column. The space is for use of Government officials only.

Column 2 (Name).—The surname in full should be printed first, followed by the given names in full. The names should appear in the same manner as in the unexpired passport.

Column 3 (Married or single).—The words should be written in full (married) or (single).

Column 4 (Age).—The entry should be given in full (number) or by (.....).

DW (stowaway) or (.....) (stowed).

Column 5 (Calling or occupation).—The entry should describe as accurately as possible the occupation, trade, or profession of each alien arriving, as, for example, "clerk, bookkeeper, salesman, saleswoman, waitress, engineer, farmer, laborer, coal miner, etc." and not simply as "laborer." "Housewife" or "housework" is not to be entered unless the woman is actually engaged in housework for wages. "Student" is not to be entered unless the person is actually attending school. "Child" is not to be entered unless the child is actually employed. "None" is not to be entered.

Column 6 (Nationality).—Each alien must be described as a citizen or subject of some country, as follows:

A Canadian-born citizen of the United States should be described as a citizen of the United States, and not as a subject of Great Britain or of the Dominion of Canada.

A person born in Canada of alien parents who has not become naturalized should be described as a subject of the country of which the parents are citizens or subjects.

A native of Canada who has become naturalized in the United States should be described as a citizen of the United States.

A native of Canada who has taken out first papers toward becoming a citizen of the United States should be described as a subject of Great Britain or of the Dominion of Canada, as the case may be.

A person born in Ireland, but now a subject of Great Britain, should be described as a subject of Great Britain.

A person born in Scotland, Wales, England, or Ireland, who has become naturalized in the United States, should be described as a citizen of the United States.

A person born in Scotland, Wales, England, or Ireland, who has taken out first papers toward becoming a citizen of the United States, should be described as a subject of Great Britain or of the Dominion of Canada, as the case may be.

A person born in Germany, who has become naturalized in the United States, should be described as a citizen of the United States.

A person born in Germany, who has taken out first papers toward becoming a citizen of the United States, should be described as a subject of Germany.

A person born in Austria-Hungary, who has become naturalized in the United States, should be described as a citizen of the United States.

A person born in Austria-Hungary, who has taken out first papers toward becoming a citizen of the United States, should be described as a subject of Austria-Hungary.

A person born in Russia, who has become naturalized in the United States, should be described as a citizen of the United States.

A person born in Russia, who has taken out first papers toward becoming a citizen of the United States, should be described as a subject of Russia.

A person born in Turkey, who has become naturalized in the United States, should be described as a citizen of the United States.

A person born in Turkey, who has taken out first papers toward becoming a citizen of the United States, should be described as a subject of Turkey.

A person born in Greece, who has become naturalized in the United States, should be described as a citizen of the United States.

A person born in Greece, who has taken out first papers toward becoming a citizen of the United States, should be described as a subject of Greece.

A person born in Italy, who has become naturalized in the United States, should be described as a citizen of the United States.

A person born in Italy, who has taken out first papers toward becoming a citizen of the United States, should be described as a subject of Italy.

A person born in Portugal, who has become naturalized in the United States, should be described as a citizen of the United States.

A person born in Portugal, who has taken out first papers toward becoming a citizen of the United States, should be described as a subject of Portugal.

A person born in Spain, who has become naturalized in the United States, should be described as a citizen of the United States.

A person born in Spain, who has taken out first papers toward becoming a citizen of the United States, should be described as a subject of Spain.

A person born in Mexico, who has become naturalized in the United States, should be described as a citizen of the United States.

A person born in Mexico, who has taken out first papers toward becoming a citizen of the United States, should be described as a subject of Mexico.

Column 7 (Last residence).—Each alien must state the country of which he was last a subject, citizen, or denizen. The entry should be the name of the country, and not of the city or town.

Column 8 (Race).—The entry should be given in full (Anglo-Saxon, Celtic, Latin, Teutonic, Slavonic, Hebrew, Negro, Polish, Russian, Bohemian, Spanish, Portuguese, Italian, Armenian, Greek, Mexican, Indian, Chinese, Japanese, East Indian, Korean, Filipino, Hawaiian, Pacific Islander, Ethiopian, Arabic, Moorish, Turkish, Syrian, Negro, Croatian, Servian, Bulgarian, Dalmatian, Roumanian, Hungarian, Finnish, Slovenian, Lithuanian, Black, Brown, Red, Blue, Green, Gray, White, Yellow, Ruthenian, Gypsy, Basque, Celtic, Scandinavian, Alpine, Hebrew, Jugo-Slavic, Mongolian, Slovak, Dinaric, Armenoid, Iberian, Baltic, Polynesian, Asiatic Indian, Mediterranean, Oceanic, Australian, Tasmanian, Mulatto, American Indian, Mexican, Asiatic Indian, Other Oriental, Other Indian, Other Mixed, Other Races, Other Peoples, Other Nationalities, Other Stocks, Other Tribes, Other Classes, Other Blends, Other Breeds, Other Types, Other Combinations, Other Divisions, Other Subdivisions, Other Crosses, Other Groups, Other Varieties, Other Kinds, Other Sorts, Other Species

The list described below shall be prepared on plank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspectors boarding the vessel at the port of arrival and shall be in readiness to be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens in which any incorrect or incomplete entry (except the last three) shall not be corrected on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port.

"Not to be examined" is a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That from within 3 days after the arrival at any seaport in the United States from any foreign port or place of landing for the purpose of coming to the United States of any vessel bringing aliens, the master and owners thereof shall severally be liable to a penalty of $300 for each and every alien who may be found on board such vessel at the time of inspection by the immigrant inspectors at the port of arrival or at any time thereafter, and such penalty shall be a lien upon such vessel, and may be recovered by the collector of customs of the district in which such port is located, or by any person who shall sue for the same, in the name of the United States, in any court of competent jurisdiction; and before the vessel shall be granted clearance papers after the arrival of any such alien on board thereof the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge shall deposit with the collector of customs a sum sufficient to pay the head tax and expenses of maintenance and support of each of such aliens as may be required to remain in the United States for hearing, and in default of such deposit the vessel shall be detained at the port of arrival until the same is made. Upon the certification by the immigrant inspectors to the collector of customs that the head tax and expenses of maintenance have been paid for each of such aliens, and upon the payment or tender of such sum, the vessel shall be granted clearance papers. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the requirements of this section or to make payment as herein provided shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court: Provided, That no vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the hearing of the cases of aliens certified to the Secretary of Labor for special inquiry unless the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of such vessel shall deposit with the collector of customs the sum of $10 for each alien whose case is certified to the Secretary of Labor, but such deposit shall be refunded in any case in which the alien is not landed from the vessel, either after examination by the immigrant inspectors or after the decision of the Secretary of Labor in the case of any alien certified to him. The Secretary of Labor shall issue rules governing the return of deposits made to cover the cost of maintenance of aliens pending examination by immigrant inspectors, and prescribing the conditions under which refunds shall be made.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 8

No. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 have been furnished, and not then unless, before the departure of any alien on the manifest, the master has been notified by the immigrant inspector in charge at the port that such alien has been certified by the Secretary of Labor to be landed, or that the decision of the Secretary of Labor in the case of such alien is not required, or that a bond has been given in the penal sum of $300 for the temporary detention of such alien for examination.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, or any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place destined for any port or place in a foreign country, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospitalization as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien seaman (which deportation in all cases shall conform to the immigration office in charge at the port of arrival and the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of departure of such alien seaman on board) after such inspection or to depart such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $2,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers from the port of arrival pending the determination of such question where such alien seaman is certified to the Secretary of Labor for special inquiry unless the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of such vessel shall deposit with the collector of customs the sum of $10 for each alien seaman to be so certified, and such deposit shall be refunded in any case in which the alien is not landed from the vessel, either after examination by the immigrant inspectors or after the decision of the Secretary of Labor in the case of any alien certified to him. The Secretary of Labor shall issue rules governing the return of deposits made to cover the cost of maintenance of aliens pending examination by immigrant inspectors, and prescribing the conditions under which refunds shall be made.

(b) Any vessel which shall have been required by the Secretary of Labor to deport any alien seaman who is a member of the crew of such vessel when it arrived at a port of the United States shall, if such alien seaman is ordered deported by the Secretary of Labor, be required to remove such alien seaman from the United States in the manner prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and, if such vessel fails to remove such alien seaman, shall be required to pay a sum equal to the cost of providing for the maintenance and removal of such alien seaman, which cost shall be certified by the Secretary of Labor to the collector of customs of the district in which such vessel has arrived, and such sum shall be collected from such vessel in the manner provided for the collection of head taxes imposed by section 2 of the Immigration Act of 1917 in respect of each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, remit any penalty incurred under this section.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of the relationship of such seaman to persons residing in the United States, or for other reasons, he may cause such alien to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be required to remove such alien seaman from the United States in the manner prescribed by the Secretary of Labor.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory or adjacent island shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport.

(e) It shall be the duty of the immigration officer at the seaport at which he arrived upon demand of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of such vessel, or any customs officer, to detain such alien seaman on board until a determination of the question of his deportation has been made, and such vessel shall not be required to remain in such port for a longer period than twenty-four hours after the completion of the examination of such alien seaman by the immigrant inspectors. Any such alien seaman detained on board shall be subject to such regulations governing his detention as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor.

(f) Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel who shall refuse or fail to remove any alien seaman who is required to be removed from the United States under the provisions of this section, or who shall refuse or fail to comply with any regulation issued hereunder, or who shall violate any of the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court.

(g) Section 35 of the Immigration Act of 1917 is repealed, but shall remain in force as to all vessels, their owners, agents, consignees, and masters, and as to all seamen, arriving in the United States prior to the enactment of this Act.

The list of races or peoples shall be printed in the English language in the immigration inspector's discretion. The race or people to which each alien belongs shall be indicated. Each alien may be required to indicate his race distinctly. The term "race" as used herein includes people or citizens of the United States. Any alien who willfully refuses to furnish information required to be furnished by this act or who furnishes false information shall be deported as provided by law. Any alien who shall willfully fail or refuse to depart from the United States within a period of three days after the service upon him of a warrant of deportation, when required so to depart by the Secretary of Labor, shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 20. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or any insular possession of the United States to which the provisions of this act are applicable, it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of such vessel to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of first arrival a complete manifest, in such form as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, of all aliens on board such vessel, whether destined to the United States or not, and whether they are to be landed or not at such port, and such additional information relative to such aliens as may be required by such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Such manifest shall be prepared and delivered in quadruplicate, and the Secretary of Labor may require any or all of the information called for by such manifest to be verified by the oath of the master or other officer of the vessel who may be designated for that purpose by the master. One copy of the manifest shall be delivered to the immigrant inspector at the port of first arrival, and one copy shall be delivered to the immigrant inspector at the port of last departure in the United States before sailing for a foreign port or place. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such manifest, or deliver an incomplete manifest, at the time of the departure of such vessel from any port of the United States, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any such vessel who shall refuse to allow any immigrant inspector to go on board of such vessel for the purpose of inspecting the manifest and the passengers, or who shall refuse to answer truthfully to the best of his knowledge any question touching the manifest and the passengers asked by any immigrant inspector, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any such vessel who shall refuse to permit any immigrant to land from such vessel at any port at which such immigrant is entitled to land under the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any such vessel who shall refuse to detain any immigrant on board such vessel or at such port as may be directed by the Secretary of Labor shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any such vessel who shall refuse to take on board such vessel any immigrant who has been ordered excluded from the United States by the Secretary of Labor shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any such vessel who shall refuse to take such immigrant back to the foreign port from which such vessel last came, or to any other foreign port which will permit such immigrant to land, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any such vessel who shall refuse to pay the head tax provided for by this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any such vessel who shall refuse to pay the head tax provided for by this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list heretofore printed below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector at the port. The list so furnished on blank shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. If owing (from lack) shall not be furnished on demand, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. "Master" as used in the following extracts from the law includes the person in charge of any vessel, whether the same be owned in the United States or not, and whether such vessel be engaged in the business of transporting passengers or not.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the nationality, last residence, and destination of each alien employed, and such other information as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe; and after the arrival of such vessel it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to make a correction of such lists, according to the facts in each case, with any information likely to be of interest to the immigration officer in charge at the time of the vessel's arrival, which may be ascertained by the exercise of due diligence after the delivery of such lists and before the departure of such vessel from the port. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who refuses or fails to deliver such lists, or to make such corrections, or to furnish such information, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $10 for each alien concerning whom such information is required.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of inability to do so has been given in accordance with section 37 of said Act, and in the event such time is extended, a further clearance may be granted prior to the deportation of such alien.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or deportation of such alien seaman to the country from which he came, or to the country in which he resided before coming to the United States, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or for detention as a witness in connection with the prosecution of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of such vessel, or until the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival is satisfied that adequate provision has been made for the departure of such alien seaman on board such vessel or some other vessel not later than seven days after the date of his landing, and that he will depart on such vessel or some other vessel within such period of seven days.

(b) Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be taken into custody and deported to the country from which he came, or to the country in which he resided before coming to the United States, as provided in the case of other aliens illegally in the United States, and shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws. Any master who shall fail to detain on board his vessel any alien seaman employed on such vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who shall fail to report the illegal landing of any such alien seaman, or who shall refuse to pay the cost of his maintenance while detained, except such cost as may be incurred after the expiration of five days following the date on which notice is given that such alien seaman may be removed from the United States, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers until the determination of such question shall have been certified to the collector of customs or his deputy, who shall withhold clearance papers accordingly, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond duly executed by sureties approved by the collector of customs in a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond duly executed by sureties approved by the Secretary of Labor in such amount as may be required by him, conditioned for the payment of such fine as may be imposed for the violation of the provisions of this section. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, or while the master is under prosecution for failure to pay the same, or while such fine remains unpaid, except as herein provided.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall be satisfied that deposit of sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond duly executed by sureties approved by the collector of customs, cannot be obtained without undue hardship, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the question upon the deposit of a
